Ageing Corporeality And Embodiment Key Issues In Modern Sociology:

Ageing, Corporeality and Embodiment Chris Gilleard, Paul Higgs, 2014-11-01 Ageing Corporeality and Embodiment outlines and develops an argument about the emergence of a new ageing during the second half of the twentieth century and its realisation through the processes of embodiment The authors argue that ageing as a unitary social process and agedness as a distinct social location have lost much of their purchase on the social imagination Instead this work asserts that later life has become as much a field for not becoming old as of old age The volume locates the origins of this transformation in the cultural ferment of the 1960s when new forms of embodiment concerned with identity and the care of the self arose as mass phenomena Over time these new forms of embodiment have been extended changing the traditional relationship between body age and society by making struggles over the care of the self central to the cultures of later life New Challenges to

Ageing in the Rural North Päivi Naskali, Joan R. Harbison, Shahnaj Begum, 2019-08-26 This book provides an underexplored view of ageing one that conceives older people as valuable resources in their communities as active citizens with both voice and an agency that includes the capacity for resistance It acknowledges that becoming old with dignity means also paying attention to caring good health services and the possibility of good death The book defines age and ageing as multiple culturally and historically constructed phenomena that are only loosely connected to the years of one's life In focusing on the peripheral North located in the Nordic Canadian and Russian north it highlights important questions and viewpoints that can be found and adapted to other rural areas The book answers the following questions What is the relevance of legislation and international legal agreements in ensuring the rights of elderly people under political and economic changes What challenges do geographic isolation changing age structure and cultural and ecological transformations pose to possibilities for meeting older people's needs for engagement in society as well as for their care As such this book will be of interest to all those working in population aging A New Ethic of 'Older' Bridget Garnham, 2016-10-04 Through its themes of subjectivity surgery and self stylization this book critically examines the cultural constraints and incitements that shape the practice of cosmetic surgery by older people The book problematizes anti ageing discourses to provide a nuanced descriptive ethical and political reading of older identity politics nested within the contemporary ethico political terrain of self care A New Ethic of Older aims to de territorialize the older subject from normative discourses of ageing and theorize becoming older Evidence of an active cultural politics of older emerges from the critically reflexive engagement of older people with cosmetic surgery This engagement constitutes a cutting critique of ageing discourses enmeshed in an aesthetic mode of subjectivation that underpins a new ethics of old age The book will appeal to those in the fields of Cultural Gerontology Ageing Studies Critical Psychology Sociology and Cultural Geography The methodological approach will be of interest to academics and students exploring the application of Foucault's work on care of the self to contemporary contexts and practices The Asian

Migrant's Body Michiel Baas, 2025-10-01 The Asian Migrant's Body Emotion Gender and Sexuality brings together papers that investigate the way Asian migrants experience think about perceive and utilize their bodies as part of the journeys they have embarked on In exploring how bodies are physically and symbolically marked by migration experiences this edited volume seeks to move beyond the immediate effects of hard labour and potentially exploitative or abusive situations It shows that migrants are not only on the receiving end where it concerns their bodies nor are their bodies only utilized for their work as migrants they also seek control over their bodies and to make them part of strategies to express themselves The collective papers in The Asian Migrant's Body argue that the body itself is a primary site for understanding how migrants reflect on and experience their migration trajectories

On the Scale of the World Musab Younis, 2022-11 This expansive history of Black political thought shows us the origins and the echoes of anticolonial liberation on a global scale On the Scale of the World examines the reverberations of the transnational struggle for Black anticolonial liberation Between the 1920s and 1940s Black intellectuals established theories of colonialism and racism as world spanning structures that must be understood and resisted on a global scale In this book Musab Younis gathers the work of writers and poets journalists and editors historians and political theorists whose anticolonial insights speak urgently to contemporary movements for liberation Bringing together literary and political texts from Black writers in Nigeria Ghana Sierra Leone France the United States and elsewhere Younis excavates this vibrant and understudied tradition of international political thought From the hypocrisy of French colonial assimilation to the economic crisis in West Africa and the attacks on Haiti Liberia and Ethiopia On the Scale of the World shows how counternarratives of global order enabled original ways of thinking about race nation and empire

