The Pale Blue Eye Louis Bayard, 2006 Thriller      The Pale Blue Eye Louis Bayard, 2023-03-30 At West Point Academy in 1830 the calm of an October evening is shattered by the discovery of a young cadet's body swinging from a rope just off the parade grounds. An apparent suicide is not unheard of in a harsh regimen like West Point's, but the next morning an even greater horror comes to light. Someone has stolen into the room where the body lay and removed the heart. At a loss for answers and desperate to avoid any negative publicity, the Academy calls on the services of a local civilian, Augustus Landor, a former police detective who acquired some renown during his years in New York City before retiring to the Hudson Highlands for his health. Now a widower and restless in his seclusion, Landor agrees to take on the case. As he questions the dead man's acquaintances, he finds an eager assistant in a moody, intriguing young cadet with a penchant for drinking two volumes of poetry to his name and a murky past that changes from telling to telling. The cadet's name, Edgar Allan Poe. Impressed with Poe's astute powers of observation, Landor is convinced that the poet may prove useful if he can stay sober long enough to put his keen reasoning skills to the task. Working in close contact, the two men, separated by years but alike in intelligence, develop a surprisingly deep rapport as their investigation takes them into a hidden world of secret societies, ritual sacrifices, and more bodies. Soon, however, the macabre murders and Landor's own buried secrets threaten to tear the two men and their newly formed friendship apart. A rich tapestry of fine prose and intricately detailed characters, The Pale Blue Eye transports readers into a labyrinth of the unknown that will leave them guessing until the very end.      I delitti di West Point. The Pale Blue Eye Louis Bayard, 2023-01-05T00:00:00+01:00 1830 Accademia militare di West Point la calma di una sera di ottobre viene sconvolta dal ritrovamento del corpo di un giovane cadetto appeso a una corda. La mattina dopo arriva la scoperta di un dettaglio ancora più macabro: qualcuno ha prelevato il cuore dal cadavere. Augustus Landor, che ha acquisito una certa fama durante i suoi anni come detective nella polizia di New York, viene chiamato per indagare in segreto un caso sconcertante che Landor deve risolvere al più presto e con la massima discrezione, perché uno scandalo potrebbe compromettere la reputazione della neonata accademia destinata a diventare una delle più prestigiose istituzioni americane. L'investigatore trova un alleato inaspettato per seguire le tracce dell'assassino: un giovane cadetto lunatico con un debole per l'alcol e un passato oscuro pieno di leggende per il quale prova subito un affetto paterno. Quello strano e tormentato ragazzo del Sud, appassionato di poesia, ha un nome destinato a un grande successo: Edgar Allan Poe.      Lizard Tales Bayard H. retell and reread books that have come to define American culture This book argues that by revising canonical American literature contemporary American writers are re writing an American myth of origins creating one that corresponds to the contemporary writer s understanding of self and society Informed by cognitive psychology evolutionary literary criticism and poststructuralism Entzminger reads texts by canonical authors Poe Hawthorne Melville Alcott Twain Chopin and Faulkner and by the contemporary writers that respond to them In highlighting the construction and cognitive function of narrative in their own and in their antecedent texts contemporary writers highlight the fact that such use of narrative is universal and essential to human beings This book suggests that by revising the classic texts that compose our cultural narrative contemporary writers mirror the way human individuals consistently revisit and refigure the past through language via self narration in order to manage and understand experience

Robert C. Plumb, Elisabeth Griffith, 2020 Harriet Tubman Harriet Beecher Stowe Clara Barton Julia Ward Howe and Sarah Josepha Hale came from backgrounds that ranged from abject enslavement to New York City's elite. Surmounting social and political obstacles they emerged before and during the worst crisis in American history the Civil War. Their actions became strands in a tapestry of courage, truth, and patriotism that influenced the lives of millions and illuminated a new way forward for the nation. In this collective biography Robert C. Plumb traces these five remarkable women's awakenings to analyze how their experiences shaped their responses to the challenges, disappointments, and joys they encountered on their missions. Here is Tubman, fearless conductor on the Underground Railroad; alongside Stowe, the author who awakened the nation to the evils of slavery; Barton, who led an effort to provide medical supplies for field hospitals and Union soldiers; and Howe, whose Battle Hymn of the Republic was sung on the march. And amid national catastrophe, Hale's campaign to make Thanksgiving a national holiday moved North and South toward reconciliation.

But history's grip is fierce. A ghastly battlefield wound ends Henry's war. Katie nurses him through a long recuperation, but they cannot agree should they return to Maine or join America's mad flight westward.
