Clearing the Plains James William Daschuk, 2013 In arresting but harrowing prose James Daschuk examines the roles that Old World diseases climate and most disturbingly Canadian politics the politics of ethnocide played in the deaths and subjugation of thousands of aboriginal people in the realization of Sir John A Macdonald's National Dream It was a dream that came at great expense the present disparity in health and economic well being between First Nations and non Native populations and the lingering racism and misunderstanding that permeates the national consciousness to this day Clearing the Plains is a tour de force that dismantles and destroys the view that Canada has a special claim to humanity in its treatment of indigenous peoples Daschuk shows how infectious disease and state supported starvation combined to create a creeping relentless catastrophe that persists to the present day The prose is gripping the analysis is incisive and the narrative is so chilling that it leaves its reader stunned and disturbed For days after reading it I was unable to shake a profound sense of sorrow This is fearless evidence driven history at its finest Elizabeth A Fenn author of Pox Americana Required reading for all Canadians Candace Savage author of A Geography of Blood Clearly written deeply researched and properly contextualized history Essential reading for everyone interested in the history of indigenous North America J R McNeill author of Mosquito Empires

Muskegowuck Athinuwick Victor P. Lytwyn, 2002-03-06 The original people of the Hudson Bay lowlands often known as the Lowland Cree and known to themselves as Muskegowuck Athinuwick were among the first Aboriginal peoples in northwestern North America to come into contact with Europeans Muskegowuck Athinuwick challenges long held misconceptions about the Lowland Cree and illustrates how historians have often misunderstood the role and resourcefulness of Aboriginal peoples during the fur trade era Although their own oral histories tell that the Lowland Cree have lived in the region for thousands of years many historians have portrayed the Lowland Cree as relative newcomers who were dependent on the Hudson s Bay Company fur traders by the 1700s In Muskegowuck Athinuwick historical geographer Victor Lytwyn shows instead that the Lowland Cree had a well established traditional society that far from being dependent on Europeans was instrumental in the survival of traders throughout the network of HBC forts during the 18th and 19th centuries
