African American Writers And Classical Tradition:

African American Writers & Classical Tradition William W. Cook, James Tatum, 2024-05-31 Constraints on freedom education and individual dignity have always been fundamental in determining who is able to write when and where Considering the singular experience of the African American writer William W Cook and James Tatum here argue that African American literature did not develop apart from canonical Western literary traditions but instead grew out of those literatures even as it adapted and transformed the cultural traditions and religions of Africa and the African diaspora along the way Tracing the interaction between African American writers and the literatures of ancient Greece and Rome from the time of slavery and its aftermath to the civil rights era and on into the present the authors offer a sustained and lively discussion of the life and work of Phillis Wheatley Frederick Douglass Ralph Ellison and Rita Dove among other highly acclaimed poets novelists and scholars Assembling this brilliant and diverse group of African American writers at a moment when our understanding of classical literature is ripe for change the authors paint an unforgettable portrait of our own reception of classic writing especially as it was inflected by American racial politics      Race Struggles Theodore Koditschek, Sundiata Keita Cha-Jua, Helen A. Neville, 2009 The essays in this collection start with the premise that although race like class and gender is socially constructed all three categories have been shaped profoundly by their context in a capitalist society Race in other words is a historical category that develops not only in dialectical relation to class and gender but also in relation to the material conditions in which all three are forged In addition to discussing and analyzing various dimensions of the African American experience contributors also consider the ways in which race plays itself out in the experience of Asian Americans and in the very different geopolitical environments of the British Empire and postcolonial Africa Contributors are Pedro Caban Sundiata Keita Cha Jua David Crockett Theodore Koditschek Scott Kurashige Clarence Lang Minkah Makalani Helen A Neville Ibitola O Pearce David Roediger Monica M White and Jeffrey Williams      A Handbook to Classical Reception in Eastern and Central Europe Zara Martirosova Torlone, Dana LaCourse Munteanu, Dorota Dutsch, 2017-04-17 A Handbook to Classical Reception in Eastern and Central Europe is the first comprehensive English language study of the reception of classical antiquity in Eastern and Central Europe This groundbreaking work offers detailed case studies of thirteen countries that are fully contextualized historically locally and regionally The first English language collection of research and scholarship on Greco Roman heritage in Eastern and Central Europe Written and edited by an international group of seasoned and up and coming scholars with vast subject matter experience and expertise Essays from leading scholars in the field provide broad insight into the reception of the classical world within specific cultural and geographical areas Discusses the reception of many aspects of Greco Roman heritage such as prose philosophy poetry material culture Offers broad and significant insights into the complicated engagement many countries of Eastern and Central Europe have had and continue to have with Greco Roman antiquity      The Wanderer in

African American Literature Gena E. Chandler-Smith, 2024-01-12 The Wanderer in African American Literature highlights an enduring feature of African American letters From the slave narrative to Afrofuturism the literature is populated driven and emboldened by wanderers who know no bounds Gena E Chandler argues that wanderers and the theme of wandering push the limits of narrative forms and challenge assumptions about the African American experience The slave narratives of Olaudah Equiano and Harriet Jacobs echo eighteenth and nineteenth century literary traditions and chronicle journeys toward freedom and faith Equiano traces his changing identity integrating his native African culture with his adopted European one Jacobs addresses the gender restrictions she faces as a slave and then a free woman whose progress in life remains uncertain and ongoing Langston Hughes and Nella Larsen chronicle real and imagined journeys during the Harlem Renaissance and the Great Migration Hughes's autobiography I Wonder as I Wander 1956 traces his global travels in the 1930s highlighting his unique identity as a black American Larsen's novel Quicksand 1928 follows its biracial heroine as she travels throughout the United States and to Denmark while navigating matters of race and gender The protagonist of Richard Wright's The Outsider 1953 seeks individual freedom and a new identity but is constrained within the boundaries of an American nation and a Western ideal that continuously views the black subject as outside and distinct from the modern project of advancement and freedom In James Baldwin's Giovanni's Room 1956 the white protagonist flees America for France yet cannot escape difficult questions about sexuality and race Finally John Edgar Wideman's The Cattle Killing 1996 tells the story of two wanderers an itinerant preacher spreading God's word during the Great Awakening and a twentieth century writer on a journey of self discovery about his identity and vocation The former experiences a crisis of his Christian faith and the latter endures a crisis of faith in his literary abilities Tying these diverse threads together Chandler demonstrates the power of the black narrative to assimilate and redeploy the literary trope of wanderlust exchanging its premise of rootless drifting for something altogether more mobilizing

