

A wooden sculpture of a person, possibly a doll or a small figure, is centered against a black background. The figure has a large, rounded, light-colored wooden body and a smaller, similarly colored head. The head has simple, dark, circular eyes and a small, dark, curved line for a mouth. The figure's arms are extended downwards, holding two long, thin, light-colored wooden poles. The background is solid black, making the light-colored wood stand out.
