Contemporary Dystopian Fiction for Young Adults Balaka Basu, Katherine R. Broad, Carrie Hintz, 2013-05-02 Winner of the Children's Literature Association Edited Book Award From the jaded wired teenagers of M T Anderson's Feed to the spirited young rebels of Suzanne Collins' The Hunger Games trilogy the protagonists of Young Adult dystopias are introducing a new generation of readers to the pleasures and challenges of dystopian imaginings As the dark universes of YA dystopias continue to flood the market Contemporary Dystopian Fiction for Young Adults Brave New Teenagers offers a critical evaluation of the literary and political potentials of this widespread publishing phenomenon With its capacity to frighten and warn dystopian writing powerfully engages with our pressing global concerns liberty and self determination environmental destruction and looming catastrophe questions of identity and justice and the increasingly fragile boundaries between technology and the self When directed at young readers these dystopian warnings are distilled into exciting adventures with gripping plots and accessible messages that may have the potential to motivate a generation on the cusp of adulthood This collection enacts a lively debate about the goals and efficacy of YA dystopias with three major areas of contention do these texts reinscribe an old didacticism or offer an exciting new frontier in children's literature Do their political critiques represent conservative or radical ideologies And finally are these novels high minded attempts to educate the young or simply bids to cash in on a formula for commercial success This collection represents a prismatic and evolving understanding of the genre illuminating its relevance to children's literature and our wider culture

Postapocalyptic Fiction and the Social Contract Claire P. Curtis, 2010-07-17 Postapocalyptic Fiction and the Social Contract We'll Not Go Home Again provides a framework for our fascination with the apocalyptic events The popular appeal of the end of the world genre is clear in movies novels and television shows Even our political debates over global warming nuclear threats and pandemic disease reflect a concern about the possibility of such events This popular fascination is really a fascination with survival how can we come out alive And what would we do next The end of the world is not about species death but about beginning again This book uses postapocalyptic fiction as a terrain for thinking about the state of nature the hypothetical fiction that is the driving force behind the social contract The first half of the book examines novels that tell the story of the move from the state of nature to civil society through a Hobbesian a Lockean or a Rousseauian lens including Lucifer's Hammer by Larry Niven and Jerry Pournelle Alas Babylon by Pat Frank Malevil by Robert Merle and Into the Forest by Jean Hegland The latter half of the book examines Octavia Butler's postapocalyptic Parable series in which a new kind of
