A Poetics Of Unnatural Narrative Theory Interpretation Narrativ:

A Poetics of Unnatural Narrative Brian Richardson, Henrik Skov Nielsen, Jan Alber, 2013 A Poetics of Unnatural Narrative offers a collection of foundational essays introducing the reader to the full scope of unnatural narrative theory its meaning its goals its extent its paradoxes This volume brings together a distinguished group of international critics scholars and historians of literature that includes several of the world's leading narrative theorists Together they survey many basic areas of narrative studies from an unnatural perspective story time space voice minds narrative levels realism nonfiction hyperfiction and narrative poetry Rarely have these fundamental concepts been subjected to such an original and thoroughgoing reconceptualization Much of the book is directed toward an investigation of experimental and antirealist work Each essay focuses on texts and episodes that narrative theory has tended to neglect and each provides theoretical formulations that are commensurate with such exceptional works A Poetics of Unnatural Narrative articulates and delineates the newest and most radical movement in narrative studies This anthology will be of great interest to students and scholars of narrative studies and of the history and theory of modern fiction Unnatural Narratives - Unnatural Narratology Jan Alber, Rüdiger Heinze, 2011-09-29 In recent years the study of unnatural narratives has become an exciting new but still disparate research program in narrative theory For the first time this collection of essays presents and discusses the new analytical tools that have so far been developed on the basis of unnatural novels short stories and plays and extends these findings through analyses of testimonies comics graphic novels films and oral narratives Many narratives do not only mimetically reproduce the world as we know it but confront us with strange narrative worlds which rely on principles that have very little to do with the actual world around us The essays in this collection develop new narratological tools and modeling systems which are designed to capture the strangeness and extravagance of such anti realist narratives Taken together the essays offer a systematic investigation of anti mimetic techniques and strategies that relate to different narrative parameters different media and different periods within literary history Unnatural Narrative Brian Richardson, 2015 Narrative, Interrupted Markku Lehtimäki, Laura Karttunen, Maria Mäkelä, 2012-08-31 Recent postclassical narratology has constructed top down reading models that often remain blind to the frame breaking potential of individual literary narratives Narrative Interrupted goes beyond the macro framing typical of postclassical narratology and sets out to sketch approaches more sensitive to generic specificities disturbing details and authorial interference Unlike the mainstream cognitive approaches or even the emergent unnatural narratology the articles collected here explore the artifice involved in presenting something ordinary and realistic in literature The first section of the book deals with anti dynamic elements such as dialogue details private events and literary boredom The second section devoted to extensions of cognitive narratology addresses spatiotemporal oddities and the possibility of non human narratives The third section focuses on frame breaking fragmentarity and problems of authorship in the works of Vladimir Nabokov The book presents readings of texts ranging from the novels of Don DeLillo and Thomas Pynchon to the Animal Man comics The common denominator for the texts discussed is the interruption of the chain of events or of the experiential flow of human like narrative agents

