Institutional Design and Capacity to Enhance Effective Governance of Oil and Gas Wealth: The Case of Kurdistan Region Khazal Abdullah Auzer, 2017-05-15 This book presents a critical reappraisal of the resource curse thesis and extends the analysis to consider political and social dimensions and thus the importance of structure in the petroleum sector's governance model. It examines major challenges surrounding the governance of petroleum resources and the implications for the economic growth and development of hydrocarbon abundant countries as a result of ineffective economic, political and social mechanisms. The book subsequently investigates a range of causal factors that may promote or hinder the effective management of oil and gas resources in the Kurdistan Region, which also has implications for the security of the wider region and for global energy security. The book also seeks to arrive at lessons learned and policy guidelines to help inform other new petroleum exporting countries and regions about how to best manage their newfound wealth. Trade and Labour Standards Anthony Forsyth, 2018-11-21

Mega regional agreements have recently stirred controversy producing a clash between the founding principles of liberalisation and protectionism giving rise to competence issues between the European Union and its Member States. Although scholarly work has focused for years on the controversial social clause, it is now worth carrying out a detailed legal analysis of the labour standards contained in the mega regional trade agreements adopted and negotiated by the EU and the US. The topic gives rise to much controversy as it is influenced by political convictions and election results. For this reason, it poses one of the most significant challenges to international labour law. Based on these considerations, this book examines the social dimension of three of the most relevant mega regional trade agreements, namely TTP, CETA and TTIP. It is argued that trade liberalisation should be accompanied by progress in the social and labour field. Bossaller, Felton Thomas Jr., 2018-12-18

Put simply, there is no text about public librarianship more rigorous or comprehensive than McCook's survey. Now the REFORMA Lifetime Achievement Award winning author has teamed up with noted public library scholar and advocate Bossaller to update and expand her work to incorporate the field's renewed emphasis on outcomes and transformation. This essential tool, Library Journal remains the definitive handbook on this branch of the profession. It covers every aspect of the public library from its earliest history through its current incarnation on the cutting edge of the information environment, including statistics, standards, planning, evaluations and results, legal issues, funding and politics, organization, administration and staffing, all aspects of library technology from structure and infrastructure to websites and makerspaces, adult services, youth services and children's services, associations, state library agencies and other professional organizations, global perspectives on public libraries and advocacy, outreach and human rights. Exhaustively researched and expansive in its scope, this benchmark text continues to serve both LIS students and working professionals. Elder Law Ann Numhauser-Henning, 2017-02-24
