Graham Swift's "Waterland" David Malcolm, 1994 Narrative Fiction and History in Graham Swift's "Waterland" Roger Grünblatt, 1990 The End of the End of History: Graham Swift's Waterland John Schad, 1992 Graham Swift's "Waterland" Brigitte Brun, 1991 An Analysis of Graham Swift's Waterland Kovács Zsuzsanna, 1996 Allegories of Telling Lynn Wells, 2021-11-22 Allegories of Telling Self-Referential Narrative in Contemporary British Fiction has as its founding premise Ross Chambers's notion that one of the important powers of fiction is its power to theorize the act of storytelling in and through the act of storytelling In this critical study Lynn Wells presents detailed readings of novels by five prominent British authors John Fowles Angela Carter Graham Swift A S Byatt and Salman Rushdie with an emphasis on how the texts self referential aspects illuminate the acts of reading and writing fiction in contemporary Britain and by extension around the world The book begins by situating contemporary British fiction historically as the product of an aesthetics of compromise arising from the realism versus experimentalism debate that consumed the English literary establishment during the 1960s In her discussion of the texts Lynn Wells then draws on a wide range of theoretical approaches from narrative and psychoanalytic theory to existentialist philosophy and the historiographic ideas of thinkers such as Walter Benjamin Michel Foucault and Giambattista Vico These original readings challenge superficial postmodern interpretations of contemporary British fiction as pessimistically anti historical and reassert the value of readerly engagement and narrative reconstruction of the past Magical Realism Lois Parkinson Zamora, Wendy B. Faris, 1995 On magical realism in literature The Green Studies Reader Laurence Coupe, 2000 Laurence Coupe brings together a collection of extracts from a wide range of both historical and contemporary ecocritical texts The Sequential Dynamics of Narrative Ken Ireland, 2001 Building on critical theories of narrative this study analyses temporal and continuity relations in fiction Waterland Graham Swift, 2014-12-15 With an introduction by John Burnside Shortlisted for the 1983 Booker prize winner of the Guardian Fiction Prize Children only animals live entirely in the Here and Now Only nature knows neither memory nor history But man let me offer you a definition is the story telling animal Tom Crick is a passionate teacher but before he is forced into retirement by scandal he has one last history lesson to deliver his own Spanning more than 200 years in the lives of its haunted narrator and his ancestors Waterland is a visionary tale of England s mysterious Fen country Taking in eels and incest ale making and madness the discovery of a body and a tragic family romance this is an extraordinary novel about the heartless sweep of history and man s changing place within it In the years since its first publication in 1983 Graham Swift s Waterland has established itself as a much loved classic of twentieth century British literature It was shortlisted for the Booker prize won the Guardian Fiction Prize and has been adapted into a film starring Jeremy Irons and Ethan Hawke Beyond Postmodernism Klaus Stierstorfer, 2012-05-02 After the veritable hype concerning postmodernism in the 1980s and early 1990s when questions about when it began what it means and which texts it comprises were apt to trigger heated discussions the excitement has notably cooled down at the turn of the century Voices are now beginning to be heard which seem to suggest a new episteme in the making which points beyond postmodernism while it remains at the same time very uncertain whether what appears as newness is not rather a return to traditional concepts theoretical premises and authorial practices Contributors to this volume propose to explore new openings and recent developments in anglophone literatures and cultural theories which engage with issues seen to be central in the construction of a postmodern paradigm but deal with them in ways that promise new openings or a new Zeitgeist History and Storytelling in Graham Swift's Waterland Andrew Colcord Curtis, 1992 Signs of Masculinity , 2023-12-14 Masculinity is becoming an increasingly popular area of study in areas as diverse as sociology politics and cultural studies yet significant research is lacking into connections between masculinity and literature Signs of Masculinity aims at beginning to fill the gap Starting with an introduction to and intervention within numerous debates concerning the cultural construction of various masculinities the volume then continues with an investigation of representations of masculinity in literature from 1700 to the present Close readings of texts are intended to demonstrate that masculinity is not a theoretical abstract but a definitive textual and cultural phenomenon that needs to be recognised in the study of literature It is hoped that the wide ranging essays which raise numerous issues and are written from a variety of methodological approaches will appeal to undergraduate postgraduates and lecturers interest in the crucial but under researched area of masculinity "The Waters Return" Laura Schrock,2008 The following chapter will engage Waterland in isolation from Swift s other novels and collection of short stories not because these texts do not mutually illuminate one another but because Waterland deserves a treatment of the kind of depth that warrants an extended concentrated study That chapter seeks specifically to counter several of the blatant misreadings of the narrator s posture and intent within the novel and to adequately evaluate that posture and intent as they emerge within the full context of the wealth of literary devices Swift employs including irony mythical imagery and scriptural allusion The mythical images and allusions that are touched upon by other critics comprise here the central study close reading biblical hermeneutics and specific strains of French feminism will interact to allow for a reengagement of Waterland beyond the exhausted circular terms of deconstructive relativism ENGLISH YCT EXPERT TEAM,2019-05-03 NTA UGC NET JRF CHAPTER WISE SOLVED PAPERS WITH NOTES History Made, History Imagined David Walter Price,1999 In this provocative and original study David Price investigates history as a form of poesis the act of making in language and suggests that certain novels can provide the best means of engaging in historical interpretation Contending that the fundamental act of narration itself including the narration of history expresses a system of values Price explores the work of seven contemporary novelists who share a commitment to reexamining history as idea and a refusal to accept history as given Within a theoretical framework based on Friedrich Nietzsche and Giambattista Vico Price investigates how these writers Carlos Fuentes Susan Daitch Salman Rushdie Michel Tournier Ishmael Reed Graham Swift and Mario Vargas Llosa create a discursive space between history and literature a space within which history can be questioned and the making of history explored Through their novels these writers replace the univocal expression of history as a description of what really happened with a polyvocality of competing discourses languages and points of view Price s investigation of three modalities of the poietic novel the history of forgotten possibilities the construction of countermemory and cultural critique and history as myth has far reaching implications for how we read and question the narratives we understand as history By treating the past as a dynamic flow of values rather than a fixed collection of facts History Made History Imagined fosters a deeper understanding not only of literature and philosophy but also of history and our relationship to it
