Ocean slavery and all but passed over Africa's internal practices from Ethiopian kingdoms enslaving conquered peoples to the Sokoto Caliphate capturing non Muslims on a scale matching that of the US plantations Yet overlooked stories of enslavement matter In 1794 Congress authorised construction of the US Navy's first six ships in response to civilian vessels being seized by North Africa's Barbary corsairs who raided as far as Britain and the Caribbean enslaving hundreds of thousands of Europeans And since abolition of the trans Atlantic trade international concern has moved from traditional to modern forms of slavery leaving Africans enslaved as chattel today with few champions abroad The UN and African Union are too embarrassed to confront the African leaders still permitting this practice Unbroken Chains offers readers a full accessible history of the myriad bondage systems that have devastated African communities over the millennia It is a haunting sensitive powerful read

A Calculus of Color Robert Kuhn McGregor, 2015-04-14 In 1947 as the integration of Major League Baseball began the once daring American League had grown reactionary unwilling to confront postwar challenges population shifts labor issues and above all racial integration The league had matured in the Jim Crow era when northern cities responded to the Great

Migration by restricting black access to housing transportation accommodations and entertainment while blacks created their own institutions including baseball s Negro Leagues As the political climate changed and some major league teams realized the necessity of integration the American League proved painfully reluctant With the exception of the Cleveland Indians integration was slow and often ineffective This book examines the integration of baseball widely viewed as a triumph through the experiences of the American League and finds only a limited shift in racial values The teams accepted few black players and made no effort to alter management structures and organized baseball remained an institution governed by tradition bound owners
