trader the Mountie the missionary the miner the cowboy the politician the Chief Unsettled Past: Reconceiving the West claims to re-examine the West through women's eyes. It draws together contributions from researchers, scholars, and academic and community activists and seeks to create dialogue across geographic, cultural, and disciplinary boundaries. Ranging from scholarly essays to poetry, these pieces offer the reader a sample of some of today's most innovative approaches to western Canadian women's history. Several of the themes that run throughout the volume have only recently been critically addressed. By rewriting the West from the perspective of women, the contributors complicate traditional narratives of the region's past by contesting historical generalizations, thus transcending the myths and frontier legacies that emerged out of imperial and masculine priorities and perspectives.

Judaism Dan Cohn-Sherbok, 2003-09-02. Written by an experienced university teacher who is also a scholar and rabbi, this extensive textbook presents an unrivalled guide to the history, belief, and practice of Judaism. Beginning with the ancient Near Eastern background, it covers early Israelite history, the emergence of classical rabbinic literature, and the rise of medieval Judaism in Islamic and Christian lands. It also explores the early modern period and the development of Jewry throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Extracts from primary sources are used to enliven the narrative and provide concrete examples of Jewish civilization. Judaism introduces texts and commentaries including the Hebrew Bible, rabbinic texts, mystical literature, Jewish philosophy, and Jewish theology. It provides the skills necessary to understand these step by step, explains how to interpret the major events in nearly 4,000 years of Jewish history, supports study with discussion questions on the central historical and religious issues, includes key reading for each chapter, and an extensive bibliography. It illustrates the development of Judaism, its concepts, and observances with nearly 200 maps and photographs. A companion website links each chapter to other online resources and gives guidance on activities and support for teachers.

Love and Ordinary Things Marcy Goldman, 2014. Going with the Grain Susan Seligson, 2013-12-17. My lifelong love affair with bread has less to do with crust, crumb, and the vagaries of sourdough cultures and more to do with bread as a reflection of people's varied beliefs, daily lives, and blood memories. Bread tells the most essential human stories. So begins Susan Seligson's personal and often humorous journey to discover the secrets of the baker's trade and the place bread has in the lives of those who consume it. Part travelogue, part cultural history, with a handful of recipes thrown in for good measure, it is an exploration of the customs, traditions, and rituals around the creating and eating of this most basic and enduring form of sustenance. Bread is the stuff of life. Governments have been overthrown and religious rituals created because of it. Fry bread, matzo, kasha, nan, baguette, all are as resonant of their specific culture as any artifact. In Going with the Grain, Seligson wanders the streets of the Casbah in Fes, Morocco, to unlock the secrets of the thousand-year-old communal bakeries there. In Saratoga Springs,

New York she finds a bread maker so committed to making the ultimate loaf he built a unique sixty ton hearth and uses only certified biodynamically grown wheat Seligson knelt in the Jordanian desert beside a woman turning flat breads over glowing embers and plumbed the mysteries of Wonder Bread in an aseptic American factory As satisfying as a slice of good bread with butter Going with the Grain is for the armchair traveler and armchair baker alike Gastronomic Judaism as
