Lessons To Be Learnt From The World's Great Icons Life Experiences. Bheki S.V. Ntshingila, 2016-11-23 The book is about the late Mr Nelson Mandela the unrepentant crusader and freedom fighter against the obnoxious apartheid regime in South Africa who became an instant toast of the entire world which is a reminder that in each person there is a seed of greatness expected to be discovered and to be used to make this world a better one for all who live in it instead of experiencing hatred and brutality What makes a person to succeed is not how bad she or he thinks but is high optimism thinking big willingness to learn from other s mistakes and life experiences There is a lot we can learn from Madiba s life experience and I don t doubt that the world is also learning something constructive or destructive from you If you are not constructive to others how would you be constructive to yourself Remember greatness is a phenomenon that could be associated with anyone with a positive mind Good better best never let it rest till your good is better and your better is best

Anchored in Place Bank, Leslie, Cloete, Nico, 2018-11-05 Tensions in South African universities have traditionally centred around equity particularly access and affordability historical legacies such as apartheid and colonialism and the shape and structure of the higher education system What has not received sufficient attention is the contribution of the university to place based development This volume is the first in South Africa to engage seriously with the place based developmental role of universities In the international literature and policy there has been an increasing integration of the university with place based development especially in cities This volume weighs in on the debate by drawing attention to the place based roles and agency of South African universities in their local towns and cities It acknowledges that universities were given specific development roles in regions homelands and towns under apartheid and comments on why sub national place based development has not been a key theme in post apartheid higher education planning Given the developmental crisis in the country universities could be expected to play a more constructive and meaningful role in the development of their own precincts cities and regions But what should that role be Is there evidence that this is already occurring in South Africa despite the lack of a national policy framework What plans and programmes are in place and what is needed to expand the development agency of universities at the local level Who and what might be involved Where should the focus lie and who might benefit most and why Is there a need perhaps to approach the challenges of college towns secondary cities and metropolitan centers differently This book poses some of these questions as it considers the experiences of a number of South African universities including Wits Pretoria Nelson Mandela University and especially Fort Hare as one of its post centenary challenges I Write the Yawning Void Sindiwe

Magona,2023-07-01 Sindiwe Magona is a celebrated South African writer storyteller and motivational speaker known mainly for her autobiographies biographies novels short stories poetry and children s books I Write the Yawning Void is a collection of essays that highlight her engagement with writing that span the transition from apartheid to the post apartheid period and addresses themes such as HIV Aids language and culture home and belonging Magona worked as a teacher domestic worker and spent two decades working for the United Nations in the United States of America She has received many awards for her fierce and fearless writing truth to power Her written work is often informed by her lived experience of being a black woman resisting subjugation and poverty These essays bring to life many facets of Magona s personal history as well as her deepest convictions her love for her country and despair at the problems that continue to plague it and her belief in her ability to activate change They demonstrate Magona s engaging storytelling and mastery of the essay form which serve as meaningful supplements to her fictional works while simultaneously offering direct and insightful responses to the conditions that inspired them Through her essays Magona offers a reimagining of a broken society and the role literature can play in casting new light on old wounds

Africa and the Sustainable Development Goals

Maano Ramutsindela, David Mickler, 2019-06-13 The book draws upon the expertise and international research collaborations forged by the Worldwide Universities Network Global Africa Group to critically engage with the intersection in theory and practice of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and Africa's development agendas and needs Further it argues that and demonstrates how the SDGs should be understood as an aspirational blueprint for development with multiple meanings that are situated in dynamic and contested terrains As the SDGs have substantial implications for development policy and resourcing at both the macro and micro levels their relevance is not only context specific but should also be assessed in terms of the aspirations and needs of ordinary citizens across the continent Drawing on analyses and evidence from both the natural and social sciences the book demonstrates that progress towards the SDGs must meet demands for improving human well being under diverse and challenging socio economic political and environmental conditions Examples include those from the mining industry public health employment and the media In closing it highlights how international collaboration in the form of research networks can enhance the production of critical knowledge on and engagement with the SDGs in Africa

