Hang-Ups Simon Schama, 2010-08-31. Pre eminent author and art historian Simon Schama has written widely on art for many years to great acclaim. In Hang Ups, a personal selection of his articles from amongst others The New Yorker appears in Britain for the very first time. Brilliantly and lucidly written by one of the most singular voices in non fiction, this volume of provocative and often idiosyncratic essays makes hugely satisfying reading for lovers of both art and social history. It contains pieces on artists as diverse as David Hockney, Rembrandt and Charles Rennie Mackintosh and on such subjects as the unforgettable peculiarity of Stanley Spencer. From the author whose writing has been called sublime and whose ability to bring art and history vividly to life has earned him admiration worldwide, Hang Ups is Schama's rallying cry for the art lover to look at familiar works of art and their artists and embrace a new way of seeing.

Icons of War and Terror John Tulloch, Richard Warwick Blood, 2012. This book explores the ideas of key thinkers and media practitioners who have examined images and icons of war and terror. Icons of War and Terror explores theories of iconic images of war and terror not as received pieties but as challenging uncertainties. In doing so, it engages with both critical discourse and conventional image making. The authors draw on these theories to re-investigate the media global context of some of the most iconic representations of war and terror in the international risk society. Among these photojournalistic images are Nick Ut's Pulitzer Prize winning photograph of a naked girl, Kim Phuc, running, burned from a napalm attack in Vietnam in June 1972; a quintessential ethnic cleansing image of massacred Kosovar Albanian villagers at Racak on January 15 1999 which finally propelled a hesitant Western alliance into the first of the new humanitarian wars; Luis Simco's photograph of marine James Blake Miller, the Marlboro Man at Fallujah, Iraq, 2004; the iconic toppling of the World Trade Centre towers in New York by planes on September 11 2001; and the Falling Man icon, one of the most controversial
