Human Performance on the Flight Deck Don Harris, 2016-12-05. Taking an integrated systems approach to dealing exclusively with the human performance issues encountered on the flight deck of the modern airliner, this book describes the inter-relationships between the various application areas of human factors, recognising that the human contribution to the operation of an airliner does not fall into neat pigeonholes. The relationship between areas such as pilot selection, training, flight deck design and safety management is continually emphasised within the book. It also affirms the upside of human factors in aviation, the positive contribution that it can make to the industry and avoids placing undue emphasis on when the human component fails. The book is divided into four main parts Part one describes the underpinning science base with chapters on human information processing workload situation awareness decision making error and individual differences Part two of the book looks at the human in the system containing chapters on pilot selection simulation and training stress fatigue and alcohol and environmental stressors Part three takes a closer look at the machine the aircraft beginning with an examination of flight deck display design followed by chapters on aircraft control flight deck automation and HCI on the flight deck Part four completes the volume with a consideration of safety management issues both on the flight deck and across the airline the final chapter in this section looks at human factors for incident and accident investigation The book is written for professionals within the aviation industry both on the flight deck and elsewhere for post graduate students and for researchers working in the area CAE OXFORD AVIATION ACADEMY - FLIGHT PERFORMANCE AND PLANNING II , Crew Qualification and Pilot Type Rating Requirements for Transport Category Aircraft Operated Under FAR, Part 121 United States. Federal Aviation Administration,1993 AIAA Guidance Navigation and Control Conference ,1996 Flying Magazine ,1994-07

Air Navigation Octavian Thor Pleter,2024-04-22 This book takes a new approach to air navigation extending the classic scope of positioning and guidance to efficient and safe 4D flight trajectory management Modern air navigation aims at flight trajectories optimisation There is an infinite number of solutions to the classic navigation problem of flying from one airport to another but most of them are wasteful of resources and even risky Minimising all costs and risks incurred by the 4D flight trajectory makes air navigation both efficient and safe which are key factors in air navigation services Beyond minimising fuel burn and CO2 efficiency addresses non CO2 emissions and noise This is a visually intensive book using examples and case studies to illustrate the concepts the physics of navigation and the mathematical models involved Numerical examples reflect its problem solving nature It is useful to aerospace students engineers pilots air traffic controllers technicians and scientists curious about aviation Aviation Fuel Conservation Symposium ,1984 Air Transportation Operations Inspector's Handbook United States. Federal Aviation Administration,1988 Proceedings of 10th International Conference on Recent Advances in Civil Aviation Oleg Anatolyevich Gorbachev,Xiaoguang Gao,Bo Li,2022-10-19 The volume comprises proceedings of the 10th International Conference on Recent Advances in Civil Aviation The contents focus on air traffic control and management quality control and reliability improvement of radio equipment and avionics designing and testing aircraft assemblies and mechanisms reliability improvement of aircraft management systems aviation enterprise management etc There is also emphasis on the current problems and prospects for development of unmanned aircraft systems This volume will be beneficial to researchers practitioners and policy makers alike The Limits of Expertise R. Key Dismukes,Benjamin A. Berman,Loukia Loukopoulos,2017-03-02 Why would highly skilled well trained pilots make errors that lead to accidents when they had safely completed many thousands of previous flights The majority of all aviation accidents are attributed primarily to human error but this is often misinterpreted as evidence of lack of skill vigilance or conscientiousness of the pilots The Limits of Expertise is a fresh look at the causes of pilot error and aviation accidents arguing that accidents can be understood only in the context of how the overall aviation system operates The authors analyzed in great depth the 19 major U S airline accidents from 1991 2000 in which the National Transportation Safety Board NTSB found crew error to be a causal factor Each accident is reviewed in a separate chapter that examines events and crew actions and explores the cognitive processes in play at each step The approach is guided by extensive evidence from cognitive psychology that human skill and error are opposite sides of the same coin The book examines the ways in which competing task demands ambiguity and organizational pressures interact with cognitive processes to make all experts vulnerable to characteristic forms of error The final chapter identifies themes cutting across the accidents discusses the role of chance criticizes simplistic concepts of causality of accidents and suggests ways to reduce vulnerability to these catastrophes The authors complementary experience allowed a unique approach to the study accident investigation with the NTSB cognitive psychology research both in the lab and in the field enormous first hand experience of piloting and application of aviation psychology in both civil and military operations This combination allowed the authors to examine and explain the domain specific aspects of aviation operations and to extend advances in basic research in cognition to complex issues of human performance in the real world Although The Limits of Expertise is directed to aviation operations the implications are clear for understanding the decision processes skilled performance and errors of professionals in many domains including medicine
