South Africa's Water Predicament Anja du Plessis, 2023-01-13 The book provides a critical evaluation of South Africa s freshwater resources to illustrate the way in which its freshwater resources water access services and infrastructure have continued to decline over the past three decades The continued decline of water governance management water service delivery dilapidated water infrastructure dysfunctional local governments and overall excessive water degradation is illustrated and emphasized using real life examples and case studies from various contexts within the country The main argument of the book is that South Africa s freshwater resources have declined to such an extent that it can be described as a predicament Questionable water governance decisions and reactive water management practices have led to no improvement and or increased degradation of freshwater resources An overall lack of service delivery exists across the country in various contexts leading to further water and social decline An inter disciplinary evaluation of South Africa s current water predicament is provided major water crises are prioritized and suitable recommendations are given to transform its predicament into problems which can be addressed Suitable background information is given to emphasize the necessity of good water governance management and service delivery South Africa s freshwater resources are evaluated with specific focus on the decline of informed water governance management service delivery and water quality Factors requiring urgent attention are determined and suitable recommendations and or actions are provided An evaluation and overall synthesis focused on the transformation of the predicament into problems is provided Primary water problems are prioritized according to urgency and suitable recommendations are given to assist in transforming the country s current complex water predicament into simpler water problems Political will collaboration with researchers stakeholders non governmental organizations and cooperation of civil society is required South Africa s already scarce freshwater resources and decaying infrastructure will persist and possibly collapse if no major actions or interventions are implemented

Leap 4.0. African Perspectives on the Fourth Industrial Revolution Zamanzima Mazibuko-Makena,Erika Kraemer-Mbula.,2021-04-09 Leap 4 0 African Perspectives on the Fourth Industrial Revolution seeks to identify the challenges and opportunities the 4IR presents to South Africa and the rest of the African continent especially to workers and marginalised sectors of society Authors examine the prerequisites for the successful introduction of the 4IR including infrastructure skilled personnel and appropriate regulation They underline the importance of inclusive innovation with a deliberate objective to create net new jobs and reduce inequality The 4IR is well established in many parts of the world with technological advances driving profound social and economic change However for many developing countries particularly countries in Africa the 4IR may not offer the anticipated leap forward There is a danger that the continent may find itself dictated to by experiences that are not in tune with its social contexts

The case of Sedibeng Municipality Inolofatseng Lekaba,2020-01-08 Essay from the year 2016 in the subject Geography Earth Science Demographics Urban Management Planning grade 80% course Planning Design language English abstract Metropolitising as a deliberate process of creating a metropolitan space from a nonmetropolitan city town or even peri urban space is often viewed as politically driven In the global south metropolitan cities are recipients of significantly larger spending budgets and metropolitan councils can thus wield more political power in the form of monetary power In South Africa the development trajectory of cities stems from political ideologies and policies of the political party with an outright majority In this regard metropolitising or the mere development of any area within the jurisdiction of a municipality is a political process Similarly regionalism is a political process that seeks to wield the most financial power through the amalgamation of different economic powerhouses to form a single economic spatial and political superpower In addition to the current politicising of metropolitan city development historically apartheid spatial planning was a political system of social engineering based on spatial segregation The resultant space economy is that of heterogeneity and unequal benefaction from development processes This spatial differentiation including the complexities pertaining to economic and institutional systems further complicates the process of metropolitising in South African cities In this regard this essay will critique the efforts of Sedibeng District Municipality in its metropolitising bid through examining its proposed scalar economic rescaling plans for the Vaal River City while proposing institutional reforms that could aid its ambitions The second section of this paper will highlight the limitations that hinder smaller cities and towns efforts to becoming metropolitan cities These limitations stem from an unequal space economy that reproduces itself through ineffective policies and neoliberalisation of urban governance structures and systems

Arbitration in the Netherlands, in Particular NAI Arbitration Carmen Schleijpen, Gerard J. Meijer, Carla Klaassen, Thomas de Boer, 2025-04-30 Arbitration in the Netherlands in particular NAI arbitration offers both Dutch speaking and non Dutch speaking interested parties much information on Dutch arbitration law and practice and in particular on arbitration at the Netherlands Arbitration Institute NAI The publication is in line with the NAI Arbitration Rules revised in 2024 as well as recent HR case law on the meaning of a mediation clause Forging Solidarity Astrid von Kotze, Shirley Walters, 2017-04-13 Animating this book is a twofold question In what ways are adult and popular educators responding to various harsh economic political cultural and environmental conditions In doing so are they planting seeds of hope for and imaginings of alternative futures which can connect individuals and communities locally and globally to achieve economic ecological and social justice The book illustrates how transformative politics of solidarity often involve actors across vastly different backgrounds Solidarity is therefore a political relationship that is forged through particular struggles situated in place and time across power differentials The authors put popular education to work by describing and analysing their strategies and approaches They do so using accessible language and engaging styles Popular education is a medium for dreaming for imagining other futures It is also essential for countering the wilful spreading of fake news and propagation of ignorance Pedagogies of solidarity are necessary to building connections amongst people at a time when competitive individualism and alienation are rampant Forging solidarity with and amongst communities is a means towards that end and indeed an end in itself Corporate mines and agribusiness poison the water we drink the air we breathe and the food we eat Together with their political proxies they destroy the earth and her peoples too many are killed because of their military economic religious and information wars How do we stand up for ourselves and the earth that nourishes us against this global system Forging Solidarity shares inspiring stories that feed our deep connection and power Pregs Govender Author of Love and Courage A Story of Insubordination Forging Solidarity is a critical and timely collective intervention that ponders prods pokes and plays in the most generative ways In so doing it invites us to continue deepening our engagements with questions of responsibility and justice in relation to education everywhere Richa Nagar author of Muddying the Waters Co authoring Feminisms across Scholarship and Activism This book inspires people to realize that not fighting against socio economic injustices is to side with oppressors Ntombi Nyathi Programme Director of Training for Transformation
