A Not Entirely Benign Procedure Four Years As A Medical Student:

A Not Entirely Benign Procedure Perri Klass, 1994 A Not Entirely Benign Procedure, Revised Edition Perri Klass, 2010-08-31 Acclaimed pediatrician journalist and novelist Perri Klass offers a provocative look at the ups and downs of medical school from those first exams to the day she became a doctor In a direct candid style Klass shares what it is like to be a first time mother while attending med school the unique lingo of the med student how to deal with every bodily fluid imaginable and the humor and heartbreak of working with patients With this collection of essays Klass established herself as a go to voice for a generation of med students and doctors with her frank and witty perspective Klass also brings a proven ability to make the medical world accessible to the lay reader through her extensive literary and journalistic experience This edition is updated for a new generation of doctors and readers with a brand new foreword and annotated content by Klass

The Inner World of Medical Students Johanna Shapiro, 2018-04-19 This is a practical and comprehensive guide to communication in family medicine for doctors nurses and staff in the primary healthcare team It brings together all facets of communication in healthcare including involvement of patients staff and external workers It shows how to address all aspects of communication in relation to one to one situations teaching and groups and encourages the reader to reflect on their own clinical and work experience Using think boxes exercises and references this is an accessible guide relevant to all members of the practice team

Communicating Emotion at Work Vincent R. Waldron, 2013-08-22 Communicating Emotion at Work chronicles the rich emotional experiences of employees drawn from a broad cross section of industries and occupations It takes a decidedly positive approach recognizing that emotional communication is a vital and creative response to the challenges of life in complex organizations The text introduces readers to the engaging and cross disciplinary body of research that has emerged around organizational emotion At the same time each chapter is steeped in real life emotional narratives concrete examples and the contemporary trends that are changing the emotional tenor of work

Chemical and Electrical Hypersensitivity Jerry Evans, 2014-01-10 Electrical and multiple chemical sensitivities are disabling illnesses yet many doctors know little of these conditions or worse dismiss them This timely memoir recounts one man s affliction The onset of the diseases is explored as is his struggle with the medical establishment largely hostile to his diagnosis When the symptoms became unbearable he was forced to leave home and seek a more healthful environment where he could begin his recovery This is an inspirational text for those living with electrical or multiple chemical sensitivity and an educational one for those first learning about these conditions

Gender, Genre, and Identity in Women's Travel Writing Kristi Siegel, 2004 Women experience and portray travel differently Gender matters irreducibly and complexly Building on recent scholarship in women s travel writing these provocative essays not only affirm the impact of gender but also cast women s journeys against coordinates such as race class culture religion economics politics and history The book s scope is unique Women travelers extend in time from Victorian memsahibs to contemporary road girls and topics range from Anna

Leonowens's slanted portrayal of Siam later popularized in the movie The King and I to current feminist descriptions of the male road buddy genre. The extensive array of writers examined includes Nancy Prince, Frances Trollope, Cameron Tuttle, Lady Mary Montagu, Catherine Oddie, Kate Karko, Frances Calderon de la Barca, Rosamond Lawrence, Zilpha Elaw, Alexandra David N. el, Amelia Edwards, Erica Lopez, Paule Marshall, Bharati Mukherjee, and Marilynne Robinson. Sharing the Journey Katherine Ball Ross, 2007. A timeless collection of memoirs culled from the pages of Victoria magazine by some of the finest women writers around. Such distinguished authors as Diane Ackerman, Jane Howard, Perri Klass, Madeleine L. Engle, Susan Minot, Francine Prose, Carol Shields, and Jane Smiley have contributed to these pages and their emotionally rich, lovingly crafted essays embrace all phases of a woman's life as well as literature and the process of writing itself. The topics so insightfully and often poignantly explored include childhood, motherhood, solitude, rituals, home, sisters, and remembering the past. From Phyllis Theroux's memories of her convent education to Susan Schneider's thoughts on living in A Gently Haunted House, each piece will touch your heart, mind, and soul. Asian American Studies Now Jean Yu-Wen Shen Wu, Thomas Chen, 2010-03-08. Asian American Studies Now truly represents the enormous changes occurring in Asian American communities and the world changes that require a reconsideration of how the interdisciplinary field of Asian American studies is defined and taught. This comprehensive anthology arranged in four parts and featuring a stellar group of contributors summarizes and defines the current shape of this rapidly changing field, addressing topics such as transnationalism, U.S. imperialism, multiracial identity, racism, immigration, citizenship, social justice, and pedagogy. Jean Yu-wen Shen Wu and Thomas C. Chen have selected essays for the significance of their contribution to the field and their clarity, brevity, and accessibility to readers with little to no prior knowledge of Asian American studies. Featuring both reprints of seminal articles and groundbreaking texts as well as bold new scholarship, Asian American Studies Now addresses the new circumstances, new communities, and new concerns that are reconstituting Asian America. Bioethics as Practice Judith Andre, 2004-08-01. Andre examines the field of bioethics from an insider's point of view, exploring the questions that have dominated the field and encouraging students and practitioners to move beyond end-of-life issues to address issues in the routine practice of medicine. Best Books for Young Adults Holly Koelling, 2007-08-13. Rev. ed. of Best books for young adults. Betty Carter with Sally Estes and Linda Waddle. 2nd ed. c2000. National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1987. Fostering Learning in Small Groups Jane Westberg, PhD, Hilliard Jason, MD, EdD, 2004-01-01. Drawing on years of experience, the authors address the questions that educators may have about teaching small groups in the health professions. The first half of the book focuses on practical strategies involved in planning and facilitating learning in small groups. The authors discuss the characteristics of effective groups and emphasize the importance of using a collaborative approach. The second half focuses on planning for leading small groups that have specific purposes such as providing a forum for discussion and dialogue, teaching communication skills, and helping learners to reflect on their patient care experience and more The book's broad orientation and practical emphasis will be useful to all educators in health care

Henri de Rothschild, 1872-1947 Harry W. Paul, 2016-12-05 Dr Henri de Rothschild was a fifth generation Rothschild and perhaps the most famous of the Paris Rothschilds of the fin de siècle period A sleeping partner of the bank and the non drinking owner of Mouton Rothschild Henri spent much of his life building medical institutions and promoting scientific medicine including the promotion of Ehrlich's Salvarsan to cure syphilis and the use of radium to cure cancer His hospital in a working class area of northern Paris boasted the latest in medical advances Henri was particularly influential in developing the new science of infant feeding while his broader concerns with infant health led to his playing a prominent role in the development of the specialty of pediatrics This biography of Henri de Rothschild focuses on his medical achievements and that of his close family in France Henri his wife Mathilde and his mother Thérèse all had busy medical careers during World War I The book also gives an account of both women's experiences of the war Along with his explicitly scientific medical concerns Henri was also a prolific playwright and under the pseudonym André Pascal wrote several plays about doctors This book situates the plays and particularly the themes of charlatanism women doctors and medical ethics in their contemporary context of the social and medical life of Paris A fascinating and vividly written study of a somewhat neglected figure in the history of the illustrious Rothschild family this book will make a valuable addition to the libraries of scholars in the history of medicine and those studying child health and welfare the portrayal of doctors in literature and more broadly the social and cultural life of early twentieth century Paris

A Heart for the Work Claire L. Wendland, 2010-10 Burnout is common among doctors in the West so one might assume that a medical career in Malawi one of the poorest countries in the world would place far greater strain on the idealism that drives many doctors But as A Heart for the Work makes clear Malawian medical students learn to confront poverty creatively experiencing fatigue and frustration but also joy and commitment on their way to becoming physicians The first ethnography of medical training in the global South Claire L. Wendland's book is a moving and perceptive look at medicine in a world where the transnational movement of people and ideas creates both devastation and possibility Wendland a physician anthropologist conducted extensive interviews and worked in wards clinics and operating theaters alongside the student doctors whose stories she relates From the relative calm of Malawi's College of Medicine to the turbulence of training at hospitals with gravely ill patients and dramatically inadequate supplies staff and technology Wendland's work reveals the way these young doctors engage the contradictions of their circumstances shedding new light on debates about the effects of medical training the impact of traditional healing and the purposes of medicine

The Mosaic of Contemporary Psychiatry in Perspective Anthony Kales, Chester M. Pierce, Milton Greenblatt, 2012-12-06 Psychiatry has undergone a dynamic evolution in the last 40 years an evolution to which Dr Louis West made many contributions Psychiatry today and Dr West s career are intertwined in a mosaic of interaction It is therefore fitting that this compilation of essays in honor of Dr West is entitled The Mosaic of Contemporary Psychiatry Current Perspectives The papers collectively form a snapshot of the field of psychiatry today Each chapter offers a historical perspective of the topic discussed followed by a description of modern day issues and a look at the future of psychiatry This book will enhance the knowledge and technical skills of psychiatrists as well as other clinicians in the mental health care field

Taking My Place in Medicine Carmen Webb, 2000-07-21 Adapting to life as a medical trainee challenges any student Minority students African Americans Mexican Americans native Americans mainland Puerto Ricans and Hawaiians whose backgrounds often differ from those who govern medical centers need also adapt to the values beliefs and customs of the dominant group Mentors with similar backgrounds who can serve as role models are usually sorely lacking This book is designed to help minority students thrive personally and academically in medical school to make a realistic assessment of their strengths and weaknesses to successfully confront societal myths and stereotypes and to develop healthy strategies to meet academic personal and relationship needs Dr Carmen Webb having assisted countless medical students with these very issues has assembled an outstanding cadre of insightful professionals to address these important needs each highly qualified and devoted to promoting medical student well being

After Harm Nancy Berlinger, 2007-10-22 Medical error is a leading problem of health care in the United States Each year more patients die as a result of medical mistakes than are killed by motor vehicle accidents breast cancer or AIDS While most government and regulatory efforts are directed toward reducing and preventing errors the actions that should follow the injury or death of a patient are still hotly debated According to Nancy Berlinger conversations on patient safety are missing several important components religious voices traditions and models In After Harm Berlinger draws on sources in theology ethics religion and culture to create a practical and comprehensive approach to addressing the needs of patients families and clinicians affected by medical error She emphasizes the importance of acknowledging fallibility telling the truth confronting feelings of guilt and shame and providing just compensation After Harm adds important human dimensions to an issue that has profound consequences for patients and health care providers Measuring Medical Professionalism David Thomas Stern, 2006

Patients who are confident of physicians intellectual and technical abilities are sometimes not convinced of their professional behavior Systemic and anecdotal cases of physician misconduct conflict of interest and self interest abound Many have even come to mistrust physicians as patient advocates How can patients trust the intellectual and technical aspects of medical care but not the professional In order to enhance and promote professionalism in medicine one should expect it encourage it and evaluate it By measuring their own professional behavior physicians can provide the kind of transparency with which they can regain the trust of patients and society Not only patients but also institutions which accredit organizations have demanded accountability of physicians in their professional behavior While there has been much lament and a few strong proposals for improving professionalism no single reliable and valid measure of the success of these proposals exists This book is a theory to practice text focused on ways to evaluate professional behavior written by leaders in the field of medical education and assessment
