Xavier Vila Moreno, Vanessa Bretxa, 2014-12-05

In today s increasingly interconnected knowledge based world language policy in higher education is rapidly becoming a crucial area for all societies aiming to play a part in the global economy The challenge is double faceted how can universities retain their crucial role of creating the intellectual elites who are indispensable for the running of national affairs and at the same time prepare their best educated citizens for competition in a global market To what extent is English really pushing other languages out of the academic environment Drawing on the experience of several medium sized language communities this volume provides the reader with some important insights into how language policies can be successfully implemented The different sociolinguistic contexts under scrutiny offer an invaluable comparative standpoint to understand what position can or could be occupied by each language at the level of higher education Collected Papers. Picture? Claudia Mitchell, Katarina Giritli-Nygren, Relebohile Molestane, 2023-12-18 Positionality and researcher reflexivity how to account for one s subject position remain as challenges for new researchers But they also remain as challenges for experienced researchers who are often involved in multiple research projects simultaneously Where Am I in the Picture sheds light on the idea of researcher positionality through visual methodologies particularly in the context of studying rurality in Canada Sweden and South Africa The book is intended for new and experienced researchers seeking to decolonize their own perspectives in research in the social sciences and humanities It incorporates photographs drawings and memory work to highlight the social constructedness of what counts as rural Drawing together compelling narratives from researchers about their positionality in studying rurality the book highlights a need for greater attention to where we are in the picture more broadly It suggests that when it comes to the rural researchers need to rethink the interplay of dominant images insider and outsider perspectives and what this interplay means in relation to interpretation Where Am I in the Ombudsman Marc Hertogh, Richard Kirkham, 2018-11-30 The public sector ombudsman has become one of the most important administrative justice institutions in many countries around the world This international and interdisciplinary Research Handbook brings together leading scholars and practitioners to discuss the state of the art of ombudsman research It uses new empirical studies and competing theoretical explanations to critically examine important aspects of the ombudsman s work This comprehensive Handbook is of value to academics designing future ombudsman studies and practitioners and policymakers in understanding the future challenges of the ombudsman Doctoral Education in South Africa Nico Cloete, Johann Mouton, 2015-12-08 Worldwide in Africa and in South Africa the importance of the doctorate has increased disproportionately in relation to its share of the overall graduate output over the past decade This heightened attention has not only been concerned with the traditional role of the PhD namely the provision of future academics rather it has focused on the increasingly important role that higher education and particularly high level skills is perceived to play in national development and the knowledge economy This book is unique in the area of research into doctoral studies because it draws on a large number of studies conducted by the Centre of Higher Education Trust CHET and the Centre for Research on Evaluation Science and Technology CREST as well as on studies from the rest of Africa and the world In addition to the historical studies new quantitative and qualitative research was undertaken to produce the evidence base for the analyses presented in the book The findings presented in Doctoral Education in South Africa pose anew at least six tough policy questions that the country has struggled with since 1994 and continues to struggle with if it wishes to gear up the system to meet the target of 5 000 new doctorates a year by 2030 Discourses framed around the single imperatives of growth efficiency transformation or quality will not however generate the kind of policy discourses required to resolve these tough policy questions effectively What is needed is a change in approach that accommodates multiple imperatives and allows for these to be addressed simultaneously

University Pathway Programs: Local Responses within a Growing Global Trend Cintia Inés Agosti,Eva Bernat,2018-06-14 This volume is the first to compile the insights of experienced and informed education researchers and practitioners involved in the delivery of university pathway programs These programs have emerged as effective responses to global national and local students needs when transitioning to Higher Education The book opens with an overview of the main drivers for the development of university pathway programs and a description of the main characteristics of such programs as well as of the different types of programs available It examines topics such as the way in which policy and governance issues at the institutional state and federal level affect university pathway programs financial models compliance and quality assurance mechanisms as well as program provision It also looks at how to address issues related to non traditional background students such as those from lower socioeconomic background students for whom English is an additional language EAL indigenous students mature age students and humanitarian entrants The volume showcases thirteen university pathway programs offered in Australia Canada New Zealand South Africa Qatar and the United Kingdom These examples provide valuable insights that will help guide future practice in the field as the programs described effectively foster and support the development of students academic literacies study skills and awareness of the socio cultural norms that are necessary to participate successfully in higher education settings In reporting the strategies to overcome challenges in the areas of curriculum development and implementation of equity inclusion and participation of cross sector collaboration and of student welfare the volume promotes reflection on these issues and therefore better equips those education practitioners embarking on the university pathway program journey

