Rapes Tureen Afroz,2022-07-11 The history of 1971 Bangladesh War of Liberation accords the mass rape of Bangladeshi women by the Pakistan Army and their local collaborators After about 40 years of the Liberation War the matter of rape of the Bangladeshi women was brought under litigation to a certain extent in the International Crimes Tribunal of Bangladesh ICT BD However the issue of justice for the rape victims of the 1971 Bangladesh War of Liberation still lacks comprehensive social and legal attention A question remained very much unexplored as to whether legal justice through trials essentially ensures social justice for the war rape victims of Bangladesh It thus remains an unspoken narrative in Bangladesh in respect of how the war rape victims actually perceive justice Another question that arises in this regard is whether complete justice is being done in the course of ensuring legal justice to war rape victims It may be mentioned that no systematic and or comprehensive research has been conducted so far on this subject This research would endeavor to get an account from 385 Bangladeshi war rape victims and their families about the socio legal aspects of the long awaited justice Sexual

The Atrocity Paradigm Claudia Card,2005 What distinguishes evils from ordinary wrongs Is hatred a necessarily evil Are some evils unforgivable Are there evils we should tolerate What can make evils hard to recognize Are evils inevitable How can we best respond to and live with evils Claudia Card offers a secular theory of evil that responds to these questions and more Evils according to her theory have two fundamental components One component is reasonably foreseeable intolerable harm harm that makes a life indecent and impossible or that makes a death indecent The other component is culpable wrongdoing Atrocities such as genocides slavery war rape torture and severe child abuse are Card s paradigms because in them these key elements are writ large Atrocities deserve more attention than secular philosophers have so far paid them They are distinguished from ordinary wrongs not by the psychological states of evildoers but by the seriousness of the harm that is done Evildoers need not be sadistic they may simply be negligent or unscrupulous in pursuing their goals Card s theory represents a compromise between classic utilitarian and stoic alternatives including Kant s theory of radical evil Utilitarians tend to reduce evils to their harms Stoics tend to reduce evils to the wickedness of perpetrators

Card accepts neither reduction She also responds to Nietzsche's challenges about the worth of the concept of evil and she uses her theory to argue that evils are more important than merely unjust inequalities She applies the theory in explorations of war rape and violence against intimates She also takes up what Primo Levi called the gray zone where victims become complicit in perpetrating on others evils that threaten to engulf themselves While most past accounts of evil have focused on perpetrators Card begins instead from the position of the victims but then considers more generally how to respond to and live with evils as victims as perpetrators and as those who have become both
