A History Of The World In 100 Objects:

A History of the World in 100 Objects Neil MacGregor, 2011 This book takes a dramatically original approach to the history of humanity using objects which previous civilisations have left behind them often accidentally as prisms through which we can explore past worlds and the lives of the men and women who lived in them The book's range is enormous It begins with one of the earliest surviving objects made by human hands a chopping tool from the Olduvai gorge in Africa and ends with an object from the 21st century which represents the world we live in today Neil MacGregor's aim is not simply to describe these remarkable things but to show us their significance how a stone pillar tells us about a great Indian emperor preaching tolerance to his people how Spanish pieces of eight tell us about the beginning of a global currency or how an early Victorian tea set tells us about the impact of empire Each chapter immerses the reader in a past civilisation accompanied by an exceptionally well informed guide Seen through this lens history is a kaleidoscope shifting interconnected constantly surprising and shaping our world today in ways that most of us have never imagined An intellectual and visual feast it is one of the most engrossing and unusual history books published in years

A History of Sport in Europe in 100 Objects Daphné Bolz, Michael Krüger, 2023-04-27 Modern sport originated in Europe During the age of Enlightenment gymnastics and athletics from Antiquity were rediscovered and changed into new cultural and educational forms which shaped both the body and the mind The industrialisation of Britain and Europe eventually introduced organisational patterns that gave sport not only a name but also a new structure This was a distinctive product of European civilisation which spread across the modern world The 100 objects that are collected here are both material objects and forms of communication which explore the transformation and diversity of sports games and physical education in Europe whether for training performing or as part of other forms of celebration or festivity This book is the first attempt to create a kaleidoscopic history of European sport through its rich material culture and emerged from a desire to develop transnational research in sports history 110 authors from 39 countries have participated in a genuinely pan European project introducing the reader to the fascinating range of people institutions and places which made up the world of modern European sport A History of the World in 100 Objects, 2018 My Life in 100 Objects Margaret Randall, 2020-09-15 Traces the remarkable life of a feminist poet through the items and images that have defined her experiences My Life in 100 Objects is a personal reflection on the events and moments that shaped the life and work of one extraordinary woman With a masterful poetic voice Margaret Randall uses talismanic objects and photographs as launching points for her nonlinear narrative Through each object Randall uncovers another part of herself starting in a museum in Amman Jordan and ending in the Latin American Studies Association in Boston Interwoven throughout are her most precious relationships her growth as an artist and her brave revolutionary spirit As Randall's adventures often coincide with important moments in history many of her objects provide a transcontinental glimpse into social upheavals and transitions She shares memories from her years in Cuba 1969 to 1980 and Nicaragua 1980 to 1984 as well as briefer periods in North Vietnam immediately preceding the end of the war in 1975 and Peru during the government of Velasco Alvarado In her introduction Randall states objects and places have always been alive to me Her history too is alive as much of a means to consider our own present as it is to glimpse her vibrant past A History of the World in 100 Objects, 2016 Peace Museums Peter van den Dungen, 2024-12-31 This book is the first comprehensive study of the history nature and purposes of peace museums comprising twenty one essays by a leading authority in the field It presents a powerful argument for the need for this new kind of museum that informs and inspires visitors that a world of peace and nonviolence is both necessary and possible Whereas there are numerous museums about war and the armed forces museums about peacemaking and peacemakers are rare indeed the very concept of peace museums is still largely unknown This is a reflection of the traditional writing and teaching of history which is dominated by narratives of war and warriors with little or no attention being paid to the history of efforts to prevent and abolish war Peace museums are ideal instruments to bring the long fascinating and vitally important history of peace to life for a large public Among the essays included are histories of two forgotten and unknown yet heroic efforts to prevent World War I and then World War II through museums that educated and alerted visitors about the disasters ahead if war was not avoided and ways to steer a different course following the catastrophe that was the Great War At a time when a barbaric war in Europe continuing wars in Africa and ominous threats of war in Asia are raising the specter of nuclear war and World War III the need for anti nuclear bomb and anti war museums is greater than ever Such museums are essential for the development of a global culture of peace and nonviolence The book provides inspiration and hope for everyone interested in efforts to overcome an existential threat to civilization that is wholly