Concepts of a Material Gerontology Grit Höppner, Monika Urban, 2019-06-18 In gerontological research the understanding of age and ageing changed in the last decade Biologic determined explanations no longer prevail in this research field Instead ideas of social constructivism are frequently used These ideas define the state of age and the process of ageing as social constructions steeping ageing in social and cultural assumptions ascriptions and expectations From a social constructivist perspective age and ageing are not just identified as dependency deficit and need for care as it was foremost accelerated from a biological perspective but with the life course and thus with individual lifestyles experiences attitudes and practices as well as institutional and economic structures A prominent social constructivist concept is doing age Similar to doing gender the concept of doing age assumes age as taking place in the form of a social praxis within everyday life interactions between people and thus in performances embedded in discourses through which social hierarchies and ideals proceed Despite the paradigm shift that social constructivist concepts enable in gerontological thinking they reveal their blind spot when it comes to the materiality of ageing and thus to fleshy sensual experiences human and non human ontologies and agencies Addressing these materialities of ageing brings up its own critique on definitions of ageing bodies and material environments This framing does not presume that age and ageing are solely products of human to human interactions or those of formative environments or of discourses Rather humans non humans and discourses become essential parts of ageing processes Such a material framing enables us new insights into forms of age and ageing and thus offers an opportunity for scholars to engage critically with materialities of age and ageing This eBook explores theoretical methodological and empirical concepts of such a Material Gerontology The Lived Body Gillian A. Bendelow, Simon J. Williams, 2002-09-11 The Lived Body takes a fresh look at the notion of human embodiment and provides an ideal textbook for undergraduates on the growing number of courses on the sociology of the body The authors propose a new approach an Embodied Sociology one which makes embodiment central rather than peripheral They critically examine the dualist legacies of the past assessing the ideas of a range of key thinkers from Marx to Freud Foucault to Giddens Deleuze to Guattari and Irigaray to Grosz in terms of the bodily themes and issues they address They also explore new areas of research including the fate of embodiment in late modernity sex gender medical technology and the body the sociology of emotions pain sleep and artistic representations of the body The Lived Body will provide students and researchers in medical sociology health sciences cultural studies and philosophy with clear accessible coverage of the major theories and debates in the sociology of the body and a challenging new way of thinking Routledge Handbook of Cultural Gerontology Julia Twigg, Wendy Martin, 2015-06-12 Later years are changing under the impact of demographic social and cultural shifts No longer confined to the sphere of social welfare they are now studied within a wider cultural framework that encompasses new experiences and new modes of being Drawing on influences from the arts and humanities and deploying diverse methodologies visual literary spatial and theoretical perspectives Cultural Gerontology has brought new aspects of later life into view This major new publication draws together these currents including Theory and Methods Embodiment Identities and Social Relationships Consumption and Leisure and Time and Space Based on specially commissioned chapters by leading international authors the Routledge Handbook of Cultural Gerontology will provide concise authoritative reviews of the key debates and themes shaping this exciting new field Medical Sociology: Coping with illness Graham Scambler,2005

