Kokoszka,2023-08-25 T D Kokoszka grew up in Texas with a Jewish mother and a Polish American father While he was aware of roots going back to Eastern Europe from both families he found it hard to learn very much about them He knew that Polish people would whack one another with palm leaves around Easter and he knew that his great grandmother purportedly believed in forest spirits known as borowy However it wasn t until he was in his teens that he became vaguely aware of an ancient people known as the Slavs who gave rise to the Polish Ukrainian Russian Serbian Bulgarian Slovakian Slovene and Czech languages It quickly became clear to him that this was a family of cultures currently under represented in popular culture and even in western scholarship Not simply a regurgitation of scholarship from the Soviet period and presenting new analyses by using previously neglected resources Bogowie A Study of Eastern Europe s Ancient Gods offers one of the most painstaking scholarly reconstructions of Slavic paganism These new resources include not only an overview of folklore from many different Slavic countries but also comparisons with Ossetian culture and Mordvin culture as well as a series of Slavic folktales that Kokoszka analyzes in depth often making the case that the narratives involved are mythological and shockingly ancient Readers will recognize many European folktale types and possibly learn to look at these folktales differently after reading this book      Cargo Cults and Millenarian Movements G. Herrick, 2008-01-01 What does science have to do with science fiction What does science fiction have to do with scientists What does religion have to do with science and science fiction In the spiritual vacuum of our post Christian West new mythologies continually arise The sources of much religious speculation however may be surprising Author James Herrick directs our attention to a wide range of scientists filmmakers science fiction writers and religious philosophers and discovers there the role that science and science fiction have played in such mythmaking From scientists such as Francis Bacon Francis Crick Carl Sagan and Freeman Dyson to filmmakers such as George Lucas and Steven Spielberg to science fiction writers such as Olaf Stapledon Sir Arthur C Clarke Robert Heinlein and Isaac Asimov Herrick finds a curious collusion of science with science fiction for promoting and justifying alternative spiritualities The rise of these new mythologies he argues is no longer a curiosity at the edge of Western culture This alchemy is catalyzing a religious vision of new gods a new humanity and alien races with superior intelligence and secret knowledge This new mythology overshadows the realms of politics science and religion Should we follow such visions Does science endorse these mythologies Are we being offered a spirituality superior to the Judeo Christian tradition This book will help you decide
