professional preparation by focusing on the grammatical and lexical features that are essential for all ESL writing teachers and student writers to know. The fundamental assumption is that before students of English for academic purposes can begin to successfully produce academic writing they must have the foundations of language in place: the language tools, grammar and vocabulary they need to build a text. This text offers a compendium of techniques for teaching writing grammar and lexis to second language learners that will help teachers effectively target specific problem areas of students writing. Based on the findings of current research including a large scale study of close to 1 500 non native speakers essays, this book works with several sets of simple rules that collectively can make a noticeable and important difference in the quality of ESL students writing. The teaching strategies and techniques are based on a highly practical principle for efficiently and successfully maximizing learners language gains. Part I provides the background for the text and a sample of course curriculum guidelines to meet the learning needs of second language teachers of writing and second language writers. Parts II and III include the key elements of classroom teaching: what to teach and why, possible ways to teach the material in the classroom, common errors found in student prose and ways to teach students to avoid them, teaching activities and suggestions, and questions for discussion in a teacher training course. Appendices to chapters provide supplementary word and phrase lists, collocations, sentence chunks and diagrams that teachers can use as needed. The book is designed as a text for courses that prepare teachers to work with post secondary EAP students and as a professional resource for teachers of students in EAP courses.

Handbook of Research in Second Language Teaching and Learning Eli Hinkel, 2016-11-18. Volume III of the Handbook of Research in Second Language Teaching and Learning like Volumes I and II is a comprehensive state of the art overview of current research into social contexts of second language L2 foreign language FL teaching and learning, language policy, curriculum types of instruction, incremental language skills such as listening, speaking, reading, writing, vocabulary and grammar, international communication, pragmatics, assessment and testing. It differs from earlier volumes in its main purpose to provide a more in depth discussion and detailed focus on the development of the essential language skills required for any type of communication: speaking, listening, reading, vocabulary, grammar and writing. Volume III preserves continuity with previous volumes in its coverage of all the classical areas of research in L2 FL teaching and learning and applied linguistics but rather than offering a historical review of disciplinary traditions it explores innovations and new directions of research, acknowledges the enormous complexity of teaching and learning the essential language abilities and offers a diversity of perspectives. Chapter authors are all leading authorities in their disciplinary areas. What's new in Volume III: Updates the prominent areas of research including the sub disciplines addressed in Volumes I and II and represents the disciplinary mainstays. Considers and discusses perspectives held by different schools of thought on the what, the how and the why of teaching foundational language skills including theories, pedagogical principles and their implementation in practice. Captures new and ongoing developments and trends in the key areas of L2 FL teaching and learning and innovative research.

topics that have gained substantial recognition in current publications including the role of corpora technology and digital literacy in L2 FL teaching and learning Examines new trends in language pedagogy and research such as an increased societal emphasis on teaching academic language for schooling somewhat contradictory definitions of literacy and the growing needs for instruction in intercultural communication
