Popular Ethiopian Cinema Michael W. Thomas, 2022-10-06 This book shines much needed light on the history structures and films of the Amharic film industry in Ethiopia Focusing on the rise of the industry from 2002 until today and embedded in archival ethnographic and textual research methods this book offers a sustained and detailed appreciation of Amharic language cinema Michael Thomas considers fiker love as an organising principle in national Ethiopian culture and by extension Amharic cinema Placing fiker as central to understanding Amharic film genres also illuminates the continuous negotiations at play between romantic familial patriotic and spiritual notions of love in these films Thomas considers the production and exhibition of films in Ethiopia charting fluctuations and continuities between the past and the present Having done so he offers detailed textual readings of films identifying important junctures in the industry s development and the emergence of new genres The findings of the book detail the affective characteristics that delineate most Amharic genres and the role culturally specific concepts such as fiker play in maintaining the relevance of commercial cinemas reliant on domestic audiences

Feminism and Modernity in Anglophone African Women's Writing Dobrota Pucherová, 2022-07-29 This book re reads the last 60 years of Anglophone African women s writing from a transnational and trans historical feminist perspective rather than postcolonial from which these texts have been traditionally interpreted Such a comparative frame throws into relief patterns across time and space that make it possible to situate this writing as an integral part of women s literary history Revisiting this literature in a comparative context with Western women writers since the 18th century the author highlights how invocations of tradition have been used by patriarchy everywhere to subjugate women the similarities between women s struggles worldwide and the feminist imagination it produced The author argues that in the 21st century African feminism has undergone a major epistemic shift from a culturally exclusive to a relational feminism that conceptualizes African femininity through the risky opening of oneself to otherness transculturation and translation Like Western feminists in the 1960s contemporary African women writers are turning their attention to the female body as the prime site of women's oppression and freedom reframing feminism as a demand for universal human rights and actively shaping global discourses on gender modernity and democracy The book will be of interest to students and researchers of African literature but also feminist literary scholars and comparatists more generally Semitic Studies in Honor of Wolf Leslau on the Occasion of His Eighty-fifth Birthday, November 14th, 1991: A propos de la valeur "intensive" de la IIème forme verbale en arabe Syrien: modalité et expressivité.
