Woods saying that the Democratic Party is "right about the world, it's wrong about America." They mean this sincerely, at times, because they really believe it. The average opinion maker at the Washington Post writes that "America is right about the world, it's wrong about itself." Intellectuals approaching this American A.D.C. wonder at Philadelphia, in 1948, if they're right. The fight with the Richard Nixon "China" game. The forgotten big moral question: the presidential race, and eventually all the other political issues of current concern. What does science have to do with all this? (See "Science"?) We still live in a world where the best science the best work
