Focus On: 100 Most Popular American Stage Actresses Wikipedia contributors, White Supremacy and the American Media Sarah D. Nilsen, Sarah E. Turner, 2021-11-29 This volume examines the ways in which the media including film television social media and gaming has constructed and sustained a narrative of white supremacy that has entered mainstream American discourse With chapters by today's preeminent critical race scholars the book looks in particular at the ways media institutions have circulated white supremacist ideology across a wide range of platforms and texts that have had significant impact on shaping our current polarized and racialized social and political landscape Systematically scrutinizing every media platform this volume provides readers with an understanding of the ways in which media has provided institutional support for white supremacist ideology and presents them with the means to examine and analyze the persistence of these narratives within our racial discourse thus offering the necessary knowledge to challenge and transform these racially divisive and destructive narratives White Supremacy and the American Media will be of interest not only to scholars working in critical race studies and popular culture in the United States but also to those working in the fields of Film and Television Studies Sociology Geography Art History Communication and Media Studies Cultural Studies American Studies Popular Culture and Media Studies The Personal of the Political Marek Wojtaszek, Elżbieta H.

Oleksy, Aleksandra M. Różalska, 2015-10-05 In an era of the radicalization of political ideologies in Europe long lasting societal remnants of the economic breakdown and the neoliberalist consolidation of capitalist values it is ethically relevant to critically reconceptualise the meaning and role of European feminisms and the challenges they have to confront today both locally and transnationally In the face of ubiquitous beliefs about feminism having exhausted itself such a rethinking of the place and priorities of feminist politics within and outside academia is urgently needed The popularization of the so called faux feminisms assuming attained emancipation in the present day neoliberal environment of advanced capitalism calls for close examination and creative counter strategies Bearing in mind that the patterns of oppression still prevail becoming even more and more insidious and complex it is all the more necessary to identify scrutinize and contest the vicissitudes of the dominant apparatus of control and subjugation and to demystify the purportedly gender inclusive operations of the regime As such the book seeks to renew an academic and political interest in the epistemological tradition of context created knowledge Bringing together authors from diverse geopolitical locations this volume constitutes a forum for fruitful encounters across generations and national and cultural differences contributing to a better understanding of the complexities of patriarchal ideologies and to the creation of a more sustainable communal future The book offers a collection of chapters introducing situated perspectives which adopt intersectional optics in order to analyze the transformations of the contemporary socio political realm and reflect research priorities within present day feminist scholarship Davis's

Virtual Weaponry Aaron Tucker,2017-10-26 This book examines the convergent paths of the Internet and the American military interweaving a history of the militarized Internet with analysis of a number of popular Hollywood movies in order to track how the introduction of the Internet into the war film has changed the genre and how the movies often function as one part of the larger Military Industrial Media Entertainment Network and the Total War Machine The book catalogues and analyzes representations of a militarized Internet in popular Hollywood cinema arguing that such illustrations of digitally networked technologies promotes an unhealthy transhumanism that weaponizes the relationships between the biological and technological aspects of that audience while also hierarchically placing the human components at the top Such filmmaking and movie watching should be replaced with a critical posthumanism that challenges the relationships between the audience and their technologies in addition to providing critical tools that can be applied to understanding and potentially resist modern warfare

Through the Crosshairs Roger Stahl,2018-06-21 Now that it has become so commonplace we rarely blink an eye at camera footage framed by the crosshairs of a sniper s gun or from the perspective of a descending smart bomb But how did this weaponized gaze become the norm for depicting war and how has it influenced public perceptions Through the Crosshairs traces the genealogy of this weapon s eye view across a wide range of genres including news reports military public relations images action movies video games and social media posts As he tracks how gun camera footage has spilled from the battlefield onto the screens of everyday civilian life Roger Stahl exposes how this raw video is carefully curated and edited to promote identification with military weaponry rather than with the targeted victims He reveals how the weaponized gaze is not only a powerful propagandistic frame but also a prime site of struggle over the representation of state violence

Monstrous Fantasies Leila K. Norako,2024-08-15 Monstrous Fantasies asks why medieval romances reimagining the crusades ending in a Christian victory circulated in England with such abundance after the 1291 Muslim reconquest of Acre the last of the Latin crusader states in the Holy Land and what these texts reveal about the cultural anxieties of late medieval England Leila K Norako highlights the impact that the Ottoman victory and subsequent massacre of Christian prisoners at the battle of Nicopolis in 1396 had on intensifying the popularity of what she calls recovery romance These two episodes inspired a sense of urgency over the fate of the Holy Land and of Latin Christendom itself resulting in the proliferation of romances in which crusading English kings like Richard I and anachronistic legends like King Arthur not only reconquered Jerusalem but committed genocidal violence against the Muslims These romances which as Norako argues also influenced Geoffrey Chaucer's Canterbury Tales conjure fantasies of an ascendant global Christendom by rehearsing acts of conquest and cultural annihilation that were impossible to realize in the late Middle Ages Emphasizing the tension in these texts between nostalgia and anticipation that fuels their narrative momentum Monstrous Fantasies also explores how the cultural desires for European and Christian hegemony that recovery romances versified were revived in the wake of the so called wars on terror in the twenty first century in such films as Kingdom of Heaven and American Sniper