Reading Today Heta Pyrhönen, Janna Kantola, 2018-01-15 New technologies are changing our reading habits Laptops e readers tablets and other handheld devices supply new platforms for reading and we must learn to manage them by scrolling clicking or tapping Reading Today places reading in current literary and cultural contexts in order to analyse how these contexts challenge our conceptions of who reads what reading is how we read where we read and for what purposes and then responds to the questions this analysis raises Is our reading experience becoming a flat one And does reading in a media environment favour quick reading Alongside these questions the contributors unpack emerging strategies of reading They consider for example how paying attention to readers emotional reactions as an indispensable component of reading affects our conception of the reading process Other chapters consider how reading can be explored through such topics as experimental literature the contemporary encyclopedic novel and the healing power of books Handbook of Narrative Analysis Luc Herman, Bart Vervaeck, 2019-12-01 Stories are everywhere from fiction across media to politics and personal identity Handbook of Narrative Analysis sorts out both traditional and recent narrative theories providing the necessary skills to interpret any story In addition to discussing classical theorists such as Gérard Genette Mieke Bal and Seymour Chatman Handbook of Narrative Analysis presents precursors such as E M Forster related theorists Franz Stanzel Dorrit Cohn and a large variety of postclassical critics Among the latter particular attention is paid to rhetorical cognitive and cultural approaches intermediality storyworlds gender theory and natural and unnatural narratology Not content to consider theory as an end in itself Luc Herman and Bart Vervaeck use two short stories and a graphic narrative by contemporary authors as touchstones to illustrate each approach to narrative In doing so they illuminate the practical implications of theoretical preferences and the ideological leanings underlying them Marginal glosses guide the reader through discussions of theoretical issues and an extensive bibliography points readers to the most current publications in the field Written in an accessible style this handbook combines a comprehensive treatment of its subject with a user friendly format appropriate for specialists and nonspecialists alike Handbook of Narrative Analysis is the go to book for understanding and interpreting narrative This new edition revises and extends the first edition to describe and apply the last fifteen years of cutting edge scholarship in the field of narrative theory The Stylistics of Landscapes, the Landscapes of Stylistics John Douthwaite, Daniela Francesca Viridis, Elisabetta Zurru, 2017-11-15 In treating the topic of the landscapes of stylistics this book provides a series of chapters which deal not only with physical landscapes but also with social mental historical portraits of places people and society The chapters demonstrate that all texts project a worldview even when the content appears to be only a physical description of the external world The implication is that texts attempt to produce specific effects on the reader determined by the author s worldview Contents and effects namely mental and emotional states behaviours are thus inseparable Identifying those effects and how they are produced is an eminently cognitive operation The chapters analyse a variety of linguistic devices and cognitive mechanisms employed in producing the text and accounting for the effects achieved Though the majority of the chapters have a cognitive basis a wide range of methodologies are employed including ecostylistics offering cutting edge theoretical approaches teamed up with close reading A further crucial feature of this collection is the selection of non canonical texts ranging from lesser known texts in English to significant works in languages other than English all of which are characterised by important social themes thus emphasising the importance of critical appreciation as a means of self empowerment Reading Digital Fiction Alice Bell,Astrid Ensslin,2024-04-18

Reading Digital Fiction offers the first comprehensive and systematic theoretical methodological and analytical examination of digital fiction from a cognitive and empirical perspective Proposing the new concept of medial reading it argues for the centrality of an audience s interest in awareness of and or attention to the medium in which a text is produced and received and which we argue should be applied to reader data across media The book analyses and theorises five generations of digital fiction and their reading including hypertext fiction hypermedia fiction narrative video games app fiction and virtual reality It showcases medium and platform specific methods of qualitative reader response research across a variety of contexts and settings from screen based and embodied interaction to gallery installation and from reading group and individual interview to think aloud methodologies The book thus addresses the unique affordances of digital fiction reading by designing and reporting on new empirical studies focusing on hypertextuality interactivity immersion as well as medium specific forms of textual you ontological ambiguity reader orientation and empathy In so doing the book refines critiques and expands cognitive transmedial and empirical narratology and stylistics by placing the reader of these new narratives front and centre The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Emerging Vectors of

Narratology Per Krogh Hansen,John Pier,Philippe Roussin,Wolf Schmid,2017-08-07 Narratology has been flourishing in recent years thanks to investigations into a broad spectrum of narratives at the same time diversifying its theoretical and disciplinary scope as it has sought to specify the status of narrative within both society and scientific research The diverse endeavors engendered by this situation have brought narrative to the forefront of the social and human sciences and have generated new synergies in the research environment Emerging Vectors of Narratology brings together 27 state of the art contributions by an international panel of authors that provide insight into the wealth of new developments in the field The book consists of two sections Contexts includes articles that reframe and refine such topics as the implied author narrative causation and transmedial forms of narrative it also investigates various historical and cultural aspects of narrative from the narratological perspective Openings expands on these and other questions by addressing the narrative turn cognitive issues narrative complexity and metatheoretical matters The book is intended for narratologists as well as for readers in the social and human sciences for whom narrative has become a crucial matrix of inquiry Unnatural Voices Brian Richardson, 2006 Strange Voices in Narrative Fiction Per Krogh Hansen, Stefan Iversen, Henrik Skov Nielsen, Rolf Reitan, 2011-10-27 From its beginnings narratology has incorporated a communicative model of literary narratives considering these as simulations of natural oral acts of communication This approach however has had some problems with accounting for the strangeness and anomalies of modern and postmodern narratives As many skeptics have shown not even classical realism conforms to the standard set by oral or natural storytelling Thus an urge to confront narratology with the difficult task of reconsidering a most basic premise in its theoretical and analytical endeavors has for some time been undeniable During the 2000s Nordic narratologists have been among the most active and insistent critics of the communicative model They share a marked skepticism towards the idea of using natural narratives as a model for understanding and interpreting all kinds of narratives and for all of them the distinction of fiction is of vital importance This anthology presents a collection of new articles that deal with strange narratives narratives of the strange or more generally with the strangeness of fiction and even with some strange aspects of narratology Unnatural Narratology Jan Alber, Brian Richardson, 2024-02-08 Provides extensions and reconceptions of unnatural narratology and intervenes in major debates in narratology critical theory and narrative analysis Unnatural Narratology Jan Alber, Brian Richardson, 2020

