Amphoras And The Wine Trade Agora Picture :

Amphoras and the Ancient Wine Trade Virginia Grace,1979 Although this booklet is based on broken pottery found during the excavation of the Agora the author ranges far beyond the confines of Athens in her discussion of the purpose and significance of different amphora types Amphoras were used in the ancient world to transport various different types of products including wine and oil The author shows how chronological variations in shape and the geographical clues offered by stamped handles make amphoras a fascinating source of economic information The booklet illustrates many different forms of amphora all set into context by the well written text Amphoras and the Ancient Wine Trade ,1975

Excavations of the Athenian Agora ,1964 Amphoras and the Ancient Wine Trade American School of Classical Studies at Athens,1961 Karia and the Dodekanese Birte Poulsen,Poul Pedersen,John Lund,2021-01-21 Karia and the Dodekanese Vol II presents new research that highlights cultural interrelations and connectivity in the Southeast Aegean and western Asia Minor over a period of more than 700 years Throughout antiquity this region was a dynamic meeting place for eastern and western civilizations Modern geographical limitations have been influential on both archaeological investigations and how we approach cultural relations in the region Comprehensive and valuable research has been carried out on many individual sites in Karia and the Dodekanese but the results have rarely been brought together in an attempt to paint a larger picture of the culture of this region In antiquity the sea did not constitute an obstacle to interaction between societies and cultures but was an effective means of communication for the exchange of goods sculptural styles architectural form and embellishment education and ideas It is clear that close relations existed between the Dodekanese and western Asia Minor during the Classical period Vol I but these relations were evidently further strengthened under the shifting political influences of the Hellenistic kings the Roman Empire and the cosmopolitan late antique period The contributions in this volume comprise investigations on urbanism architectural form and embellishment sculpture pottery and epigraphy The Athenian Agora John McK. Camp,2003 The revised version of this popular site guide provides a brief account of the history of the Athenian agora and its principal monuments and now features numerous colour illustrations Miniature Sculpture from the Athenian Agora Dorothy Burr Thompson,1959 Small sculptured figures of humans and animals have been found all over the Agora ranging in date from the earliest occupation of Athens to the end of the Late Roman period This booklet presents a representative sample of these carvings ranging from elegant ivory figures of Apollo to small toy horses recovered from children s graves Marbleworkers in the Athenian Agora Carol L. Lawton,2006 The 5th century B C poet Pindar remarked on the rich sculptural decoration of the Athenian Agora and indeed over 3 500 pieces of various types of sculpture have been uncovered during its excavation This full color guide sheds new light on the marble industry in and around the Agora including rich evidence for sculptors workshops their tools and techniques The text discusses the works of both famous and anonymous artists Women in the Athenian Agora Susan I. Rotroff,Robert Lamberton,2006 Using evidence from the Athenian Agora the authors show how objects discovered during excavations provide a vivid picture of women's lives. The book is structured according to the social roles women played as owners of property, companions in and outside of marriage, participants in ritual, craftspeople, producers and consumers. A final section moves from the ancient world to the modern, discussing the role of women as archaeologists in the early years of the Agora excavations.

The Athenian Agora John McK. Camp II, Craig Mauzy, 2010-02-28 This definitive guide to the archaeological remains in the civic and commercial center of ancient Athens is an essential companion to the interested visitor as well as to students of the topography of the classical city. A large scale map provides an overview of the site keyed to descriptions and plans of every monument still visible from the majestic Temple of Hephaistos to the utilitarian Great Drain. The fifth edition retains many of the elements that made the earlier editions so popular but also takes full account of new discoveries and recent scholarship. It is intended for visitors touring the site and is arranged topographically, monument by monument. Also included are an overview of the historical development of the site and a history of the excavations. A companion guide to the Agora Museum in the Stoa of Attalos is also available.

The Athenian Agora Museum Guide by Laura Gawlinski 2014

Trade, Traders and the Ancient City Helen Parkins, Christopher Smith, 2005-06-20 Trade exchange and commerce touched the lives of everyone in antiquity, especially those who lived in urban areas. Trade, Traders and the Ancient City addresses the nature of exchange and commerce and the effects it had in cities throughout the ancient world from the Bronze Age Near East to late Roman northern Italy. Trade, Traders and the Ancient City employs the most recent archaeological, papyrological, epigraphic and literary evidence to present an innovative and timely analysis of the importance and influence of trade in the ancient world.

Lamps from the Athenian Agora Judith Perlzweig, American School of Classical Studies at Athens, 1963 At night the darkness of the ancient Agora would have been pierced by the lights of oil lamps and thousands of fragments of these distinctive objects have been found. This booklet presents the development of different styles of lamps and includes a very useful identification guide. The author discusses the manufacture of lamps in Athens, a major industry with over 50 known workshops in the 3rd and 4th centuries A.D. She also provides illustrations of particularly fine examples including ornate festival lamps with many nozzles and bizarre shapes.

