Community-based Research with Vulnerable Populations

Lesley Wood, 2022-01-01 This book advocates for community based research with vulnerable populations within the field of higher education The chapters outline how research can democratize knowledge generation to make it more accessible and socially relevant and emphasizes the value of the lived and experiential knowledge of vulnerable and marginalized populations Rooted in a critique of the current practices of higher education that fail to support participatory and transformative research the research is structured at micro macro and meso levels to ultimately emancipate colonized thinking of stakeholders about power privilege and participation Focusing primarily on various contexts within the Global South the contributors argue that the time is ripe for community based research which combines the theoretical knowledge of the academy with the local experiential knowledge of those experiencing the consequences of social inequality to co construct knowledge for change

Theology and the (post)apartheid condition Rian Venter, 2016-12-01 Knowledge transmission and generation belong to the core mission of the public university In democratic South Africa the transformation of these processes and practices in higher education has become an urgent and contested task The Faculty of Theology at the University of the Free State has already done some original work on the implications of these for theology One area of investigation that has not yet received due attention concerns the role of theological disciplines and especially the relation between academic disciplines and societal dynamics This research project addresses the challenge and this volume reflects the intellectual endeavour of lectures research fellows and a post graduate student associated with the faculty Each theological discipline has its own history and has already experienced reconstruction both globally and in South Africa Some of these genealogical developments and re envisioning are mapped by the contributions in this volume The critical questions addressed are what are the contours of the post apartheid condition and what are the implications for responsible disciplinary practices in theology The chapters convey an impression of the vitality of theology at the University of the Free State and in South Africa and give expression to fundamental shifts that have taken place in theological disciplines and also of future tasks This research project aims to stimulate reflection on responsible and innovative disciplinary practices of theology in South Africa which we envisage will contribute to social justice and human flourishing

Rian Venter University of the Free State Theology in Transition Katrin Kusmierz, 2016 South African theologians have long been powerful voices in the hard fought political transition from a repressive apartheid regime to a young democracy A key question is What should the public role of churches be in this democracy The simultaneously emerging global discussion on public theology has been one important point of reference offering a number of frameworks for thinking about the churches public role This book considers answers given by South African theologians beginning with an historical review of approaches taken during apartheid and tracing their development in the two decades following

Series Theology in the Public Square Theologie in der Öffentlichkeit Vol 8 Subject Religious Studies African Studies The Dominican Friars in Southern Africa Philippe Denis, 2016-05-18 The purpose of this book is to gather in a single narrative the rather disparate stories of Dominican friars in Southern Africa over the past four centuries Dominicans from Portugal and Portuguese India were present in South East Africa from 1577 to 1835 Patrick Raymond Griffith an Irish Dominican became the first resident bishop in South Africa in 1837 A Dominican mission was established in 1917 with the arrival of a group of English friars A second group arrived from the Netherlands in 1932 The aim is to provide a social history of the Dominicans in Southern Africa that is a history that deals specifically with the social and cultural factors of historical development The Dominicans ministered in a political social and cultural context which impacted on their apostolic activities and in turn was affected by them The book's terminus ad quem is 1990 when the National Party opened a process of political negotiation thus ending more than forty years of apartheid rule

