Picturing the (Un)Dead in Beirut Agnes Rameder, 2024-12-14 Martyr posters are more than obituary images they can act as visual politics Focusing on Rabih Mrou s play How Nancy Wished That Everything Was an April Fool s Joke 2007 Agnes Rameder analyses how contemporary artists question and appropriate Lebanese martyr posters By linking the posters from the Wars in Lebanon 1975 1990 to contemporary posters she shows that these images continue to the present day that martyrs are still created and that deaths such as those who were killed in the explosion on 4 August 2020 are still visually remembered This study does not focus on how such pictures are perceived by a Western audience but delves into the use and abuse of martyr posters that were intended to be shown to the Lebanese

Political Economy of Power Sharing in Developing Countries Akietuwopiribie Opuene Hart, 2025-08-07 Political Economy of Power Sharing in Developing Countries is an in depth examination of factors that trigger the clamor for power sharing zoning and rotation in mostly developing countries These provocations include geographical ethnic and religious identity factors that can influence the political process in varying degrees from country to country The impact goes a long way in determining the stability and instability of the political process in various countries The reasons for these differences and the impacts are a combination of the endogenous variables in the first instance which are the primary prompters Other elements which are the exogenous factors are secondary prompters When these converge they produce a peculiar impact in a given society based on the characteristic variables and the resulting outcome The new paradigm shifts in the agitation in developing countries is demonstrated by an elitist instrument of marginalization and self aggrandizement The masses are hoodwinked sensitized and manipulated through primal sentiment to support the elites in acquiring political power which in turn enables the acquisition of economic power

Politics, Culture and the Lebanese Diaspora Nathalie Nahas, Paul Tabar, 2010-07-12 This book is a collection of essays that were originally presented at a conference at the Lebanese American University in late May 2007 entitled Politics Culture and the Lebanese Diaspora It looks at various facets of the Lebanese Diaspora and examines the politics and culture of Lebanese migrants and their descendants in different parts of the world while detailing the communal national and transnational elements of these practices and exploring the changing characteristics of politics and culture in respect to migration Diaspora and globalization The essays raise questions about the in compatible and interpenetrating relationships between these dynamics and analyze processes of identity formation as cultural manifestations of migratory politics The book is divided into three main sections The first section deals with issues of identity and multiculturalism among Lebanese emigrants concluding that identities are continuously molded and negotiated in the diaspora It examines the formation of identities among second and third generation migrants and the changing conceptions of the meaning of roots and homelands The second section deals with politics and activism in the Diaspora It looks at how diasporas relate to the political processes in their homelands during post conflict resolution and explores the role of Lebanese migrants abroad in the process of peace building back home The third part deals with the Diaspora in literature and media through the assessment of key writings on the explorations of self of the Lebanese abroad drawing on how symbols of identification and conventions of representation become sites of conflict over time The wide variety of perspectives presented in these papers invite us to challenge the notion of a fixed bounded and rigid homeland and identity and move towards one that is more nomadic and fluid They call us to pay attention to the symbols used in the cultural construction of both homelands and identities in the country of immigration and to think of the complex ways in which transnational politics affect the homeland and are in turn affected by it

The Government and Politics of Lebanon Imad Salamey, 2013-10-15 Aiming to contribute to the reader s greater understanding of Lebanese government and politics this book provides a comprehensive examination of the origin development and institutionalization of sectarian consociationalism in Lebanon A recurrent proposition advanced in this book is that Lebanese sectarian consociationalism has been both a cure and a curse in the formulation of political settlements and institution building On the one hand and in contrast to many surrounding Arab regimes consociational arrangements have provided the country with a relative democratic political life A limited government with a strong confessional division of power and a built in checks and balance mechanism prevented the emergence of dictatorship or monarchy On the other hand a chronic weak state has complicated efforts for nation building in favour of sectarian fragmentation external interventions and strong polarization that periodically brought the country to the verge of total collapse and civil war While examining Lebanese sectarian politics of conflict and concession during different historic junctures many revelations are made that underlie the role of domestic and international forces shaping the country s future Presenting an implicit description of the power and functions of the various branches of government within the context of sectarian consociationalism this book is an important introductory text for students of Lebanese Politics and Middle Eastern politics more broadly

Lebanon and the Arab Uprisings Maximilian Felsch, Martin Wählisch, 2016-06-23 The Arab uprisings have put Lebanon under increased strain While the revolutions in Tunisia and Egypt caused limited reverberations the war in Syria echoed in the fine tuned political and confessional balance of Lebanon Over one million refugees equal to one quarter of Lebanon's population have moved in from Syria The country's economy and its already weak public infrastructure have been impacted heavily Hizbullah's engagement in Syria has posed questions about Lebanon's disassociation policy Terrorist attacks by ISIL and the growing risk of radicalization across the confessional spectrum have left the country at unease However Lebanon's political elites have vowed to shield the country from regional turbulences Lebanon recently saw a series of demonstrations because of the inability of the government to manage the garbage crisis but it has been far from witnessing a large scale citizen uprising similar to the 2005 Cedar Revolution or the revolts next door This book provides a comprehensive overview of the current situation in Lebanon and a detailed assessment of the difficulties which the country is currently facing

Middle Eastern Civilization Gerard Jenner, The Middle East stands as one of humanity's most significant crossroads a region where three continents converge and where the earliest civilizations first flourished along the banks of great rivers This geographic positioning between Europe Asia and Africa has shaped the region's destiny as a bridge between worlds a meeting place of cultures religions and empires that continues to influence global affairs today Understanding the Middle East requires grappling with this fundamental reality of geographic centrality and its profound implications for the region's historical development and contemporary challenges The term Middle East itself reflects a Western perspective originally coined by British naval strategist Alfred Thayer Mahan in 1902 to describe the region between the Near East of the Ottoman Empire and the Far East of China and Japan This nomenclature reveals the colonial context in which much Middle Eastern studies developed highlighting the importance of examining the region through multiple lenses that include indigenous perspectives and narratives Alternative terms like Southwest Asia or the Arabic al Mashriq and al Maghrib offer different conceptual frameworks that emphasize regional rather than external viewpoints Geographically the Middle East encompasses the vast expanse from Morocco in the west to Iran in the east from Turkey in the north to Yemen in the south though scholars debate the precise boundaries This region includes the Arabian Peninsula the Fertile Crescent Anatolia the Iranian Plateau and North Africa each with distinct topographical features that have influenced settlement patterns economic development and political organization The presence of major mountain ranges like the Zagros Taurus and Atlas Mountains has created natural barriers and corridors that shaped migration routes and cultural exchange patterns throughout history
