A Practical Guide to the Science and Practice of Afterschool Programming Joseph L. Mahoney, Gina Warner, 2015-01-12 Closing the gap between scientific research on afterschool programming and the practices occurring in these settings is the goal of this volume Both sources of knowledge are critical to developing the afterschool workforce s ability to provide high quality programming On the one hand this means afterschool staff should not work with young people until they have been adequately prepared which includes training in evidence based practices and properly supervised On the other hand it requires that scientists understand and study those aspects of afterschool programming most relevant to the needs of practitioners This volume includes perspectives from the afterschool workforce scientists who discuss the current research and the practitioners who know how afterschool programs operate in practice This is the 144th volume of New Directions for Youth Development the Jossey Bass quarterly report series dedicated to bringing together everyone concerned with helping young people including scholars practitioners and people from different disciplines and professions Job Skills and Minority Youth Barton J.

resource for anyone seeking to close gaps in educational opportunities Pedro A Noguera PhD Distinguished Professor of Education UCLA Graduate School of Education Information Studies As the chair of the NAS NRC committee that wrote the report Community programs to support youth development I am delighted by this book When we wrote the report in 2002 there were few systematic attempts to organize and theorize the emerging field of positive youth development As the editors and chapter authors in this book make very clear a great deal has happened at all levels of scholarship in this field over the last 15 years Both this volume and the new book series that it is initiating signal the maturing of this field from childhood through adolescence and now into emerging adulthood The breadth of work discussed in this collection is exceptionally broad ranging from psychological theorizing about the impact of youth serving programs in the out of school time period to social policy analyses of how to grow the profession of OST Youth Professionals and create steady funding streams to support OST programming All topics are critically discussed and new directions are suggested I consider this book to be required reading of all students scholars professional and practitioners in the field of positive youth development and OST programming I go even further by suggesting it be read broadly by anyone interested in the education and development of young people around the world There is no better collection available for educators parents community activists and social policy makers concerned with positive youth development I believe this collection lays a very strong foundation for achieving the goal set forth by Karen Pittman for the field to move from Where and when to what and how Jacquelynne S Eccles Distinguished University Professor of Education University of California Irvine The impressive growth of OST programs represents one of the brightest spots on the American educational landscape Importantly as this book portrays what began a series of programs and local initiatives has now grown into a maturing field with standards scholarship organizations policies and funding at the national state and local levels And more than a field OST carries the urgency energy and passion of a movement for social justice The Growing Out of School Time Field offers a comprehensive review of earlier decades of work and points the way forward for the field s future development It should be read not only by those involved in the OST field but by all educators who seek to create inclusive and powerful learning environments Policymakers as well would benefit from deeper knowledge of this movement It holds a key to preparing today s youth for an uncertain future where the nature of work is changing norms of society are shifting and multicultural global perspectives are needed Milton Chen Ph D Senior Fellow Executive Director Emeritus George Lucas Educational Foundation edutopia org Book reviews Journal of Youth Development Book Review of The Growing Out of School Time Field Past Present and Future Youth Today The Growing Out of School Time Field Past Present and Future book review Positive Youth Development in Global Contexts of Social and Economic Change Anne C.
