Foreign Words Susan Bernofsky, 2005-09-01 A new perspective on the principal developments in translation practice and theory in Germany during the Age of Goethe with emphasis on the work of Goethe H lderlin and Kleist as translators The turn of the nineteenth century was a particularly fertile period in the history of translation theory and practice With an unprecedented number of works being carefully translated and scrutinized this era saw a definite shift in the dominant mode of translation Many translators began attempting for the first time to communicate the formal characteristics linguistic features and cultural contexts of the original text while minimizing the paraphrasing that distorted most eighteenth century translations As soon as these new rules became the norm authorial translators defined not by virtue of being authors in their own right but by the liberties they took in their translations emerged to challenge them altering translated texts in such a way as to bring them into line with the artistic and thematic concerns displayed in the translators own original work In the process authorial translators implicitly declared translation an art form and explicitly incorporated it into their theoretical programs for the poetic arts Foreign Words provides a detailed account of translation practice and theory throughout the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries linking the work of actual translators to the theories of translation articulated by

Goethe Wilhelm von Humboldt and above all Friedrich Schleiermacher Employing a variety of critical approaches author Susan Bernofsky discusses in depth the work of Kleist H Lderlin and Goethe whose virtuoso translations raise issues that serve to delineate a theory of translation that has relevance at the turn of the twenty first century as well Combining a broad historical approach with individual readings of the work of several different translators Foreign Words paints a full picture of translation during the Age of Goethe and provides all scholars of translation theory with an important new perspective

Joannes Burmeister Michael Fontaine, 2015-07-13 First critical edition of Burmeister's newly discovered Aulularia Joannes Burmeister of Leuburg 1576-1638 was among the greatest Neo-Latin poets of the German Baroque His masterpieces now mostly lost are Christian inversions of the Classical Roman comedies of Plautus With only minimal changes in language and none in meter each transforms Plautus's pagan plays into comedies based on biblical themes Fascinating in their own right they also bring back to attention forgotten genres of

Renaissance literature This volume offers the first critical edition of the newly discovered Aulularia 1629 which exists in a sole copy and the fragments of Mater Virgo 1621 which adapts Plautus's Amphitryo to show the Nativity of Jesus The introduction offers reconstructions of Susanna based on Casina and Asinaria 1625 Burmeister's two lost or unpublished inversions of Plautus Fontaine also provides the only biography of Burmeister based on archival sources along with discussions of his inimitable Latinity and the perilous context of war and witch burning in which Burmeister wrote Burmeister's inversions bear witness to the special talent of his age for the creative reworking of Classical literature such as Monteverdi's Poppea or Purcell's Dido and Aeneas as well as to his tumultuous times with his views on military abuses in the Thirty Years War prefiguring those of Grimmelshausen's Simplicius Simplicissimus The Greatest Works of Roman
