Between Crime and War Claire Oakes Finkelstein,Jens David Ohlin,Christopher J. Fuller,Mitt Regan,2023 The threat posed by the recent rise of transnational non state armed groups does not fit easily within either of the two basic paradigms for state responses to violence The civilian paradigm focuses on the interception of demonstrable immediate threats to the safety of others The military paradigm focuses on threats posed by collective actors who pose a danger to the state s ability to maintain basic social order and at times the state The book suggests that we need not see the options as confined to this binary choice as it evaluates the philosophical and ethical implications of using both military and non military frameworks for pursuing counterterrorism operations Continent Formation Through Time N.M.W. Inequality Studies from the Global South David Francis, Imraan Valodia, Edward Webster, 2020-05-04 This book offers an innovative interdisciplinary approach to thinking about inequality and to understanding how inequality is produced and reproduced in the global South. Without the safety net of the various Northern welfare states, inequality in the global South is not merely a socio-economic problem but an existential threat to the social contract that underpins the democratic state and society itself. Only a response that is firmly grounded in the context of the global South can hope to address this problem. This collection brings together scholars from across the globe with a particular focus on the global South to address broad thematic areas such as the conceptual and methodological challenges of measuring inequality, the political economy of inequality in the global South, inequality in work households and the labour market, and inequalities in land spaces and cities. The book concludes by suggesting alternatives for addressing inequality in the global South and around the world. The pioneering ideas and theories put forward by this volume make it essential reading for students and researchers of global inequality across the fields of sociology, economics, law, politics, global studies, and development studies.

The Global Coal Market Mark C. Thurber, Richard K. Morse, 2015-07-20 A major study of the modern global coal market and its impacts both on energy markets and on climate policy.

Imagining global Amsterdam Marco de Waard, 2015-12-15 Imagining Global Amsterdam brings together new essays on the image of Amsterdam as articulated in film, literature, art, and urban discourse, considered within the context of globalization and its impact on urban culture. Subjects include Amsterdam's place in global cultural memory, expressions of global consciousness in Amsterdam in the Golden Age, articulations of Amsterdam as a tolerant multicultural and permissive global village, and globalizations' impact on the ground through city branding, the cultural heritage industry, and cultural production in the city. Written by an interdisciplinary team of scholars and united by a broad humanities approach, this collection forms a multifaceted inquiry into the dynamic relationship between Amsterdam, globalization, and the urban imaginary.

Routledge Handbook of Food as a Commons Jose Luis Vivero-Pol, Tomaso Ferrando, Olivier De Schutter, Ugo Mattei, 2018-12-17 From the scientific and industrial revolution to the present day, food, an essential element of life, has been progressively transformed into a private transnational mono-dimensional commodity of mass consumption for a global market. But over the last decade, there has been an increased recognition that this can be challenged and reconceptualized if food is regarded and enacted as a commons. This Handbook provides the first comprehensive review and synthesis of knowledge and new thinking on how food and food systems can be thought, interpreted, and practiced around the old/new paradigms of commons and commoning. The overall aim is to investigate the multiple constraints that occur within and sustain the dominant food and nutrition regime and to explore how it can change when different elements of the current food systems are explored and re imagined from a commons perspective Chapters do not define the notion of commons but engage with different schools of thought the economic approach based on rivalry and excludability the political approach recognizing the plurality of social constructions and incorporating epistemologies from the South the legal approach that describes three types of proprietary regimes private public and collective and different layers of entitlement bundles of rights and the radical activist approach that considers the commons as the most subversive coherent and history rooted alternative to the dominant neoliberal narrative These schools have different and rather diverging epistemologies vocabularies ideological stances and policy proposals to deal with the construction of food systems their governance the distributive implications and the socio ecological impact on Nature and Society The book sparks the debate on food as a commons between and within disciplines with particular attention to spaces of resistance food sovereignty de growth open knowledge transition town occupations bottom up social innovations and organizational scales local food national policies South South collaborations international governance and multi national agreements Overall it shows the consequences of a shift to the alternative paradigm of food as a commons in terms of food the planet and living beings