Christian ethics and political economy Morten Bøsterud, Jan C.M. Venter, 2020-12-31 The value free and relativistic human and scientific discourses have led to an era of ideology From fascism at the dawn of the century through liberalism and the associated phenomenon of unfettered statism to the current disillusionment of postmodernism and relativism with endeavours towards new mercantilism All have maintained poverty inequality and created scepticism amongst both lay persons and academics Above all else a renewed yearning for moral and ethical direction in political and economic conduct has been created This book provides a Christian ethical reflection on political economic conduct in South Africa as an alternative to current modernistic ideas This book aims to produce new Christian ethical insight into the value of new liberal perspectives on the enhancement of the South African political economy New Christian ethical insight will be gained through new perspectives on the South African political economy The Economics of Regional Integration Sándor Gyula Nagy, 2025-03-12 This book develops a new methodological framework for measuring the efficiency of regional integration and the integration profile of member states It includes rich case studies which offer a comparative analysis of ten integrations spanning four continents The Americas the European Union Africa and Asia The Economics of Regional Integration shows the importance of regional economic integration in the world economy based partially on descriptive analyses the authors new methodological framework and a new composite index integration profile It implements and quantifies relevant theories e g integration maturity competitiveness economic development convergence to one framework and a composite indicator This helps to arrive at a more precise measurement of these integrations resulting in useful feedback for decision makers and leading to policy recommendations for each organisation to improve efficiency or to include new members The text presents a comparative perspective of regional integration based on case studies by applying the same theoretical framework and a comprehensive methodology for assessing the economic readiness of membership seeking countries while also considering regional differences It investigates the impact of regional integration on income inequality and poverty reduction by examining how common development economic policies and social programs implemented by regional organizations affect the distribution of income and wealth among member states The comprehensive investigation of regional integration covering economic social and institutional factors makes the book highly relevant for advanced students researchers and scholars Additionally its potential policy context application makes it useful for policymakers and practitioners participating in regional integration programs Mountain Tourism Harold Richins, John Hull, 2016-02-19 Mountains have long held an appeal for people around the world This book focusses on the diversity of perspectives interaction and role of tourism within these areas Providing a vital update to the current literature it considers the interdisciplinary context of communities the creation of mountain tourism experiences and the impacts tourism has on these environments Including authors from Europe Asia Pacific and North America the development planning and governance issues are also covered 14th International Conference on Theory and Application of Fuzzy Systems and Soft Computing - ICAFS-2020 Rafik A. Contemporary Philosophical Proposals for the University Aaron Stoller, Eli Kramer, 2018-02-12

This edited collection brings together a robust range of philosophers who offer theoretically and critically informed proposals regarding the aims policies and structures of the university The collection fills a major gap in the landscape of higher education theory and practice while concurrently reviving a long and often forgotten discourse within the discipline of philosophy It includes philosophers from across the globe representing disparate philosophical schools as well as various career stages statuses and standpoints within the university There is also a diversity in method approach and style which varies from personal narratives and case studies to philosophical genealogies to traditional philosophical essays and to systematic theories The collection can serve as a theoretical resource for critically minded administrators and faculty who wish to analyze and change policies and structures at their home institutions It will introduce them to a wide range of possible educational imaginaries as well as provide them with productive suggestions for pragmatic change on campuses

States of exclusion Nicolaas Buitendag, 2023-03-01 The theoretical underpinnings of public international law have taken the sovereign status of the nation state for granted since the beginning of the modern era After centuries of evolution in legal and political thought the state's definition as a bounded territorial unit has been strictly codified The legal development of the nation state was an ideological project informed by extra legal considerations Additionally the ever narrowing scope of the juridical idea of sovereignty functioned as a boundary mechanism instrumental in colonising Africa and other regions While international law claims universal liberalism today the current system based on sovereign nation states represents not social inclusion but fierce and dangerous exclusion The central thesis of this book is that the development of legal sovereignty was rather than part of the modernist progress narrative a historically contingent evolutionary regression While other social systems such as economics and science became globalised politics and law counterintuitively became more territorialised It is argued that the nation state today is not only anachronistic but is dangerously ill equipped for facing international problems such as the climate crisis or global pandemics Finally it also leaves African states and many other formerly colonised territories at a particular disadvantage by regulating their political practices into a predefined mould

A scholarly inquiry into disciplinary practices in educational institutions Connie B. Zulu, Izak J. Oosthuizen, Charl C. Wolhuter, Corene de Wet, Rika Joubert, Ansie E. Kitching, Michael L. Marumo, Zahraa McDonald, Nicholas T. Mollo, Louis J. Oosthuizen, Ferdinand J. Potgieter, Bianke van Rooyen, Marius H. Smit, Amos T. Thebenyane, Andre van der Bijl, Johannes

