A Tapestry of Faiths Winfried Corduan, 2009-06-01 Drawing on his wide experience and knowledge of other religions as they are actually lived Winfried Corduan helps you sort through the complex tapestry of faiths around the world A Tapestry of Faiths Winfried Corduan, 2002 Christians find themselves in an increasingly diverse world The new place of worship in our neighborhood might just as likely be a Hindu temple or a Muslim mosque as a church or a synagogue The Cambridge Companion to Evangelical Theology Timothy Larsen, Daniel J. Treier, 2007-04-12 Evangelicalism a vibrant and growing expression of historic Christian orthodoxy is already one of the largest and most geographically diverse global religious movements This Companion first published in 2007 offers an articulation of evangelical theology that is both faithful to historic evangelical convictions and in dialogue with contemporary intellectual contexts and concerns In addition to original and creative essays on central Christian doctrines such as Christ the Trinity and Justification it breaks new ground by offering evangelical reflections on issues such as gender race culture and world religions This volume also moves beyond the confines of Anglo American perspectives to offer separate essays exploring evangelical theology in African Asian and Latin American contexts The contributors to this volume form an unrivalled list of many of today's most eminent evangelical theologians and important emerging voices A Trinitarian Theology of Religions Gerald Robert McDermott, Harold A. Netland, 2014 How are Christians to think of non Christian religions How are they to relate to people who do not share their faith Two senior scholars survey the field of theology of religions from an evangelical perspective and propose fresh approaches to long debated questions such as salvation revelation the relationship between culture and religion conversion and social action The Oxford Handbook of Evangelical Theology Gerald R. McDermott, 2013-12 This volume surveys the state of the discipline on topics of greatest importance to evangelical theology The authors critically assess the state of the question from both classical and evangelical traditions and propose a future direction for evangelical thinking on the subject Resumé de l'auteur Neighboring Faiths Winfried Corduan, 2024-04-30 In this updated and revised edition of a classic text readers will find informed empathetic insights into world religions like Judaism Islam Hinduism Native American religion and many more Emphasizing both formal teaching and daily practice this text shows Christians how to engage adherents of these faiths in constructive dialogue Christian Exegesis of the Qur'an Scott Bridger, 2016-03-31 Can Christians read biblical meaning into qur'anic texts Does this violate the intent of those passages What about making positive reference to the Qur'an in the context of an evangelistic presentation or defence of biblical doctrines Does this imply that Christians accept the Muslim scripture as inspired What about Christians who reside in the world of Islam and write their theology in the language of the Qur'an Arabic Is it legitimate for them to use the Qur'an in their explorations of the Christian faith This book explores these questions and offers a biblically theologically and historically informed response For years evangelical Christians seeking answers to questions like these have turned to the history of Protestant Christian interaction

Eighteenth-Century Conservatism in Christianity and Islam Ralph A. Leo, 2024-06-28 This book examines the world of religious conservatism in Christianity and Islam through a comparison of two eighteenth century traditionalist icons Jonathan Edwards and Mu ammad Ibn Abd al Wahh b Spanning the globe from America to Arabia this book explores the major themes in the lives and works of these most unlikely of bedfellows the Reverend and the Shaykh In many ways Edwards and Ibn Abd al Wahh b are about as far apart as two figures could possibly be Without minimizing their very real differences however this comparative study finds numerous parallels that beckon even the most conservative of Christians and Muslims to take a second look at their own faith as well as the faith of the other The numerous surprising congruences in the worlds of the Reverend and the Shaykh as well as in their conceptions of God humanity and the faith of the other suggest that we stand much to gain from a reassessment of long held views that could lead to wholly new patterns of engagement With implications in diverse fields such as politics law philosophy theology history warfare and anthropology this book unearths striking parallels in Edwards and Ibn Abd al Wahh b that have heretofore gone unnoticed or largely ignored

The Quest Lyman C.D. Kulathungam, 2012-04-25 The human spirit seems incapable of being stagnant ever pushing the boundaries of knowledge and experience We try to understand life through questions regarding our own existence the nature of the universe and the nature of God The question of our collective heart is the external manifestation of an internal longing a quest if you will This thirst to understand reality can be seen in superstructures that are scientific social political and especially religious When considering the doctrines institutions and rituals of religions we observe certain core aspirations expressed by the people of these communities These aspirations generate from an underlying quest which seeks a way out of our perceived predicament a salvific quest Regardless of whether we view ourselves as religious pre religious post religious or non religious we find ourselves involved in such a quest it seems to be an integral part of our human personhood Using a unique framework of analysis this book explores Christ s relevance to the quest expressed by the communities of eight major living religions a relevance that neither degrades Christ nor demeans other saviors Christ is not part of the human quest but is well equipped to satisfy that quest

One of a Kind Adam Sparks, 2010-01-01 A fundamental requirement in an inclusivist understanding of the relationship between Christianity and other religions is evidence of God s salvific activity outside any knowledge of Christ This is commonly identified in the religion of Old Testament Israel On this basis an analogy the Israel analogy is drawn between the religion of the old covenant and contemporary non Christian religions Closely related is the parallel argument that as Christ has fulfilled the Old covenant he can also be seen as the fulfillment of other religious traditions and their scriptures This study outlines the use of the Israel analogy and the fulfillment model subjecting these concepts to a biblical and theological critique revealing that the exegetical and patristic data are misconstrued in support of these concepts Furthermore the Israel analogy and the fulfillment model undermine the sui generis relationship between the old and new covenants and fail to respect the organic progressive nature of salvation history They also misconstrue the old covenant and the nature of its fulfillment in the new covenant The Israel analogy and fulfillment model rely on a correspondence between the chronologically premessianic Israel and the epistemologically premessianic other religions and therefore consider the BC condition to continue today In so doing they undermine the significance of the Christ event by failing to appreciate the decisive effect of this event on history and the nature of existence It marks a radical turn in salvation history a crisis point rendering the BC period complete and fulfilled Therefore the concept of a continuing premessianic condition or state is seriously flawed as are the Israel analogy and fulfillment model Thus the inclusivist paradigm reliant in large part on these defective concepts is also problematic and proponents of this paradigm need to reconsider its basis

True Myth James W Menzies, 2015-02-26 True Myth examines the meaning and significance of myth as understood by C S Lewis and Joseph Campbell and its place in the Christian faith in a technological society C S Lewis defined Christianity and being truly human as a relationship between the personal Creator and his creation mediated through faith in his son Jesus The influential writer and mythologist Joseph Campbell had a different perspective understanding Christianity as composed of mythical themes similar to those in other religious and secular myths While accepting certain portions of the biblical record as historical Campbell taught the theological and miraculous aspects as symbolic as stories in which the reader discovers what it means to be human today In contrast Lewis presented the theological and the miraculous in a literal way Although Lewis understood how one could see symbolism and lessons for life in miraculous events he believed they were more than symbolic and indeed took place in human history In True Myth James W Menzies skilfully balances the two writers differing approaches to guide the reader through a complex interaction of myth with philosophy media ethics history literature art music and religion in a contemporary world
