Re-Envisioning and Restructuring Blended Learning for Underprivileged Communities Bosch, Chantelle, Laubscher, Dorothy Joy, Kyei-Blankson, Lydia, 2021-05-14 Challenges in the educational arena are not new phenomena. However, with the recent outbreak of the COVID 19 pandemic, researchers and educators have been made even more aware of the need for a paradigm shift in education. Blended learning, as opposed to fully online learning or traditional face-to-face teaching, has been well researched and has been found to have the potential to provide better educational solutions in challenging contexts. These contexts range from pandemic situations where social distancing is the order of the day to financial and time constraints regarding full-time study as well as limited physical capacity at institutions. Blended learning solutions are often designed for resourceful institutions and cannot be easily implemented in developing countries and in communities where resources are limited. Typical issues like connectivity, accessibility, lack of suitable devices, and affordability need to be taken into consideration and in cognizance of blended learning interventions. These challenges are often neglected in blended learning research but are critical discussions to be had. Re-Envisioning and Restructuring Blended Learning for Underprivileged Communities shares how institutions in the developing world and less privileged communities have reimagined and restructured blended education to enhance teaching and learning for underprivileged communities. This book aims to address blended learning solutions across institutional, program, course, and activity levels. The chapters will cover a variety of learning environments from rural settings to less developed countries and more, and explore the programs and courses designed to improve student success and accessibility in diverse student populations. This book is ideally intended for teachers, administrators, teacher educators, practitioners, stakeholders, researchers, academicians, and students who are interested in blended learning opportunities in less privileged settings and to underserved and marginalized populations. Life Orientation Gr11 L/b , Life Orientation Gr8 L/b , The African Book Publishing Record ,2009 English Language as Hydra Vaughan Rapatahana, Pauline Bunce, 2012-06-22 In far too many places, the worldwide trade in English language teaching, testing, and publishing has become a self-perpetuating, self-congratulating neocolonial monster, a veritable multi-headed Hydra. Too often, the English language industry aggressively promotes itself as some sort of uplifting, essential, proper, or even better means of communication than any other language. Unfortunately, its relentless global outreach is taking place at the direct expense and the active denigration of local and regional languages, not to mention individual identities. English Language as Hydra brings together the voices of linguists, literary figures, and teaching professionals in a wide-ranging exposé of this monstrous Hydra in action on four continents. It provides a showcase of the diverse and powerful impacts that this ever-evolving gluttonous beast has had on so many non-English language cultures, as well as the surreptitious, drug-like ways in which it can infiltrate individual psyches.
