After Art Point Essays On Architecture:

After Art David Joselit, 2012-10-28 How digital networks are transforming art and architecture Art as we know it is dramatically changing but popular and critical responses lag behind In this trenchant illustrated essay David Joselit describes how art and architecture are being transformed in the age of Google Under the dual pressures of digital technology which allows images to be reformatted and disseminated effortlessly and the exponential acceleration of cultural exchange enabled by globalization artists and architects are emphasizing networks as never before Some of the most interesting contemporary work in both fields is now based on visualizing patterns of dissemination after objects and structures are produced and after they enter into and even establish diverse networks Behaving like human search engines artists and architects sort capture and reformat existing content Works of art crystallize out of populations of images and buildings emerge out of the dynamics of the circulation patterns they will house Examining the work of architectural firms such as OMA Reiser Umemoto and Foreign Office as well as the art of Matthew Barney Ai Weiwei Sherrie Levine and many others After Art provides a compelling and original theory of art and architecture in the age of global networks

The Architecture of Deconstruction Mark Wigley, 1993 By locating the architecture already hidden within deconstructive discourse Wigley opens up more radical possibilities for both architecture and deconstruction

A History of Western Architecture David Watkin, 2005 The history of Western architecture from the earliest times in Mesopotamia and Egypt to the dramatic impact of CAD on architectural practice at the beginning of the 21st century

Renaissance Architecture Christy Anderson, 2013-02-28 A completely new approach to the history of Renaissance architecture encompassing the entire continent and dealing with the work of well known architects such as Michelangelo and Andrea Palladio alongside lesser known though no less innovative designers such as Juan Guas in Portugal and Benedikt Ried in Prague and Eastern Europe

An Historical Essay on Architecture Thomas Hope, 1836

Contemporary Art About Architecture Nora Wendl, 2017-07-05 An important resource for scholars of contemporary art and architecture this volume considers contemporary art that takes architecture as its subject Concentrated on works made since 1990 Contemporary Art About Architecture A Strange Utility is the first to take up this topic in a sustained and explicit manner and the first to advance the idea that contemporary art functions as a form of architectural history theory and analysis Over the course of fourteen essays by both emerging and established scholars this volume examines a diverse group of artists in conjunction with the vernacular canonical and fantastical structures engaged by their work I Manglano Ovalle Matthew Barney Monika Sosnowska Pipò Nguyen duy and Paul Pfeiffer are among those considered as are the compelling questions of architecture's relationship to photography the evolving legacy of Mies van der Rohe the notion of an architectural unconscious and the provocative concepts of the unbuilt and the unbuildable Through a rigorous investigation of these issues Contemporary Art About Architecture calls attention to the fact that art is now a vital form of architectural discourse Indeed this phenomenon is both pervasive and in its individual incarnations compelling a reason to think again about the entangled histories of architecture and art

Cities at War in Early Modern Europe Martha Pollak, 2010-08-09 Martha Pollak offers a pan European richly illustrated study of early modern military urbanism an international style of urban design

Chatter Karen Kice, 2015-01-01 A bold theoretical look at an emerging generation of architects this volume is devoted to five contemporary architects Bureau Spectacular Erin Besler Fake Industries Architectural Agonism Formlessfinder and John Szot Studio and the diverse methods and approaches that drive their work Chatter whose title refers to the disjointed bits of conversation typified by texting and Twitter examines how contemporary modes of communication have influenced the construction of ideas in the development production and presentation of architecture Karen Kice surveys the evolution of architecture and illuminates how these architects have developed their work in conversation with historical theories and projects Using a range of representational methods and formats to explore ideas from hand drawings to robot enabled ones graphic novels to digital simulations these practitioners embrace contemporary technologies while they engage with history Kice's essay accompanied by portfolios of works from each studio deftly elucidates how these practitioners talk back to the past while conceiving and communicating their unique designs

American Architect and Building News, 1899

A Companion to Critical and Cultural Theory Imre Szeman, Sarah Blacker, Justin Sully, 2017-07-07 This Companion addresses the contemporary transformation of critical and cultural theory with special emphasis on the way debates in the field have changed in recent decades Features original essays from an international team of cultural theorists which offer fresh and compelling perspectives and sketch out exciting new areas of theoretical inquiry Thoughtfully organized into two sections lineages and problematics that facilitate its use both by students new to the field and advanced scholars and researchers Explains key schools and movements clearly and succinctly situating them in relation to broader developments in culture society and politics Tackles issues that have shaped and energized the field since the Second World War with discussion of familiar and under theorized topics related to living and laboring being and knowing and agency and belonging

The American Architect and Building News, 1880

Perspectives on Garden Histories Michel Conan, 1999 Garden history is a discipline of contested purposes Perspectives on Garden Histories contributes to a self critical examination of this emergent field of study at the same time offering an overview of its main achievements in several domains such as Italian and Mughal gardens and of the new kinds of investigation to which they have led In its early years garden history centered on architectural studies of garden design but in the 1960s the emphasis shifted from garden design to garden meaning The new paradigm considered gardens as complex works of art and demanded an extensive documentation of the historical context as well as of the figurative and discursive sources This approach in its turn was challenged by neo Marxist scholars who proceeded to view landscape appreciation as an ideological superstructure an outgrowth of agricultural production processes Garden designs and their histories can also be viewed as expressions of ideological conflicts in society Neither gardens nor their history can thus be studied independently of the social cultural and political movements that give prominence to the contested ideologies Gardens can be used to foster some ideologies or reflect a reaction against a social change Comparative research offers another fascinating approach exploring the relations between European landscape concepts and other cultural contexts and discussing issues of cultural dominance and interpretation The emergence of various perspectives has led to the incorporation of further questions into the domain of garden studies which has been moving in new directions and using new methods in search of an adapted theoretical framework This volume offers a striking view of changes taking place in the discipline Nineteenth Century and After ,1893 Decay and Afterlife Aleksandra Prica,2022-02-17 Covering 800 years of intellectual and literary history Prica considers the textual forms of ruins Western ruins have long been understood as objects riddled with temporal contradictions whether they appear in baroque poetry and drama Romanticism's nostalgic view of history eighteenth century paintings of classical subjects or even recent photographic histories of the ruins of postindustrial Detroit Decay and Afterlife pivots away from our immediate visual fascination with ruins focusing instead on the textuality of ruins in works about disintegration and survival Combining an impressive array of literary philosophical and historiographical works both canonical and neglected and encompassing Latin Italian French German and English sources Aleksandra Prica addresses ruins as textual forms examining them in their extraordinary geographical and temporal breadth highlighting their variability and reflexivity and uncovering new lines of aesthetic and intellectual affinity Through close readings she traverses eight hundred years of intellectual and literary history from Seneca and Petrarch to Hegel Goethe and Georg Simmel She tracks European discourses on ruins as they metamorphose over time identifying surprising resemblances and resonances ignored contrasts and tensions as well as the shared apprehensions and ideas that come to light in the excavation of these discourses Architect ,1869 Prize essay for the 'Institute medal' of the Royal institute of British architects. A popular account of the styles of architecture; their rise, progress, and present condition Edward Lance Tarbuck,1855 The Architect ,1869 Buildings Cities Life Eberhard Zeidler,2013-08-26 Renowned architect Eberhard Zeidler tells his story in a two volume book that explores his early life in Germany and his years in Canada after he moved there in 1951 Architect of Toronto's Eaton Centre and Trump International Hotel and Tower Zeidler has left his stamp on the urban landscape of Canada the United States and the rest of the world The Nineteenth Century and After ,1893 The Civil Engineer and Architect's Journal William Laxton,1866
