Christ is God Over All George Carraway, 2013-08-15 This book is written against the background of Christological scholarly thought since the publication of Kyrios Christos by Bousset Carraway argues that the syntax of Romans 9:5 suggests Paul meant to refer to Jesus as God and that his statement is not out of place at the beginning of Romans 9:11 He addresses objections to this conclusion responding to those who claim that a monotheist such as Paul would not refer to Jesus as God and to those who point out that Paul does not elsewhere identify Jesus as God After demonstrating that there is a connection between Romans 9 5 and the remainder of Romans 9 11 the argument continues by tying Paul's monotheistic statements regarding the one God of both Jews and Gentiles in Romans 3 the concept of the one Lord of all in Romans 10 5 13 The book concludes that the redeemer from Zion in 11 25 27 is Christ and is the same as the Christ from Israel in 9 5

Granville Sharp's Canon and Its Kin Daniel B. Wallace, 2009 Granville Sharp's Canon and Its Kin explains that the semantics of the article substantive KAI substantive construction TSKS have been largely misunderstood and that this misunderstanding has adversely impacted the exegesis of several theologically significant texts This issue is addressed from three angles historical investigation linguistic phenomenological analysis of the construction and exegetical implications The reasons for the misunderstanding are traced historically a better comprehension of the semantics of the construction is established by an examination of primary literature in the light of linguistic theory and the implications of this analysis are applied to a number of passages in the New Testament Historically the treatment begins with a clear grammatical principle articulated by Granville Sharp and it ends with the present day confusion This book includes a detailed examination of the New Testament data and other Ancient Greek literature which reveals that Sharp's rule has a general validity in the language Lastly a number of exegetically significant texts that are affected by the linguistic phenomenological investigation are discussed in detail This enlightening text is a valuable resource for undergraduate and graduate students of religion linguistics history and Greek

The Faith of the New Testament Roy A. Harrisville III, 2023-03-14 The importance of faith in Christianity cannot be denied nor the arguments surrounding it The crisis of faith that now grips the Western church necessitates a fresh look at its essential teachings This study traces the trajectory of St Paul's concept of faith in the rest of the New Testament in order to answer the question of how far and in what manner the other books of the New Testament agree or disagree with the Apostle of the Gentiles Was St Paul an outlier or an influencer Common assumptions about faith and the language of faith are challenged in this study Rather than giving simple voice to conventional presuppositions this book wrestles with the origin and character of Christian faith and provides a provocative view that should spark renewed discussion about the heart of Christianity
