Budget Speech Of South Africa:

Greening the South African Economy Mark Swilling, Josephine Kaviti Musango, Jeremy Wakeford, 2016-02-23 The depletion of South Africa's and in some cases the world's natural resources and the degradation of environmental sinks including the atmosphere, lakes and rivers and land are continuing at such a rate that natural resource prices are climbing and many critical ecosystem services that underpin human welfare are increasingly threatened. The concept of the green economy has gained increasing traction in South African policy discourses over the past few years. However, in much of this discourse it is viewed in a piecemeal way as one part or sector of the economy, e.g. an industrial sector dealing with manufacture and installation of renewable energy technologies and energy efficient equipment and appliances. In the view of the authors, greening the South African economy requires an application of sustainability principles and practices across the full range of primary, secondary and tertiary sectors of the economy in an integrated manner. The aim of this book is therefore to apply principles of sustainability and green economics to the entire South African socio-economic system and its major elements in an integrated and comprehensive manner. Republic of South Africa Budget Speech Trevor Manuel, U.S. Corporate Interests in South Africa Dick Clark, 1978 This Week in South Africa, 1990-01-08 Africa and Economic Policy Ferdinand Bakou, 2014-08-01 Africa and Economic Policy: Developing a Framework for Policymakers aims to fill an important gap in the current literature on economic policy in developing countries. Despite its richness and sophistication, the current economic literature has not yet succeeded in developing a framework for economic policy that is clear and intelligible to policymakers in developing countries and which is capable of effectively delivering a sustained increase in citizens' well-being. This ground-breaking study seeks to rectify this problem by suggesting a unique conceptual framework for designing and conducting economic policy in developing countries, particularly those in Africa. Kenya National Assembly Official Record (Hansard), 1999-06-15 The official records of the proceedings of the Legislative Council of the Colony and Protectorate of Kenya, the House of Representatives of the Government of Kenya and the National Assembly of the Republic of Kenya. The Evolving Structure of South Africa's Economy Seeraj Mohamed, Amuzweni Ngoma, 2024-01-23 South Africa still faces low economic growth and high unemployment coupled with the persistent challenges of poverty and inequality. These exert pressure on South Africa to foster structural transformation that will facilitate a more inclusive and resilient economy. Authors apply multiple theoretical and empirical perspectives to take stock of the historical and contemporary structure of the South African economy, its evolving nature and possible future pathways. They explore how South Africa's structural transformation agenda is affected by the global context and discuss debates on the extreme social impacts of globalised and financialised economic structures. Contributors offer technical and analytical discussions of the overlapping structural faultlines that produce uneven economic performance. They explain the changes and continuities of South Africa's economic structure bound by an analytical thread that centres power relations and political settlements Varied chapters explain how poor governance and corruption have slowed down structural reform This has been further exacerbated by the inconsistent availability of energy and the deterioration of logistics The book details the structural reforms and policy regimes necessary for increasing productive capacity in South Africa s agriculture manufacturing agro processing retail and services energy and mining industries It also reflects on the role that micro and informal enterprises can play if afforded the necessary support The technical details and analyses in the book highlight the need for a radical review of macroeconomic policy to reduce the country s chronic vulnerability to poverty and inequality The Political Economy of Namibia Tore Linné Eriksen,Richard Moorsom,1989 Research institutes and documentation centres Budget Speech South Africa,2004 Budget speech ,1985 Public Procurement and Human Rights Olga Martin-Ortega,Claire Methven O'Brien,2019 This timely work reflects on the role and obligations of the state as a buyer of goods and services from the dual disciplinary perspectives of public procurement and human rights Through theoretical and doctrinal analyses and practice focused case studies it interrogates the evolving character of public procurement as an interface for multiple normative regimes and competing policies Challenging the prevailing paradigm which subordinates human rights to narrowly defined economic goals insightful contributions advance a compelling case for greater inter disciplinaryity and policy coherence as crucial to realising international policies such as those embodied in the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and 2030 Sustainable Development Goals South African extension agent competencies and attitudes for the future: Results of a survey Davis, Kristin E.,von Maltitz, Lindie,de Bruyn, Melanie,van Niekerk, Johan,Ngomane, Tsakani,2021-12-09 Extension and advisory services are key to sustainable agriculture resilient livelihoods and inclusive growth In South Africa there is need for new training skills and attitudes by extension staff to meet the demands of the changing sector The purpose was to find out South African extension agent competency levels attitudes and mindsets especially toward digital extension to be relevant for the future Using a population survey we targeted all public and non public extension staff from every province using an online and paper based questionnaire We examined existing competencies new needs and differences in attitudes and competencies by factors such as education employer age and gender We created an index of digital readiness and an index of technological readiness based on technology use and attitudes and compared by various factors such as sector age and gender We find that while extension officers tend to have a good arsenal of technical skills they are less equipped with functional skills Several competencies and attitudes necessary for the new norms and standards for extension officers are lacking in a good proportion of respondents such as inclusivity and empowerment While extension staff recognize the importance of digital literacy for the future only about half have received any training on the use of digital tools We recommend that extension role players take a systems view to revitalize extension For extension to perform effectively we must go beyond skills and training Extension departments and organizations also need a certain level of competencies and the enabling environment should be conducive We recommend that in addition to rounding out the technical and functional expertise of South African extension and advisory services staff that adequate incentives and rewards are in place to ensure professionalism and motivation