The Origin and Growth of Geography as a discipline at South Africa Universities Gustav Visser, 2016-09-20 The publication provides the first comprehensive text that reflects on a century of the development of geography as an academic discipline at South African universities The book showcases a broad and textured review of South Africa's geography departments their staff members their times and the different Geographies they engaged in The book lays the foundation from which more expansive individual departmental histories can be written in the future

Decoloniality, Language and Literacy Carolyn McKinney, Pam Christie, 2021-12-20 Through a range of unconventional genres representations of data and dialogic reflective narratives alongside more traditional academic genres this book engages with contexts of decoloniality and border thinking in the Global South It addresses processes of knowledge production and participation in the highly divided and unequal schooling and higher education system in South Africa and highlights the consequences of the monolingual myth in post colonial education demonstrating opportunities for learning provided by translanguaging It explores both embodied multimodal and multilingual instances of knowledge making in teaching and teacher education that take place outside but alongside formal classroom lecture and seminar modes and the positionality and learning experiences of teacher educators in science literacy and language across the curriculum The book is not only transdisciplinary but also captures the learning that takes place beyond the borders of disciplines and formal classroom spaces

Afrikaners and the Boundaries of Faith in Post-Apartheid South Africa Annika Björnsdotter Teppo, 2021-09-30 This book examines the shifting moral and spiritual lives of white Afrikaners in South Africa after apartheid The end of South Africa's apartheid system of racial and spatial segregation sparked wide reaching social change as social cultural spatial and racial boundaries were transgressed and transformed This book investigates how Afrikaners have mediated the country's shifting boundaries within the realm of religion For instance one in every three Afrikaners used these new freedoms to leave the traditional Dutch Reformed Church NGK often for an entirely new religious affiliation within the Pentecostal or Charismatic churches or New Religious Movements such as Wiccan neopaganism Based on long term ethnographic fieldwork in the Western Cape area the book investigates what spiritual life after racial totalitarianism means for the members of the ethnic group that constructed and maintained that very totalitarianism Ultimately the book asks how these new Afrikaner religious practices contribute to social solidarity and integration in a persistently segregated society and what they can tell us about racial relations in the country today This book will be of interest to scholars of religious studies social and cultural anthropology and African studies

Dear Comrade President André Odendaal, 2022-08-01 In his annual presidential address on 8 January 1986 ANC president Oliver Tambo called on South Africans to make apartheid ungovernable through armed action and militant struggle But unknown to the world on that very day the quiet spoken mathematics teacher and aspirant priest turned reluctant revolutionary had also set up a secret think tank in Lusaka which he named the Constitution Committee giving it an ad hoc unique exercise that had no precedent in the history of the movement Knowing that all wars end at a negotiating table and judging the balance of forces to be moving in favour of the liberation movement Tambo wanted the ANC to hold the initiative after the fall of apartheid Assisted by Pallo Jordan he instructed his new think tank to formulate the principles and draft the outlines of a constitution that could unite South Africa when the time came to talk in the fledgling days of freedom and democracy The seven member team including Albie Sachs Kader Asmal and Zola Skweyiya started deliberating and reporting to Tambo In correspondence they typically addressed him as Dear Comrade President Drawing on the personal archives of participants Dear Comrade President explains how the purposeful first steps were taken in the making of South Africa's Constitution Why and how did this process happen What were the first written words When and where were they put on paper By whom What values did they espouse And how did the committee's work fit into the broader struggle This book answers these questions in new paradigm shifting ways

Resurgence and Revalorization of Indigenous Knowledge Systems in the Contemporary Society Masenya, Tlou Maggie, Bhuda, Monicca Thulisile, 2025-05-08 Indigenous knowledge is the comprehensive body of knowledge that locals accumulate from life experience unofficial research and close observation of their surroundings within a particular culture It connects the entirety