(Hannes) L. van der Walt, 2019-12-12 This book is a collection of chapters based on original research dealing with issues of discipline and disciplinary practices in educational institutions The aim of the book is to provide a scholarly and scientific perspective on the current state of discipline and disciplinary practices in schools and tertiary education settings The issue of discipline is investigated from diverse paradigmatic and methodological perspectives presenting empirical as well as also philosophical research The empirical perspective includes quantitative positivistic qualitative interpretive and mixed methods pragmatic designs and worldviews This book offers a ground breaking contribution to the field of learner and student discipline with insights into disciplinary practices and issues in educational institutions not hitherto researched such as Technical Vocational Education and Training colleges and universities Positive Psychological Assessments: Modern Approaches, Methodologies, Models and Guidelines Llewellyn Ellardus Van Zyl, Peter ten Klooster, Leon T. de Beer, Mariëlle Zondervan-Zwijnenburg, Maria Vera, Arianna Costantini, 2022-11-08 Compassion: From Neuroscience to New Horizons and Innovative, Inclusive Research Agendas Kathryn Waddington, Julian Manley, Trudi Edginton, Jason Kanov, 2024-01-11 The nature and science of compassion encompasses many aspects of human behavior social and organizational experience with resultant debate about its definition meaning and application Research theorizing and scholarship is spread across a wide range of methodological disciplinary historical and cultural perspectives including psychology sociology psychosocial studies organizational science inter national politics and evolutionary studies Global concerns relating to the climate crisis COVID 19 pandemic and mass movements of displaced people all point to an urgent need for compassion in all human interactions New and innovative interdisciplinary approaches agendas and paradigms are needed to both compliment and critique existing understandings of the meaning and applications of compassion in all its diverse and complex forms In a world where there appears to be increasing demand for simplification and quantification from governments and policy makers questions must be asked about what this means for psychology and social science research The tendency towards post positivist reductionism has led to critiques that universities have become factories that produce sterile derivative unimaginative writing 21st century universities have been described as anxiety machines lacking in compassion and creating more competition and stress than knowledge Arguably research into compassion should take place in compassionate disciplinary and institutional cultures We all have a role to play in addressing the lack of compassion in universities which will involve an institutional level shift from individual level competition to group level collaboration Importantly recent advances in compassion research promise gains in understanding in both the science and neuroscience of human experience and in applications of that work to improve humankind and the world around us Qualitative research in psychology and psychosocial approaches although becoming more visible still remain a minority endeavor within the discipline This Research Topic offers the opportunity to foreground the values and virtues of qualitative psychology alongside more tried and tested approaches The Urban Ecologies of Divided Cities Amira Osman, John Nagle, Sabyasachi

Tripathi,2023-06-12 The book discusses how division affect the fabric of cities and people s sense of identity and agency and are reflected in physical features architecture and urban planning The question of divided cities represents a complex and multistranded urban Ecology at once both social and spatial it cannot be limited to a single science or discipline such as social or spatial fields This suggests integrated and cross disciplinary understandings as well as integrated or parallel approaches and solutions Urban ecologies of division manifest in multiple forms One of their most palpable expressions is conflict with parallels around the world and often with correlations in the spatial fabric Violence in such contexts is often a surface expression of deeper socio economic or ideological differences Whether as a result of intervention by authority or by dissent between groups a divided city inevitably becomes a place of conflict in various forms and intensity eroding the joy of living and sense of collective belonging to the detriment of all In effect it erodes the collective advantage of being part of a more unified society A city exists in collections of social structures which mutually form a society A divided city implies divided social structures and in consequence a divided society The papers compiled in this book present many case studies of divided cities discussing the different causes of divisions and their effects on societies Some of the causes can be linked to conflicts wars colonialism or legislative political systems In response to the serious challenges resulting from these divisions the book aims to provide opportunities for new approaches and possibilities for new interventions and solutions making it significant to urban planners architects and policymakers

Reimagining Legal Pluralism in Africa ,2024-06-03 This collection challenges the prevailing conflict of laws approach to the interaction of state and indigenous legal systems It introduces adaptive legal pluralism as an alternative framework that emphasises dialogue and engagement between these legal systems By exploring a dialogic approach to legal pluralism the authors shed light on how it can effectively address the challenges stemming from the colonial imposition of industrial legal systems on Africa s agrarian political economies
