Ten Fables for Teaching English Ellen M. Balla, 2000 Educational resource for teachers parents and kids In the Hands of a Child: Grades Prek -4 Project Pack Guinea Pigs, The Course Reflection Project Nicole Schonemann, Emily Metzgar, Andrew Libby, 2015-05-01 Service learning is entering a post initiatory phase At tertiary institutions of all types and sizes service learning programs are common and service learning requirements for graduation are growing in popularity Taken together alongside continued faculty interest in effective teaching these factors have raised the visibility and popularity of service learning Now the greater need in service learning is not to prove the need for or efficacy of service learning but to turn the focus squarely back on practice Following established best practice is not enough instructors also need to reflect on how this fits within the specific context and application of each unique course and service learning partnership While there are many excellent resources that detail best practice and showcase exemplary service learning courses faculty reflection and course revision often goes unmentioned In response to the lack of attention on the role of reflection and course revision we convened groups of faculty from a variety of disciplines to reflect deeply on their courses paying specific attention to obstacles and challenges These conversations were converted to articles for this edited collection each chapter representing the process of reflection and revision and serving as a guide to develop effective practice in varied curricular contexts This text contributes to the body of literature on service learning in a unique and practical manner Faculty teaching or interested in teaching service learning classes would benefit from this text as well as university administrators and community service directors involved in service learning at a programmatic and institutional level This book should be marketed to faculty teaching disciplinary service learning classes and service learning pedagogy classes and administrative offices involved in service learning This could be a supplementary text for graduate level pedagogy courses Higher education institutional libraries would benefit from this text as well as the national and state campus compact offices

Language Power: Grades K-2 Level A Teacher's Guide Rosie Orozco-Robles, 2012-09-30 Multimodality across Communicative Settings, Discourse Domains and Genres Veronica Bonsignori, Belinda Crawford Camiciottoli, 2017-01-06 This volume focuses on multimodality in various communicative settings with special attention to how non verbal elements

reinforce and add meaning to verbal expressions The first part of the book explores issues related to the use of multimodal resources in educational interactions and English language classroom teaching also involving learners with disabilities The second part on the other hand investigates multimodality as a key component of communication that takes place in different specialized domains and genres The book reflects a variety of methodological approaches that are grounded in both quantitative and qualitative techniques These include multimodal discourse analysis multimodal transcription and multimodal annotation software capable of representing the interplay of different semiotic modes such as speech intonation direction of gaze facial expressions gestures and spatial positioning of interlocutors The research collected here highlights the increasingly important role of multimodality in communication across different genres and communicative contexts and offers new perspectives on how to exploit multimodal resources to enhance the learning of English for both general and specific purposes
