Brunei Marie-Sybille de Vienne, 2015-03-09 Now an energy rich sultanate for centuries a important trading port in the South China Sea Brunei has taken a different direction than its Persian Gulf peers Immigration is restricted and Brunei s hydrocarbon wealth is invested conservatively mostly outside the country Today home to some 393 000 inhabitants and comprising 5 765 square kilometers in area Brunei first appears in the historical record at the end of the 10th century After the Spanish attack of 1578 Brunei struggled to regain and expand its control on coastal West Borneo and to remain within the trading networks of the South China Sea It later fell under British sway and a residency was established in 1906 but it took the discovery of oil in Seria in 1929 before the colonial power began to establish the bases of a modern state Governed by an absolute monarchy Bruneians today nonetheless enjoy a high level of social protection and rule of law Ranking second after Singapore in Southeast Asia in terms of standards of living the sultanate is implementing an Islamic penal code for the first time of its history Focusing on Brunei s political economy history and geography this book aims to understand the forces behind Brunei s to and fro of tradition and modernisation

Emerging International Dimensions in East Asian Higher Education Akiyoshi Yonezawa, Yuto Kitamura, Arthur Meerman, Kazuo Kuroda, 2014-04-07 In East Asia higher education has relied heavily on private and marketized forces in its rapid development process At the same time state governments have introduced strong initiatives especially in upgrading the global positioning of their flagship universities through their pursuit of international competitiveness Currently these well known characteristics of East Asian higher education are challenged by the necessity to formulate international dimensions for regional and global well being without a clear consensus as to a regional future vision The changing roles of East Asian higher education in a new global environment have implications for academics and policy makers who not only wish but also need to understand the most recent developments and future prospects of higher education from an East Asian point of view In Emerging International Dimensions in East Asian Higher Education authors from a wide variety of cultural and academic backgrounds examine the changing context of East Asian higher education in the global regional and national dimensions The analysis and case study material in this volume are strengthened by the wealth of contributors diverse national and professional backgrounds Most have practical experience in the formulation of higher education policy in two or more countries The range of disciplinary perspectives that contributors brought to the book including sociology political science anthropology economics philosophy and history strengthen the multi disciplinary approach credibility and uniqueness of the work Each chapter considers the impact of the emergence of international dimensions in East Asian Higher Education through detailed consideration of trends and debates over higher education reforms at the regional sub regional inter regional and national levels Issues such as student mobility cross border higher education programs quality assurance and demands from the market economy among others are examined

The Central Government-Funded Teacher Education Policy in China Yi Liu,2023-10-20 This book utilises expectancy value theory and undermining effect of extrinsic reward theory to examine the impact of the Central Government Funded Teacher Education CGFTE policy on Chinese pre service teachers motivations for choosing the teaching profession Quantitative data analysis revealed six distinct categories of motivations to teach teacher influence job advantages extrinsic social value altruistic personal interest intrinsic others suggestions and fallback career These categories were further exemplified in ten narrative stories The findings indicate that the CGFTE policy attracts high school graduates with higher intrinsic motivation to enrol in teacher training programs but it seems ineffective in increasing their intrinsic career choice motivation It is argued that the CGFTE policy which emphasises extrinsic benefits but limits professional development does not have a significant negative impact on pre service teachers motivation to choose teaching This conclusion is supported by the offsetting effects of the policy s restrictive and encouraging aspects as explained by expectancy value theory and the qualitative data Nevertheless the intrinsic motivation of policy funded pre service teachers did not improve as much as that of their self supported counterparts indicating potential undermining effects of the policy The study concludes by discussing the implications of these findings for enhancing the CGFTE policy teacher training and career education in China The book will be an essential read for students and scholars of higher education Chinese studies and educational studies in general OECD Skills Studies OECD Skills Strategy Southeast Asia Skills for a
