Decolonization of e-Government Research and Practice Kelvin J. Bwalya, 2018-12-01 With the rapid increase in the implementation of e Government in Africa and across the world the need to investigate the key bottlenecks issues caused by the failure of a large number of e Government projects cannot be ignored The main purpose of this book is to contribute to the current scholarly and intellectual discourse on different aspects of e Government such as understanding the critical issues in design implementation and monitoring This book specifically intends to bring out contextual issues that hugely impact on the probability for e Government failure or success It also differentiates itself by carefully exploring the issue of context awareness informed by the local context for e Government design and implementation which has not been pursued in any publication in e Government before although it has been used in other information computational contexts Therefore the many theses within this book are concerned with e Government design approaches implementation policies and requirements and monitoring dimensions need to be informed by the contextual characteristics in which they are implemented This book contributes to the body of knowledge by presenting an in depth analysis of a case of e Government implementation Therefore this book has its facts backed by intermittent reference to an empirical study done in Zambia to accentuate issues in design adoption usage and monitoring of e Government projects The case articulates the methodological issues in the design and measurement of e Government The use of a combination of structural equation modelling SEM exploratory factor analysis EFA and advanced techniques such as principal component analysis PCA in investigating different aspects of e Government in a developing country context has not been done in any previous research The novel methodological nuances articulated in this book can go a long way toward understanding the factors explaining successful implementation of e Government Previous publications have used basic statistical approaches devoid of adequate scientific or statistical rigour such as descriptive statistics to arrive at factors influencing the success or failure of e Government Furthermore this book contributes to the body of knowledge by emphasising the different dimensions and issues of the multidimensional perspectives of e Government The book explores tangible pointers for design and implementation of e Government giving it the thrust to potentially guide actual implementation of e Government in African setups Brunei Darussalam ,1985-10 Asian Leadership in Policy and Governance Evan Berman,M. Shamsul Haque,2015-09-03 Asian Leadership in Policy and Governance examines contemporary challenges facing public leaders in Asia providing insight into leadership processes and contexts past practices affecting effective governance and policy leadership Successfully Negotiating in Asia Kim Cheng Patrick Low,2020-09-28 Successful negotiation requires understanding your counterpart s culture their feelings habits and values When planning to do business with suppliers and other partners in Asia thorough preparation is essential in order to avoid misunderstandings confrontations and disappointments and to ensure the mutually desired success This book offers a comprehensive guide to communication argumentation and negotiation by demonstrating success pathways with a focus on specific types of negotiator or negotiation partner from the different regions of the Asian continent Readers will learn to negotiate the Chinese the Indian and the Japanese way and come to understand how Asians approach negotiations Written by a truly international author both academic and practitioner with extensive experience in both Eastern and Western cultures this book offers a valuable resource for anyone who relies on successfully negotiating with Asian partners