Culture, Bodies and the Sociology of Health Elizabeth Ettorre,2016-05-13 Culture Bodies and the Sociology of Health explores the boundaries between bodies and society with special reference to uncovering the cultural components of health and the ways in which bodies are categorized according to a form of culturally embedded health orthodoxy Illustrating the importance of contextualizing the body as a cultural entity this book demonstrates that the spaces and boundaries between healthy bodies are becoming more diverse than ever before The volumes international team of scholars engage with a range of issues surrounding the cultural construction of the body as a site of health and illness As such it will be of interest not only to sociologists especially sociologists of health but also to scholars of media and communication studies as well as cultural theorists Sociology of Aging and Death Jason Powell,2022-11-25 This book presents a critical analysis and examination of the major theories and social issues in the social construction of aging and death It is concerned with the impact of death and places how our experiences of death are transformed by the roles that truth and discourse about aging play in everyday life A major element of the book is an examination of the way in which groups and individuals employ specific representations of mortality in order to construct meaning and purpose for life and death To accentuate this the book provides an investigation into the social construction of death practices across time and space Special attention is given to the notion of death as a socially accomplished phenomenon grounded in a unique sociological introduction to the meaning of death throughout history to the present The purpose of this book is to critically inform debates concerning the abstract and empirical features of death examined through the lens of sociological perspectives This book explores the emergent biomedical dominance relating to ageing and death An alternative is advocated which re interprets ageing for Graduate schools This innovative book explores the concept history and theory of aging and its relationship to death Traditionally many books have focused on older people dying of natural causes a biomedical explanatory framework This book looks at alternative social theories and experiences with aging and relate to death in different countries victims crime imprisonment and institutional care Are these deaths avoidable If so what are the solutions the book addresses This is one of the first books that re interprets aging and its relationship of examples of death It will be of essential reading for graduate students and researchers in understanding these different examples of aging and death across the globe Medical Sociology on the Move William C. Cockerham,2013-04-03

This book provides readers with a single source reviewing and updating sociological theory in medical or health sociology. The book not only addresses the major theoretical approaches in the field today; it also identifies the future directions these theories are likely to take in explaining the social processes affecting health and disease. Many of the chapters are written by leading medical sociologists who feature the use of theory in their everyday work, including contributions from the original theorists of fundamental causes, health lifestyles, and medicalization. Theories focusing on both agency and structure are included to provide a comprehensive account of this important area in medical sociology.

Ageing, Diversity and Equality Sue Westwood, 2018-10-31. Current understandings of ageing and diversity are impoverished in three main ways. Firstly, with regards to thinking about what inequalities operate in later life, there has been an excessive preoccupation with economic resources. On the other hand, less attention has been paid to cultural norms and values, other resources, wider social processes, political participation, and community engagement. Secondly, in terms of thinking about the who of inequality, this has so far been limited to a very narrow range of minority populations. Finally, when considering the how of inequality, social gerontology's theoretical analyses remain underdeveloped. The overall effect of these issues is that social gerontology remains deeply embedded in normative assumptions which serve to exclude a wide range of older people. Ageing, Diversity and Equality aims to challenge and provoke the above-described normativity and offer an alternative approach which highlights the heterogeneity and diversity of ageing, associated inequalities, and their intersections. Routledge Handbook of Physical Activity Policy and Practice Joe Piggin, Louise Mansfield, Mike Weed, 2017-12-22. Physical activity inactivity and their relationship to health are serious concerns for governments around the world. This is the first book to critically examine the policy and practice of physical activity from a multi-disciplinary social scientific perspective. Moving beyond the usual biophysical and epidemiological approaches, it defines and explores the key themes that are shaping the global physical activity debate. Unrivalled in its scale and scope, it presents the latest data on physical activity from around the world, including case studies from Europe, North and South America, Africa, and Asia. Drawing on social, economic, and behavioural sciences, it covers contexts from the global to the local and introduces the dominant ideas which inform the study of physical activity. Its 41 chapters examine the use of different forms of evidence in policymaking, the role of organisations in advocating physical activity, and the practical realities of public health interventions. The Routledge Handbook of Physical Activity Policy and Practice is a landmark publication for all students, academics, policymakers, and practitioners interested in the social scientific study of sport, exercise, physical activity, and public health.

Handbook of Disability Studies Gary L. Albrecht, Katherine D. Seelman, Michael Bury, 2001. This path-breaking international handbook of disability studies signals the emergence of a vital new area of scholarship, social policy, and activism.