The Public Mind and the Politics of Postmillennial U.S.-American Writing Jolene Mathieson, Marius Henderson, Julia Lange, 2022-08-22 In the last twenty years how has U S American writing and the reading public responded to the complexity of an American culture resolutely situated in a larger highly politicized globalized world undergoing radical change The 20th century modes of realism and postmodernism have been succeeded by writerly practices that are that are invested in the idea of embodied authenticity and that are relatable to neorealism whether it be via outright affirmation or critical experimentation and appropriation The individual case studies mark the ways in which postmillennial U S American writing is marked by an ongoing awareness toward complexity and the entanglement of writers and the reading public with pressing political concerns and at times oppressive social and economic discursive and structural formations These contributions further attest to how narrative and structural complexity grammatical and lexical sophistication and social nuance endure as the main literary modes of confronting 21st century political life This volume is thus of interest for both the study of U S American political culture and

U S American literature      The Oxford Handbook of Greek Drama in the Americas Kathryn Boshier, Fiona Macintosh, Justine McConnell, Patrice Rankine, 2015-11-05 The Oxford Handbook of Greek Drama in the Americas is the first edited collection to discuss the performance of Greek drama across the continents and archipelagos of the Americas from the beginning of the nineteenth century to the present The study and interpretation of the classics have never been restricted by geographical or linguistic boundaries but in the case of the Americas long colonial histories have often imposed such boundaries arbitrarily This volume tracks networks across continents and oceans and uncovers the ways in which the shared histories and practices in the performance arts in the Americas have routinely defied national boundaries With contributions from classicists Latin American specialists theatre and performance theorists and historians the Handbook also includes interviews with key writers including Nobel Laureate Derek Walcott Charles Mee and Anne Carson and leading theatre directors such as Peter Sellars Carey Perloff Hector Daniel Levy and Heron Coelho This richly illustrated volume seeks to define the complex contours of the reception of Greek drama in the Americas and to articulate how these different engagements at local national or trans continental levels as well as across borders have been distinct both from each other and from those of Europe and Asia      ,      Co-workers in the Kingdom of Culture David Withun, 2022 Classical influences and allusions are found throughout the works of W E B Du Bois the prominent African American intellectual and pioneering sociologist historian and educator This is the first book length discussion of the influence of classical authors such as Plato and Cicero on this important twentieth century thinker      Empire of Ruin John Levi Barnard, 2018 From the US Capitol to the Lincoln Memorial and the 9 11 Memorial Museum classical forms and ideas have been central to an American nationalist aesthetic Beginning with an understanding of this centrality of the classical tradition to the construction of American national identity and the projection of American power Empire of Ruin describes a mode of black classicism that has been integral to the larger critique of American politics aesthetics and historiography that African American cultural production has more generally advanced While the classical tradition has provided a repository of ideas and images that have allowed white American elites to conceive of the nation as an ideal Republic and the vanguard of the idea of civilization African American writers artists and activists have characterized this dominant mode of classical appropriation as emblematic of a national commitment to an economy of enslavement and a geopolitical project of empire If the dominant forms of American classicism and monumental culture have asserted the ascendancy of what Thomas Jefferson called an empire for liberty for African American writers and artists it has suggested that the nation is nothing exceptional but rather another iteration of what the radical abolitionist Henry Highland Garnet identified as an empire of slavery inexorably devolving into an empire of ruin