A Just Transition to a Low Carbon Future in South Africa Nqobile Xaba,Saliem Fakir,2022-02-01 Deliberations on the just transition in South Africa have intensified and will continue to do so for the next few years and decades Climate change widening socio economic inequality the precarious future of work and emergent approaches to financing arrangements have brought new urgency to the issues It therefore remains critical to interrogate how South Africa can ensure a just transition to a low carbon economy This book underlines the fact that the low carbon transition in South Africa has to grapple with complex historical social economic cultural and political factors The main message is that the transition to a low carbon society is possible but it can only succeed if it is just and handled collaboratively In addition the book aims to broaden the discourse on low carbon transition and explore the opportunities in and impediments to making the transition fair affordable and socio economically viable dealing with Emerging Issues and Way Forward Offshore Finance Centres and Tax Havens Jason P

Abbottd,2016-07-27 Offshore finance has transformed many small jurisdictions into high income economies and has facilitated the growth of global financial markets deregulation and the convergence of economic policies worldwide However the volatility and fickle nature of global capital has also become apparent This major new multi disciplinary and international collection explores the development of offshore finance and is an extremely valuable resource for all those considering the issues involved in this important area A Basic Income Grant for South Africa Guy Standing,Michael Samson,2003

This book provides a critical analysis of the feasibility and impact of a universal basic income grant for South Africans which has been discussed extensively in parliament and the media for the past two years The authors assess how comprehensive social security reform including a universal grant will impact on the severe inequality in the country and promote economic growth and employment Their research reveals that it is affordable and they argue that it would reduce the criminality that is associated with poverty and inequality The implications for women and children and for the black majority would be considerable At the Presidential Jobs Summit in 1998 COSATU negotiated an agreement with the government to investigate a universal social grant for all South Africans the Basic Income Grant Government policy makers civil society stakeholders and South African and international thinkers recognised the merit of addressing the problem of poverty directly and efficiently In March 2002 the South African government s Committee of Inquiry into Comprehensive Social Security completed its evaluation of policy options for addressing the severe levels of poverty afflicting the country Accepting the findings of research commissioned from the Economic Policy Research Institute the Committee s report stated that the Basic Income Grant has the potential more than any other possible social protection intervention to reduce poverty and promote human development and sustainable livelihoods This book provides an accessible collection of the current research on the issue with chapters by both proponents and critics of the Basic Income Grant Some of the issues discussed include How can the grant be financed In what ways will the grant promote job creation economic growth and social development And will the government demonstrate the political will to implement what is likely to be the single most effective policy for reducing poverty and eradicating destitution Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations
