Treating AIDS Thurka Sangaramoorthy, 2014-03-26 There is an inherently powerful and complex paradox underlying HIV AIDS prevention between the focus on collective advocacy mobilized to combat global HIV AIDS and the staggeringly disproportionate rates of HIV AIDS in many places In Treating AIDS Thurka Sangaramoorthy examines the everyday practices of HIV AIDS prevention in the United States from the perspective of AIDS experts and Haitian immigrants in South Florida Although there is worldwide emphasis on the universality of HIV AIDS as a social political economic and biomedical problem developments in HIV AIDS prevention are rooted in and focused exclusively on disparities in HIV AIDS morbidity and mortality framed through the rubric of race ethnicity and nationality Everyone is at equal risk for contracting HIV AIDS Sangaramoorthy notes but the ways in which people experience and manage that risk and the disease itself is highly dependent on race ethnic identity sexuality gender immigration status and other notions of difference Sangaramoorthy documents in detail the work of AIDS prevention programs and their effect on the health and well being of Haitians a transnational community long plagued by the stigma of being stereotyped in public discourse as disease carriers By tracing the ways in which public knowledge of AIDS prevention science circulates from sites of surveillance and regulation to various clinics and hospitals to the social worlds embraced by this immigrant community she ultimately demonstrates the ways in which AIDS prevention programs help to reinforce categories of individual and collective difference and how they continue to sustain the persistent and pernicious idea of race and ethnicity as risk factors for the disease Zero Tolerance to HIV

Infection Prof. (Dr) Vikas Bhatia, Dr. Swayam Pragyan Parida, Dr. Babita Raghuwanshi, Dr. Saubhagya Kumar Jena, Mrs.

Dharitri Swain , Globally an estimated 34 million people have HIV More than 35 million people have died from the virus making it one of the most destructive pandemics in history Today many scientific advances have been made in HIV treatment there are laws to protect people living with HIV and we understand so much more about the condition But despite this people do not know the facts about how to protect themselves and others from HIV and stigma and discrimination remain a reality for many people living with HIV The idea for this book grew out of a institutional consultation by various departments under the patron ship of the director each chapter provides trenchant and provocative yet always balanced and complete discussions of the central issues in a given topic Every Very Short Introduction gives a readable evolution of the subject in question demonstrating how it has developed Whatever the area of HIV AIDS related study each topic will fascinate the reader the book is a handy and affordable guide that will likely prove indispensable Emerging Zoonoses I. W.

Fong,2017-02-06 The book begins with a review of zoonotic pandemics of the past the Black Death or bubonic plague of the Middle Ages the Spanish Influenza pandemic derived from avian influenza of the early 20th century to the more modern pandemic of AIDS HIV infection which originated in Africa from primates However the majority of chapters focus on more recent zoonoses which have been recognized since the late 20th century to the present SARS and MERS coronaviruses New avian influenza viruses The tick borne Hantaan fever virus from China The tick borne Heartland virus from the United States Recently recognized bacterial pathogens such as Streptococcus suis from pigs In addition reemergence of established zoonoses that have expanded their niche are reviewed such as the spread of Zika virus and Chikungunya virus to the Western Hemisphere and the emergence and spread of Ebola virus infection in Africa A chapter is also devoted to an overview of the mechanisms and various types of animals involved in the transmission of diseases to humans and the potential means of control and prevention Many endemic and sporadic diseases are still transmitted by animals through either direct or indirect contact and zoonoses are estimated to account for about 75% of all new and emerging infectious diseases It is predicted by public health experts that the next major pandemic of infectious disease will be of animal origin making Emerging Zoonoses A Worldwide Perspective a crucial resource to all health care specialists by providing them with much needed information on these zoonotic diseases iv

Federal Register ,2013-08 Better Doctors, Better Patients, Better Decisions Gerd Gigerenzer,J.A. Muir Gray,2013-01-11 How eliminating risk illiteracy among doctors and patients will lead to better health care decision making Contrary to popular opinion one of the main problems in providing uniformly excellent health care is not lack of money but lack of knowledge on the part of both doctors and patients The studies in this book show that many doctors and most patients do not understand the available medical evidence Both patients and doctors are risk illiterate frequently unable to tell the difference between actual risk and relative risk Further unwarranted disparity in treatment decisions is the rule rather than the exception in the United States and Europe All of this contributes to much wasted spending in health care The contributors to Better Doctors Better Patients Better Decisions investigate the roots of the problem from the emphasis in medical research on technology and blockbuster drugs to the lack of education for both doctors and patients They call for a new more enlightened health care with better medical education journals that report study outcomes completely and transparently and patients in control of their personal medical records not afraid of statistics but able to use them to make informed decisions about their treatments