The Oxford Handbook of Comparative Political Theory Leigh K. Jenco, Murad Idris, Megan Christine Thomas, 2020 Chapters emphasize exploration of substantive questions about political life in a range of global contexts with attention to whether and how those questions may be shared contested or reformulated across differences of time space and experienceAn interdisciplinary volume that bridges the gaps between various traditions regions and concerns regarding political theoryProvides tags and keywords to aid navigation of the handbook and help readers trace disruptions thematic connections and conceptual contrasts across entries Brill's Companion to Classical Reception and Modern World Poetry, 2022-12-28 Brill's Companion to Classical Reception and Modern World Poetry explores the relations between antiquity and modernity from the angle of the reception of Graeco Roman antiquity in modern world poetry In an innovative combination of the fields of Classical Reception and World Literature it tackles ever challenging questions which are central to both fields such as the questions of literature and identity specificity and universality Eurocentrism poetics and translation Leading experts from both Classics and Modern Languages contribute 11 chapters on modern poetry and poets from different linguistic and cultural traditions from around the world The Ebony Column Eric Ashley Hairston, 2013-06-30 In The Ebony Column Eric Ashley Hairston begins a new thread in the ongoing conversation about the influence of Greek and Roman antiquity on U S civilization and education While that discussion has yielded many exceptional insights into antiquity and the American experience it has so regularly elided the African American component that all classical influence on black writing and thought seems to vanish That omission Hairston contends is disturbing not least because of its longevity from an early period of overt stereotyping and institutionalized racism right up to the contemporary and one would hope more cosmopolitan and enlightened era Challenging and correcting that persistent shortsightedness Hairston examines several prominent black writers and scholars deep investment in the classics as individuals as well as the broader cultural investment in the classics and the values of the ancient world Beginning with the late eighteenth century verse of Phillis Wheatley whose classically inspired poems functioned as a kind of Trojan horse to defeat white oppression Hairston goes on to consider the oratory of Frederick Douglass whose rhetoric and ideas of virtue were much influenced by Cicero and the writings of educator Anna Julia Cooper whose classical training was a key source of her vibrant feminism Finally he offers a fresh examination of W E B DuBois's seminal The Souls of Black Folk 1903 and its debt to antiquity which volumes of commentary have largely overlooked The first book to appear in a new series Classicism in American Culture The Ebony Column passionately demonstrates how the myths cultures and ideals of antiquity helped African Americans reconceptualize their role in a Euro American world determined to make them mere economic commodities and emblems of moral and intellectual decay To figures such as Wheatley Douglass Cooper and DuBois classical literature offered striking moral intellectual and philosophical alternatives to a viciously exclusionary vision of humanity Africanity the life of the citizen and the life of the mind The Black Middle Ages Matthew X. Vernon, 2018-06-13 The Black Middle Ages examines the influence of medieval studies on African American thought Matthew X Vernon focuses on nineteenth century uses of medieval texts to structure racial identity but also considers the flexibility of medieval narratives more broadly in the medieval period twentieth and twenty first centuries This book engages disparate discourses to reassess African American positionalities in time and space Utilizing a transhistorical framework Vernon reflects on medieval studies as a discipline built upon a contested set of ideologies and acts of imaginative appropriation visible within source texts and their later mobilizations

Fairy Tales, Myth, and Psychoanalytic Theory Veronica L. Schanoes,2016-04-15 At the same time that 1970s feminist psychoanalytic theorists like Jean Baker Miller and Nancy Chodorow were challenging earlier models that assumed the masculine psyche as the norm for human development and mental emotional health writers such as Anne Sexton Olga Broumass and Angela Carter were embarked on their own revisionist project to breathe new life into fairy tales and classical myths based on traditional gender roles Similarly in the 1990s second wave feminist clinicians continued the work begun by Chodorow and Miller while writers of fantasy that include Terry Windling Tanith Lee Terry Pratchett and Catherynne M Valente took their inspiration from revisionist authors of the 1970s As Schanoes shows these two decades were both particularly fruitful eras for artists and psychoanalytic theorists concerned with issues related to the development of women s sense of self Putting aside the limitations of both strains of feminist psychoanalytic theory their influence is undeniable Schanoes s book posits a new model for understanding both feminist psychoanalytic theory and feminist retellings one that emphasizes the interdependence of theory and art and challenges the notion that literary revision involves a masculinist struggle with the writer s artistic forbearers

African Americans and the Classics Margaret Malamud,2019-01-24 A new wave of research in black classicism has emerged in the 21st century that explores the role played by the classics in the larger cultural traditions of black America Africa and the Caribbean Addressing a gap in this scholarship Margaret Malamud investigates why and how advocates for abolition and black civil rights both black and white deployed their knowledge of classical literature and history in their struggle for black liberty and equality in the United States African Americans boldly staked their own claims to the classical world they deployed texts ideas and images of ancient Greece Rome and Egypt in order to establish their authority in debates about slavery race politics and education A central argument of this book is that knowledge and deployment of Classics was a powerful weapon and tool for resistance as improbable as that might seem now when wielded by black and white activists committed to the abolition of slavery and the end of the social and economic oppression of free blacks The book significantly expands our understanding of both black history and classical reception in the United States African American Lives Henry Louis Gates Jr., Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2004-04-29 African American Lives offers up to date authoritative biographies of some 600 noteworthy African Americans These 1 000 3 000 word biographies selected from over five thousand entries in the forthcoming eight volume African American National Biography illuminate African American history through the immediacy of individual experience From Esteban the earliest known African to set foot in North America in 1528 right up to the continuing careers of Venus and Serena Williams these stories of the renowned and the near forgotten give us a new view of American history Our past is revealed from personal perspectives that in turn inspire move entertain and even infuriate the reader Subjects include slaves and abolitionists writers politicians and business people musicians and dancers artists and athletes victims of injustice and the lawyers journalists and civil rights leaders who gave them a voice Their experiences and accomplishments combine to expose the complexity of race as an overriding issue in America s past and present African American Lives features frequent cross references among related entries over 300 illustrations and a general index supplemented by indexes organized by chronology occupation or area of renown and winners of particular honors such as the Spingarn Medal Nobel Prize and Pulitzer Prize Black British Drama Michael Pearce, 2017-07-14 Black British Drama A Transnational Story looks afresh at the ways black theatre in Britain is connected to and informed by the spaces of Africa the Caribbean and the USA Michael Pearce offers an exciting new approach to reading modern and contemporary black British drama examining plays by a range of writers including Michael Abbensetts Mustapha Matura Caryl Phillips Winsome Pinnock Kwame Kwei Armah Debbie Tucker Green Roy Williams and Bola Agbaje Chapters combine historical documentation and discussion with close analysis to provide an in depth absorbing account of post war black British drama situated within global and transnational circuits A significant contribution to black British and black diaspora theatre studies Black British Drama is a must read for scholars and students in this evolving field The Cambridge Critical Guide to Latin Literature Roy Gibson, Christopher Whitton, 2024-01-18 The Cambridge Critical Guide to Latin Literature offers a critical overview of work on Latin literature Where are we How did we get here Where to next Fifteen commissioned chapters along with an extensive introduction and Mary Beard s postscript approach these questions from a range of angles They aim not to codify the field but to give snapshots of the discipline from different perspectives and to offer provocations for future development The Critical Guide aims to stimulate reflection on how we engage with Latin literature Texts tools and territories are the three areas of focus The Guide situates the study of classical Latin literature within its global context from late antiquity to Neo Latin moving away from an exclusive focus on the pre 200 CE corpus It recalibrates links with adjoining disciplines history philosophy material culture linguistics political thought Greek and takes a fresh look at key tools editing reception intertextuality theory
