Guide to Characters in Fiction 2007, 2008-02 Film Noir Bruce Crowther, 2011-12-31 With the advent of the Second World War a new mood was discernible in film drama an atmosphere of disillusion and a sense of foreboding a dark quality that derived as much from the characters depicted as from the cinematographer's art These films among them such classics as Double Indemnity The Woman in the Window Touch of Evil and sunset Boulevard emerged retrospectively as a genre in themselves when a French film critic referred to them collectively as film noir Bruce Crowther looks into noir's literary origins often in the novels of the so-called hard-boiled school typified by Raymond Chandler Dashiell Hammett and Cornell Woolrich and at how the material translated to the screen noting in particular influences from German expressionist films and the almost indispensable techniques of flashback and voice-over narration He also assesses the contribution made by the players by actors such as Robert Mitchum Dick Powell Alan Ladd and John Garfield and actresses such as Barbara Stanwyck Elizabeth Scott Joan Crawford and Gloria Grahame together with a roll call of supporting players whose screen presence could lend almost any film the noir imprimatur Noir was in its heyday from 1945 to 1955 a time when paranoia and disillusion anxiety and violence could be said to have been part of the fabric of American and particularly Hollywood society yet its impact and its influence are with us still in films as diverse as The French Connection Chinatown and Body Heat This Book commemorates a special period in film making and a unique combination of talent resulting in a spectrum of films that are as welcome today on their small screen airings as they were when first shown in cinema Fast Lane Dave
