Marion Dane Bauer, 1992-04-20 The award winning author provides mentoring and practical and technical advice in this handy how to book as useful to teachers as to young writers School Library Journal starred review Storytelling is a universal experience From an early age we begin to shape our own world by crafting tales But learning to tell and write a good story isn t easy It takes dedication and practice just like for a musician or an athlete and it can be just as rewarding to accomplish as winning a game or mastering an instrument It s the kind of work that feeds our souls and makes us glad to be alive In What's Your Story Newbery Medal winning author Marion Dane Bauer discusses how to write fiction from beginning to end including creating a story plan choosing the best idea bringing characters to life deciding on a point of view creating realistic dialogue keeping readers hooked and revising and polishing the finished product Her last comment is telling Knowing your craft can help you tell a story But only by taking risks can you make art After many pages of provocative information and straightforward counsel that sentence may be the one to launch youngsters to the challenge The book speaks directly to young writers but many adults teachers librarians reviewers editors would be writers will also find this sensible dissection of the storytelling process invaluable Kirkus Reviews starred review A pragmatic organized approach to story writing the exercises and thought processes introduced as groundwork come across as stimulating rather than tedious and may serve to hone analytical skills as well as inspire even the most reluctant writers to try their hand Publishers Weekly

Nature's serial story Edward Payson Roe,1884 Story of the Bible Animals J. G. Wood,2024-01-25 Owing to the different conditions of time language country and race under which the various books of the Holy Scriptures were written it is impossible that they should be rightly understood at the present day without some study of the customs and manners of Eastern peoples as well as of the countries in which they lived The Oriental character of the scriptural writings causes them to abound with metaphors and symbols taken from the common life of the time They contain allusions to the trees flowers and herbage the creeping things of the earth the fishes of the sea the birds of the air and the beasts which abode with man or dwelt in the deserts and forests Unless therefore we understand these writings as those understood them for whom they were written it is evident that we shall misinterpret instead of rightly comprehending them The field which is laid open to us is so large that only one department of Natural History namely Zoology can be treated in this work although it is illustrated by many references to other branches of Natural History to the physical geography of Palestine Egypt and Syria the race character of the inhabitants and historical parallels The importance of understanding the nature habits and uses of the animals which are constantly mentioned in the Bible cannot be overrated as a means of elucidating the Scriptures and without this knowledge we shall not only miss the point of innumerable passages of the Old and New Testaments but the words of our Lord Himself will often be totally misinterpreted or at least lose part of their significance. The object of the present work is therefore to take in its proper succession every creature whose name is given in the Scriptures and to supply so much of its history as will enable the reader to understand all the passages in which it is mentioned Nature's Serial Story E.