Sexual Harassment, Law and Human Rights in Africa Ebenezer Durojaye,Satang Nabaneh,Toun Adebajo,2023-07-17 This book delves into the endemic and pervasive issue of sexual harassment in Africa examining it as a gendered expression of power and a gross violation of human rights It explores sexual harassment in various sectors including domestic work academia and the informal economy across a range of African countries The book also highlights the sexual harassment experienced by vulnerable populations such as internally displaced people people with disabilities and women and girls traveling by air With a keen focus on the intersection of law feminism and human rights the book analyzes the role of the courts and national human rights institutions in addressing sexual harassment drawing lessons from other jurisdictions This book is a must read for researchers policymakers and civil society organizations interested in gender power relations and women's rights in Africa and beyond

Biomaterials and Bioactive Molecules to Drive Differentiation in Striated Muscle Tissue Engineering Valentina Di Felice, Giancarlo Forte, Dario Coletti, 2016-05-18 Tissue engineering is an innovative multidisciplinary approach which combines bio materials cells and growth factors with the aim to obtain neo organogenesis to repair or replenish damaged tissues and organs The generation of engineered tissues and organs e.g skin and bladder has entered into the clinical practice in response to the chronic lack of organ donors In particular for the skeletal and cardiac muscles the translational potential of tissue engineering approaches has clearly been shown even though the construction of this tissue lags behind others given the hierarchical highly organized architecture of striated muscles Cardiovascular disease is the leading cause of death in the developed world where the yearly incidence of Acute MI AMI is approx 2 million cases in Europe Recovery from AMI and reperfusion is still less than ideal Stem cell therapy may represent a valid treatment However delivery of stem cells alone to infarcted myocardium provides no structural support while the myocardium heals and the injected stem cells do not properly integrate into the myocardium because they are not subjected to the mechanical forces that are known to drive myocardial cellular physiology On the other hand there are many clinical cases where the loss of skeletal muscle due to a traumatic injury an aggressive tumour or prolonged denervation may be cured by the regeneration of this tissue In vivo stem or progenitor cells are sheltered in a specialized microenvironment niche which regulates their survival proliferation and differentiation The goal of this research topic is to highlight the available knowledge on biomaterials and bioactive molecules or a combination of them which can be used successfully to differentiate stem or progenitor cells into beating cardiomyocytes or organized skeletal muscle in vivo Innovations compared to the on going trials may be 1 the successful delivery of stem cells using sutural scaffolds instead of intracoronary or intramuscular injections 2 protocols to use a limited number of autologous or allogeneic stem cells 3 methods to drive their differentiation by modifying the chemical physical properties of scaffolds or biomaterials incorporating small molecules i.e miRNA or growth factors 4 methods to tailor the scaffolds to the elastic properties of the muscle 5 studies which suggest how to realize scaffolds that optimize tissue functional integration through the combination of the most up to date manufacturing technologies and use of bio polymers with customized degradation properties

San Representation Keyan

Tomaselli, Michael Wessels, 2017-12-22 The San or Bushmen of southern Africa have exerted a fascination over generations of writers and scholars from novelists and anarchists to ethnologists and geneticists and also occupy a special place in the popular imagination as the First People and the contemporary remnant of spiritual and natural man The ways in which particular groups of people from southern Africa have been traditionally categorised and positioned as objects of scrutiny by a range of academic disciplines is increasingly being contested and questioned There is a growing awareness of the cultural economic and genetic entanglement of the peoples of the region This book examines how San and Khoe people are represented by others as well as by those who identify as San or Khoe The book interrogates the ways in which disciplines through their methodologies and ways of authorising knowledge not only discover or reveal knowledge but produce it in ways that involve complex and often ambiguous relationships with power structures and forms of intellectual symbolic and cultural capital One major trend that emerges is that the San and Khoe can no longer be seen as people of the past but have to be acknowledged as contemporary and socially situated individuals and communities who are increasingly contesting the representations which others have imposed on them This book was originally published as a special issue of Critical Arts A Journal of South North Cultural and Media Studies