Early Burials from the Agora Cemeteries Sara Anderson Immerwahr, American School of Classical Studies at Athens, 1973 Before the creation of the Agora as a civic center in the 7th century B.C. the region northwest of the Acropolis was a vast cemetery. Over 150 ancient burial places have been found by excavators and a few of the more remarkable are described here. These range from a wealthy Mycenaean chamber tomb filled with the vases and jewelry of a rich noblewoman to the poignant pithos burial of an infant from around 725 B.C. accompanied by eight tiny vases. As well as describing the assemblages found, the author discusses the symbolism of funeral rites and the information about social status and identity that burials reveal.

The Art of Vase-Painting in Classical Athens Martin Robertson, 1992 In his new book Professor Martin Robertson, author of A History of Greek Art CUP 1975 and A Shorter History of Greek Art CUP 1981 draws together the results of a lifetime's study of Greek vase painting tracing the history of figure drawing on Athenian pottery from the invention of the red figure technique in the later archaic period to the abandonment of figured vase decoration two hundred years later. The book covers red figure and also work produced over the same period in the same workshops in black figure and other techniques especially that of drawing in outline on a white ground. The book is intended as a companion volume to Sir John Beazley's The Development of Attic Black figure originally published in 1951 by California University Press and as an examination and defence of Beazley's methods and achievements. This book is a major contribution to the history of Greek vase painting and anyone seriously interested in the subject whether scholar, student, curator, collector or amateur will find it essential reading.

Pergamon and the Hellenistic Kingdoms of the Ancient World Carlos A. Picón, Seán Hemingway, 2016-04-18. The Hellenistic period, the nearly three centuries between the death of Alexander the Great in 323 B.C. and the suicide of the Egyptian queen Cleopatra VII the famous Cleopatra in 30 B.C. is one of the most complex and exciting epochs of ancient Greek art. The unprecedented geographic sweep of Alexander's conquests changed the face of the ancient world forever, forging diverse cultural connections and exposing Greek artists to a host of new influences and artistic styles. This beautifully illustrated volume examines the rich diversity of art forms that arose through the patronage of the royal courts of the Hellenistic kingdoms, placing special emphasis on Pergamon, capital of the Attalid dynasty which ruled over large parts of Asia Minor. With its long history of German-led excavations, Pergamon provides a superb paradigm of a Hellenistic capital, appointed with important civic institutions: a great library, theater, gymnasium, temples, and healing center that we recognize today as central features of modern urban life. The military triumphs of Alexander and his successors led to the expansion of Greek culture out from the traditional Greek heartland to the Indus River Valley in the east and as far west as the Strait of Gibraltar. These newly established Hellenistic kingdoms concentrated wealth and power, resulting in an unparalleled burst of creativity in all the arts, from architecture and sculpture to seal engraving and glass production. Pergamon and the Hellenistic Kingdoms of the Ancient World brings together the insights of a team of internationally renowned scholars who reveal how the art of Classical Greece was transformed during this period, melding with predominantly Eastern cultural traditions to yield new standards and conventions in taste and style.

The Stoa of Attalos II in Athens Homer A. Thompson, 1992. Named after its donor, the King of Pergamon, the Stoa of Attalos was originally built around 150 B.C. Between 1953 and 1956, this long, columned marble building was rebuilt by the American School of Classical Studies to store and display finds from the Agora excavations. Using original materials and techniques, the modern builders learned much about the construction and purpose of the stoa, a ubiquitous classical building type. This heavily illustrated account presents some of their findings.

The Athenian Citizen Mabel L. Lang, 2004. Using archaeological evidence from excavations at the heart of ancient Athens, this volume shows how tribal identity was central to all aspects of civic life, guiding the reader through the duties of citizenship as soldier in times of war and as juror during the peace The Ancient Theatre at Kalydon in Aitolia Rune Frederiksen, Olympia Vikatou, 2023-08-24 The theatre at Kalydon in Aitolia known only since a few decades has already attracted a lot of attention due to its square orchestra and rectilinear benches for seating The Danish Greek collaborative project responsible for investigating the theatre presents in this two volume publication results of the excavation and documentation including all finds such as tile pottery metals and coins made during the excavations The traditional analysis of the building is supplemented by an archaeoacoustic analysis comparing acoustic advantages and disadvantages between the square and semicircular design Tel Anafa II: The plain wares Sharon Herbert, 1997 The Art of Antiquity John K. Papadopoulos, Piet De Jong, 2007 The archives of the American School excavations in the Athenian Agora contain a remarkable series of watercolors and drawings well over 400 by Piet de Jong one of the best known most distinctive and influential archaeological illustrators of the 20th century They show landscapes people and above all objects recovered during many seasons of fieldwork at one of the longest continuously running archaeological projects in Greece This volume brings these illustrations out of the storage drawers and assembles in color a representative sample of some of the finest of Piet de Jong s contributions Along the way the book tells the story of the Agora excavations and assesses their contribution to scholarship It includes essays by 15 scholars currently working at the Agora and surveys the entire span of the material they are studying from Neolithic pottery to the Late Byzantine and post Byzantine frescoes from the Church of Ayios Spyridon