Postclassical Narratology Jan Alber, Monika Fludernik, 2010 In this volume an international group of contributors presents new perspectives on narrative Using David Herman's 1999 definition of postclassical narratology from Narratologies New Perspectives on Narrative Analysis OSUP as their launching point these eleven essayists explore the various ways in which new approaches overlap and interrelate to form new ways of understanding narrative texts Postclassical narratology has reached a new phase of consolidation but also continued diversification This collection therefore discriminates between what one could call a critical but frame abiding and a more radical frame transcending or frame shattering handling of the structuralist paradigm Postclassical Narratology Approaches and Analyses discusses a large variety of different aspects of narrative such as extensions of classical narratology new generic applications autobiography oral narratives poetry painting and film the history of narratology the issue of fictionality the role of cognition and questions of authorship and authority as well as thematic matters related to ethics gender and queering Additionally it uses a wide spectrum of critical approaches including feminism psychoanalysis media studies the rhetorical theory of narrative unnatural narratology and cognitive studies In this manner the essays manage to produce new insights into many key issues in narratology The contributors also demonstrate that narratologists nowadays see the object of their research as more variegated than was the case twenty years ago they resort to a number of different methods in combination when approaching a problem and they tend to ground their analyses in a rich contextual framework Somebody Telling Somebody Else James Phelan, 2017 Somebody Telling Somebody Else proposes a paradigm shift for narrative theory contending that a view of narrative as a rhetorical action offers greater explanatory power than the standard view of narrative as a synthesis of story and discourse James Phelan explores the consequences of this proposal for the interpretation of a wide range of narratives from Jane Austen's Pride and Prejudice to Ian McEwan's Enduring Love

Unnatural Narrative across Borders Biwu Shang, 2018-12-07 This book actively engages with current discussion of narratology and unnatural narrative theory in particular Unsatisfied with the hegemony of European and Anglo American narrative theory it calls for a transnational and comparative turn in unnatural narrative theory the purpose of which is to draw readers attention to those periphery and marginalized narratives produced in places other than England and America It places equal weight on theoretical exploration and critical practice The book in addition to offering a detailed account of current scholarship of unnatural narratology examines its core issues and critical debates as well as outlining a set of directions for its future development To present a counterpart of Western unnatural narrative studies this book specifically takes a close look at the experimental narratives in China and Iraq either synchronically or diachronically In doing so it aims on the one hand to show how the unnatural narratives are written and to be explained differently from those Western unnatural narrative works and on the other hand to use the particular cases to challenge the existing narratological framework so as to further enrich and supplement it The book will be useful and inspiring to those scholars working in such broad fields as narrative theory literary criticism cultural studies semiotics media studies and comparative literature and world literature studies

Rethinking Narrative Identity Claudia Holler, Martin Klepper, 2013 Why is it that we tend to think about our lives as stories Why do we strive to create coherent narratives that reflect a particular perspective What happens when we discover multiple perhaps conflicting perspectives in our narratives Following groundbreaking work in the study of narrative identity in the last 20 years the scholars of this volume have expanded and merged their theories of narrative identity with new perspectives in fields such as narratology literary theory philosophy cultural studies psychology sociology gender studies and history Their contributions focus on the significance of perspective in the formation of narrative identities probing the stratagems and narrative means of individuals in testing out personae for themselves
