

A LUST FOR WINDOW SILLS

a lover's guide to British buildings
from portcullis to pebble-dash

HARRY MOUNT

'MARVELLOUS . . .

This book does for architecture what Eats, Shoots and Leaves did for punctuation . . . Erudite, playful, witty and inspiring, it is destined to change the way we look at old buildings' LITERARY REVIEW believe that every young person should experience the world beyond the classroom as an essential part of learning and personal development whatever their age ability or circumstances Learning outside the classroom is about raising achievement through an organised powerful approach to learning in which direct experience is of prime importance LOTC Initiative manifesto In Learning Outside the Primary Classroom the educationalist and writer Fred Sedgwick explores in a practical way the many opportunities for intense learning that children and teachers can find outside the confines of the usual learning environment the classroom This original work is based on tried and tested methods from UK primary schools The author draws on current concerns in the educational world regarding outdoor learning as exemplified by the eight sector Learning Outside the Classroom LOTC initiative supported by Ofsted but remains refreshingly independent in approach Using a metaphor of concentric circles Learning Outside the Primary Classroom starts with a brief opening chapter based in the classroom itself before moving outwards to explore the learning possibilities presented by the immediate environs of the school playgrounds gym halls sports fields etc Later chapters move beyond the school gates to explore the local shops parks religious centres libraries and town halls and the myriad learning opportunities they represent The final chapters explore the possibilities of larger scale day trips to major galleries and museums and more ambitious field trips The Montagu Harrier Thomas Hepton,2013-04-23 It is a story about an architect that has a poignant experience in a chapter of his life The Bronte Moorland and the Annapurna Himalayas are used as vehicles to deliver the complex life of a free spirited femme fatal the Montagu Harrier a slim and elegant bird of prey and the power of love that she has over the man that is blindsided by her fascinating persona and affections With a hint of humour and danger it is also an anecdotal account of what effects pot smoking could have on an individual their complex lifestyle and the synergies The New Criterion December 2010 Roger Kimball,2010-12-13 The New Criterion now co edited by the art critic Hilton Kramer and Roger Kimball was founded in 1982 by Mr Kramer and the pianist and music critic Samuel Lipman A monthly review of the arts and intellectual life The New Criterion began as an experiment in critical audacity a publication devoted to engaging in Matthew Arnold s famous phrase with the best that has been thought and said This also meant engaging with those forces dedicated to traducing genuine cultural and intellectual achievement whether through obfuscation politicization or a commitment to nihilistic absurdity We are proud that The New Criterion has been in the forefront both of championing what is best and most humanely vital in our cultural inheritance and in exposing what is mendacious corrosive and spurious Published monthly from September through June The New Criterion brings together a wide range of young and established critics whose common aim is to bring you the most incisive criticism being written today Love, Lust & Heartbreak: 50 Romance Classics in One Collection Stendhal,Charles Dickens,William Shakespeare,Burton Egbert Stevenson,Charlotte Brontë,Anne Brontë,Emily Brontë,Henry James,Louisa May Alcott,Jane Austen,George Eliot,Walter Scott,Thomas Hardy,O. Susannah Lipscomb visits over fifty Tudor places from the famous palace at Hampton Court where dangerous court intrigue was rife to less well known houses such as Anne Boleyn's childhood home at Hever Castle or Tutbury Castle where Mary Queen of Scots was imprisoned. In the corridors of power and the courtyards of country houses we meet the passionate but tragic Kateryn Parr, Henry VIII's last wife, Lady Jane Grey the nine day queen and hear how Sir Walter Raleigh planned his trip to the New World. Through the places that defined them, this lively and engaging book reveals the rich history of the Tudors and paints a vivid and captivating picture of what it would have been like to live in Tudor England. The Spectator, 2011

Bryant & May's Peculiar London Christopher Fowler, 2022-07-14. As the nation's oldest serving detectives we know more about London than almost anyone. After all, we've been walking its streets and impulsively arresting its citizens for decades. Who better to take you through its less savoury side? We'll be chatting about odd buildings, odder characters, lost venues, forgotten disasters, confusing routes, dubious gossip, illicit pleasures and hidden pubs. We'll be making all sorts of odd connections and showing you why it's almost impossible to separate fact from fiction in London. With the help of some of our more disreputable friends, each an argumentative and unreliable expert in his or her own dodgy field, we'll explain why some streets have genders, why only two Londoners got to meet Dracula, how a department store and a prison played tricks on your mind when a theatre got stranded in the past, how a building vanished in plain sight, what excited Charlotte Brontë about the city and where the devils hide in London. We hope to capture something of the city's restless spirit by wilfully wandering off course and it goes without saying that we'll bluff and bamboozle you along the way, but that's all part of the fun. History is what you remember, London is what you forget and we've forgotten a lot. So please do join us on this magical mystery tour of our city. Who knows where we'll end up. MotorBoating, 1939-07
