

If done properly, all "eights" should appear in each axis display, indicating the start of the diagnostics routine. The routine will then go through various phases of self-check and will end in about 20-30 seconds with a combination of "ones" and "zeros" displayed in each axis.

At this point, pushing any key (besides the decimal point key), will reveal that key matrix code - these code numbers should match with the chart illustrated to insure that the key is working properly. If a different number code shows up or nothing at all displays, then the front panel may have to be replaced (see Troubleshooting - Chapter VIII).

To return the unit back to normal operation, press the decimal point key and then the SET key. Reconnect the transducer cables.

If the readout begins flashing all ones, twos, threes, fours, fives, sixes or sevens across the board, that will indicate a problem with the readout itself. Repair of the unit will probably require changing the printed circuit (PC) board inside. See Troubleshooting, Chapter VIII. If the transducer or zero output connector cables are still connected during diagnostics, then all fives, sixes, or sevens may flash in the display. Press the decimal point key and the readout will continue in its diagnostic routine.
