Historical Dictionary of Lesotho

John Aerni-Flessner, Charles Fogelman, Nthabiseng Mokoena-Mokhali, 2023-11-30 Lesotho's history has long been defined by its enclave status within South Africa but it is a hard fought and hard won status that helps unite Basotho through the shared history of struggle against colonial rule in the region Since the end of apartheid in 1994 Lesotho's status as a separate entity has been called into question though the fierce national pride built through centuries of resistance to outside rule has mitigated against any serious discussions of incorporating Lesotho into South Africa Still the political instability and lack of a flourishing domestic economy have made life difficult for the majority of Basotho and could call into question the viability and legitimacy of the state in the eyes of its citizens if it cannot enact significant reforms in the coming decades Historical Dictionary of Lesotho Third Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 500 cross referenced entries on important personalities as well as aspects of the country's politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Lesotho

Environmental Entanglements Kirk B. Sides, 2025-10-22 Environmental Entanglements African Literature's Ecological Imaginary traces a long history of ecological thought in African literature Reading African literatures as environmental literatures Environmental Entanglements offers an interventional step back beyond the mid twentieth century moment of political independence Thinking about entanglement to represent relations ecologically the book explores a form which it argues is an ecological imaginary animating many African literary and cultural repertoires This ecological form gives story to experiences of transversal of colonial and apartheid boundaries the movement of peoples and the cultural and social relations enacted upon land Focusing on literary and filmic texts from the writers such as Thomas Mofolo and Sol Plaatje in the early twentieth century to contemporary science and speculative fiction producers like Nnedi Okorafor and Wanuri Kahiu Environmental Entanglements argues that cultural archives from the African continent display a history of ecological awareness that predates the moment of mid twentieth century decolonization The book is premised on the idea that imagining ecologically as a form of representing relations is not a belated preoccupation in African literatures but rather these early ecological imaginaries present an opportunity to delink notions such as environmentalism ecology and ecocriticism from postcoloniality Reading ecology as an animating organizing trope in African literatures from at least the start of the twentieth century the book offers a genealogy of the present in which the increasingly popular forms of ecologically oriented African futurism and speculative fiction are part of a history of thinking the future through ecological form in African literatures
