Resisting Novels (Routledge Revivals) Lennard J.

Davis,2014-06-27 By making friends with signs Lennard Davis argues we are weakening the bond that anchors us to the social world the world of action and binding ourselves to the ideological For the reader this power of the novel needs to be resisted But there is a double resistance at work the novel is also a defensive structure positioning us against alienation and loneliness the dehumanising symptoms of modern life While discussions surrounding ideology in novels traditionally concentrate on thematics in this study first published in 1987 Davis approaches the subject through such structural features as location character dialogue and plot Drawing on a wide range of novels from the seventeenth century to the present day and on psychoanalysis as well as philosophy Resisting Novels explores how fiction works subliminally to resist change and to detach the reader from the world of lived experience This controversial critique will engage students and academics with a particular interest in literary theory

Deep Change and Emergent Structures in Global Society Andrea M. Maccarini,2019-03-01 This book addresses the problem of the transition to new forms of social order in the global world As a haunting sense of historical discontinuity pervades Western societies it offers a fresh perspective on the issue focusing on two basic coordinates to pinpoint the developmental path of rapidly changing societies one is the mechanism of unfettered social morphogenesis and the other is the specific kind of societal unification brought about by globalization with the related closure of the world The book draws on the theoretical work produced in the five volumes of the Springer series Social Morphogenesis and applies it in a sustained and concerted approach to the empirical examination of macro social change The first part of the book presents the social ontology of the morphogenetic approach and discusses its capacity to interpret macrosocial transitions The second part then draws a prospective outline of the social formation known as the morphogenic society showing how unbound morphogenesis in a globalized world shapes such crucial phenomena as social norms war and violence openness and closure as adaptive responses from social organizations Lastly the third part examines the anthropological consequences of these societal trends focusing on self and character as well as on human fulfillment and the good life
