Webb, 2000 This book focuses on the languages and linguistics of Africa Covering the major themes that are dealt with in university courses and making extensive use of linguistic symbols and diagrams this is an essential text for undergraduate and postgraduate linguistics students in South Africa and Africa as a whole as well as for students of African studies worldwide Its topics include general descriptions of African languages the nature of languages in contact and in competition language in education and the need for governmental intervention in linguistic issues

African Voices E. Kembo-Sure, V. N. Webb, 2000 An Introduction to the Languages of the World Anatole Lyovin, Brett Kessler, William Ronald Leben, 2017 The only textbook of its kind An Introduction to the Languages of the World is designed to introduce beginning linguistics students who now typically start their study with little background in languages to the variety of the languages of the world Cultural Sociology of the Middle East, Asia, and Africa Andrea L. Stanton, 2012 In our age of globalization and multiculturalism it has never been more important to understand and appreciate all cultures across the world The four volumes take a step forward in this endeavour by presenting concise information on those regions least well known to students across Europe the Middle East Asia and Africa The volumes convey what daily life is like for people in these selected regions Entries will aid readers in understanding the importance of cultural sociology to appreciate the effects of cultural forces around the world and to learn the history of countries and cultures within these important regions Key Features Topics are explored within historical context in three broad historical periods prehistory to 1250 1250 to 1920 and 1920 to the present One volume each is devoted to the regions of the Middle East and Africa and then one volume to East and Southeast Asia and a final volume to West Central and South Asia The volumes include extensive use of photographs and maps to explain cultural and geographic content Each volume has its own volume editor with expertise in that particular region Key Themes Arts Culture and Science People Society and Dynasties Religion and Law Family and Daily Life Conflicts and Wars Politics and Government Health and Education Economy Trade and Industry National Geography and History The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages Lutz Marten, Ellen Hurst-Harosh, Nancy C. Kula, Jochen Zeller, 2025-08-19 This volume brings together leading scholars from Africa Europe the Americas and beyond to provide a detailed account of the languages of the Bantu family which cover an area from Cameroon and Kenya in the north to South Africa in the south The Bantu family is part of the Niger Congo phylum and one of the world's biggest language groups comprising around 500 languages The family includes major languages with large numbers of speakers such as Zulu Kinyarwanda and Swahili the most widely spoken and taught African language as well as many community languages and several endangered languages Bantu languages feature prominently in the complex and multilingual language ecologies that are characteristic of the linguistic situation in much of Africa and they provide rich evidence for the study of theoretical and comparative linguistics language contact and language change They play an important role in education commerce culture and artistic expression in the media and public discourse in governance and social justice and are central to the future of the continent and the well being of its communities The first part of The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages provides background and context with chapters exploring the history of research in the field language and prehistory in Bantu speaking Africa and typology and variation Chapters in the second part offer broad comparative overviews of Bantu phonology morphology syntax semantics and pragmatics socio and applied linguistics before Parts III VII cover more specific topics in Bantu linguistics across a variety of subfields ranging from structural issues such as the augment and melodic tone to historical and sociolinguistic topics such as Bantu languages in the diaspora and language policy and standardization The chapters in the final part offer individual structural overviews of a range of languages from across the Bantu speaking area The book will be an essential resource for students and researchers specializing in the Bantu languages and for typologists and comparative linguists more broadly

Language Planning in Africa Nkonko Kamwangamalu, Richard Baldauf Jr., Robert Kaplan, 2016-04-08 This volume focuses on language planning in the Cameroon Sudan and Zimbabwe explaining the linguistic diversity historical and political contexts current language situation including language in education planning the role of the media the role of religion and the roles of non indigenous languages The authors are indigenous to the situations described and draw on their experience and extensive fieldwork there The extended case studies contained in this volume draw together the literature on each of the polities to present an overview of the existing research available while also providing new research based information The purpose of this volume is to provide an up to date overview of the language situation in each polity based on a series of key questions in the hope that this might facilitate the development of a richer theory to guide language policy and planning in other polities where similar issues may arise This book comprises case studies originally published in the journal Current Issues in Language Planning

Language and Identities Carmen Llamas, 2009-12-18 Language and Identities offers a broad survey of our current state of knowledge on the connections between variability in language use and the construction negotiation maintenance and performance of identities at different levels individual group regional and national It brings together over 20 specially commissioned chapters written by distinguished international scholars on a range of topics around the language identity nexus The collection deals sequentially with identities at various levels both social and personal Using detailed empirical evidence the chapters illustrate how the multi layered dynamic nature of identities is realised through linguistic behaviour Several chapters in the volume focus on contexts in which we might expect to observe a foregrounding of factors involved in the definition and delimitation of self and other for example cases in which identities may be disputed changing blurred peripheral or imposed Such a focus on complex contexts allows clearer insight into the identity making and marking functions of language The collection approaches these topics from a range of perspectives with contributions from sociolinguists sociophoneticians linguistic anthropologists clinical linguists and forensic linguists

Linguistic Identity in Postcolonial Multilingual Spaces Eric A. Anchimbe, 2009-05-05 This timely volume moves away considerably from traditional topics investigated in studies of multilingualism and linguistic identity to propose new analytical approaches that investigate postcolonial societies from the standpoint of their specific internal structures The book uses postcolonial multilingual societies as gateways into complex webs of identity construction and group boundary definition the interplay and functions of oral indigenous and written foreign languages in multilingual communities the birth of new diaspora generations at home and abroad the redefinitions of gender roles and the impact of linguistic identities on the different nation states focused upon in the contributions This book could not be published at a better time The contributors present informative facts about the complex dynamics of the co existence of ex colonial languages with the ancestral languages of their new speakers and about how on the one hand they are embraced by some as socio economic assets and on the other they are treated by others as alienating colonial legacies The reader will learn about various ecological factors that have contributed to the indigenization of English the maintenance or revitalization of indigenous languages and the emergence of new cultural identities that foster new forms of linguistic diversity in Asia and Africa This book is a gold mine of information about postcolonial identity in Africa Asia Ireland and the Americas Prof Salikoko S Mufwene Distinguished Service Professor of Linguistics and the College University of Chicago

A Tri-Generational Study of Language Choice and Shift in Port Harcourt Kelechukwu Ihemere, 2007-05 This book is intended as a textbook for advanced undergraduate or graduate students in the field of bilingualism and language choice It reports on a sociolinguistic study of the language choice patterns of the minority Ikwerre ethnic group of Port Harcourt City Nigeria Further it aims primarily to present a systematic and coherent account of the extent and patterning of Ikwerre NPE bilingualism within the Ikwerre community focusing on the means by which people in this community deploy two different codes in their day to day communicative interactions and the social and attitudinal motivations for language choice at both the group and individual level To satisfy these objectives this study has taken into account the pre existing linguistic socio economic and macro sociological distinctiveness of the Ikwerre community Thus it has investigated prevailing local attitudes towards Ikwerre and NPE by incorporating matched guise tests to deepen our understanding of the processes of language choice and shift operating in the community This was done to demonstrate that contemporary local linguistic attitudes working together with personal network ties would offer fuller and more adequate explanations of why members of the Port Harcourt Ikwerre community select either Ikwerre and or NPE in their normal every day interactions From the observations and findings made in this study I propose an account of the language choice patterns attested in my Port Harcourt Ikwerre community data that is based on establishing a broad typology which can be directly related to the bilingualism continuum This framework should be equally applicable to similar bilingual settings around the world which like Port Harcourt have experienced rapid metropolitan growth as a result of radical socio economic change in their recent history Finally it is my hope that in the course of reading this book the reader can come to a place where their understanding and appreciation of the effects of languages in contact in non Western communities is enriched with the illustrative material in this book
