Teaching Literature to Adolescents Alan B. Howes, 1972

Teaching Literature to Adolescents Richard Beach, Deborah Appleman, Bob Fecho, Rob Simon, 2011-03-04 Designed to introduce prospective English teachers to current methods of teaching literature in middle and high school classrooms this popular textbook explores a variety of innovative approaches that incorporate reading writing drama talk and media production Each chapter is organized around specific questions that English educators often hear in working with preservice teachers The text engages readers in considering the dilemmas and issues facing literature teachers through inquiry based responses to authentic case narratives A Companion Website <http://teachingliterature.pbworks.com> provides resources and enrichment activities inviting teachers to consider important issues in the context of their own current or future classrooms New in the second edition more attention to the use of digital texts from use of online literature to digital storytelling to uses of online discussion and writing tools incorporated throughout new chapter on teaching young adult literature new chapter on teaching reading strategies essential to interpreting literature more references to examples of teaching multicultural literature Teachers' Voices Freema Elbaz Luwisch, 2006-04-01 This book draws on ideas about the nature of teaching and teacher knowledge teacher development and school reform and narrative as methodology for understanding the lives and work of teachers These ideas have been elaborated over the past 20 years or so by many researchers who see storytelling as the interactive process which constitutes the site of the production of teachers knowledge Narrative research makes it possible to pay attention to the wider concerns that shape the work of teaching looking at the whole lives of teachers and other educational practitioners and exploring those lives as embedded in multiple contexts Listening to teachers speak about whatever most concerns them in their work it is not surprising that we hear a wide range of different voices not only from different teachers but within the speech of any one teacher The purpose of this book is to reflect back to the field a multidimensional multivoiced portrayal of teaching as it is bringing our attention to both the complexity and the possibility inherent in the work of teachers Approaching teaching in this way as multivoiced allows us to hear possibilities for change and development in the stories of teachers and classrooms

Culturally Informed Literacy Instruction in the Elementary Classroom Priscilla L. Griffith, Jiening Ruan, 2023-05-25 This text introduces an original scalable instructional framework called Telling Our Stories TOS an approach for supporting culturally informed literacy instruction in the elementary classroom Connecting the theory to practice the TOS framework centers the cultural heritage and experiences of students and offers a roadmap to scientifically and pedagogically sound instruction Aligned with current curriculum standards chapters feature authentic examples and case studies reflection questions and writing activities that will foster a culture of inclusion community and academic rigor The many practical strategies promote students learning and appreciation of diversity through academic reading and writing as well as positive school family and school community relations Readers will come away with new ideas tools and a thorough understanding of how to integrate culturally informed practices in ways that support the learning of all children Accessible and comprehensive this is an essential text for pre service teachers in courses on ELA methods and literacy instruction as well as practicing teachers Autobiographical Writing and Identity in EFL Education Shizhou Yang, 2013-09-11 The book explores the pedagogical potential of autobiographical writing in English as a foreign language approaching the topic from an educational longitudinal dialogical and social perspective Through a number of case studies the author delineates four phases that EFL writers may experience in their identity construction processes illustrating the complexity of EFL writers social identities This book will provide a valuable resource for language teachers and researchers interested in the pedagogical applications of autobiographical writing Resources in Education ,2001-10 Indian Writing in English Mr. Rohit
