A World Of Myth Dismantling Misconceptions About Global Migrants:

A World of Myth Nobel M. Pasi, 2014-01 A World of Myth is an excellent introduction to the topic of global migration xenophobia and racism. Written by Nobel M Pasi, a global migrant who has lived in Zimbabwe, the United Kingdom, Canada, New Zealand, and Australia, the book looks at 28 myths about migrants that are commonly spread by politicians, the mass media, and the public at large. Using data from nations across the world, each myth is challenged for its validity. Do migrants steal jobs from locals and hurt the national economy? Do migrants just want a free ride on public benefits systems? Does multiculturalism threaten national culture and social cohesion? What is the correlation between migrants and crime? Answers to all these questions and more are found in this book. A World of Myth is a great tool for those who wish to investigate the pros and cons debate about global migration. Whichever side of the debate you are on, this book will surprise you, challenge you, and help you root out the myths that cloud your conception of the foreigners that share your locale. Forward looking, left of centre, and unafraid of making unpopular statements due to a fierce commitment to human rights, A World of Myth will open your eyes to a new way of appreciating the lot of migrants everywhere.

Dismantling the Myths Frank Moore, 1997
What is the source for our beliefs, the motivation behind our behavior, the guide for our ethics? By what ruler do we measure right and wrong? In the midst of a stormy sea of relativism, Dr Frank Moore offers an in-depth understanding of how and why we make the choices we do and offers a moral compass to guide us all, one that accommodates changing times without compromising timeless truths. Paper.

Global Migration Diego Acosta Arcarazo, Anja Wiesbrock, 2015-05-05 This three volume work exposes myths and debunks misinformation about global migration an issue generating emotional debate from the highest levels of power to kitchen tables across the United States Europe and worldwide Many don t realize that migration has been a central element of global social change since the 15th century Unfortunately misconceptions about the 3 percent of world citizens who do choose to migrate can be destructive In 2008 riots broke out in South Africa over workers from neighboring countries Today s rising tensions along the U S Mexican border are inciting political social and economic upheaval In the EU political fortunes rise and fall on positions regarding the future of multiculturalism in Europe Relying on fact not rhetoric this three volume book seeks to inform readers allay fears and advance solutions While other reference works tend to limit their scope to one country or one dimension of this hot button issue this book looks at the topic through a wide and interdisciplinary lens Truly global in scope this collection explores issues on all five continents discussing examples from more than 50 countries through analysis by 40 top scholars across 8 disciplines By exploring the past present and future of measures that have been implemented in an attempt to deal with migration ranging from regularization procedures to criminalization readers will be able to understand this worldwide phenomenon Both the expert and the general reader will find a wealth of information free of the unsustainable claims and polarized opinions usually presented in the media To view the introductory chapter of this book visit http://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract\_id=2604184

Literary Location and Dislocation of Myth in the Post/Colonial Anglophone World, 2017-11-01 The English speaking world today is so diverse that readers need a gateway to its many postcolonial narratives and art forms This collection of essays examines this diversity and what brings so many different cultures together Whether Indian Canadian Australasian or Zimbabwean the stories discussed focus on how artists render experiences of separation belonging and loss The histories and transformations postcolonial countries have gone through have given rise to a wide range of myths that retrace their birth evolution and decline Myths have enabled ethnic communities to live together the first section of this collection dwells on stories which can be both inclusive and exclusive under the aegis of nation While certain essays revisit and retell the crucial role women have played in mythical texts like the Mahabharata others discuss how settler colonies return to and reappropriate a past in order to define themselves in the present Crises clashes and conflicts which are at the heart of the second section of this book entail myths of historical and cultural dislocation They appear as breaks in time that call for reconstruction and redefinition a chief instance being the trauma of slavery with its deep geographical and cultural dislocations However the crises that have deprived entire communities of their homeland and their identity are followed by moments of remembrance reconciliation and rebuilding As the term postcolonial suggests the formerly colonized people seek to revisit and re-investigate the impact of colonization before committing it to collective memory In a more specifically literary section texts are read as mythopoeia foregrounding the aesthetic and poetic issues in colonial and postcolonial poems and novels The texts explored here study in different ways the process of mythologization through images of location and dislocation The editors of this collection hope that readers worldwide will enjoy reading about the myths that have shaped and continue to shape postcolonial communities and nations

The Limits of Freedom of Contract Michael J. Trebilcock, 1997-03-25 Our legal system is committed to the idea that private markets and the law of contracts that supports them are the primary institutions for allocating goods and services in a modern economy Yet the market paradigm this book argues leaves substantial room for challenge For example should people be permitted to buy and sell blood bodily organs surrogate babies or sexual favors Is it fair to allow people with limited knowledge about a transaction and its consequences to enter into it without guidance from experts

Myths of Peace and Democracy? Towards Building Pillars of Hope, Unity and Transformation in Africa Mawere, Munyaradzi, Marongwe, Ngonidzashe, 2016-09-01 The myths of peace and democracy in Africa are at the heart of this volume Democracy and peace have become buzz words across postcolonial Africa The gospel of democracy and peace is preached by national governments and by civil society and international organisations alike But to what extent are the ongoing sideshows and charades of quasi oligarchies in Africa really democracy What do ordinary Africans mean when they hunger and thirst for democracy and peace Positive and noble as the loud sounding rhetoric about democracy and peace in Africa might seem the reality of propaganda and dissemblance and of multi dimensional violence are simply too overwhelming not to be disillusioning This book interrogates the rampant violence enduring conflicts autocratic governance and facades of democracy amidst claims and calls for enduring peace on the continent This is a monumental resource book for human rights activists conflict management practitioners civil society activists political scientists statesmen and development practitioners It poses a challenge to those African governments who claim to embrace principles of democracy and respect for human rights to rethink and reconsider their role as ambassadors of peace hope transformation and good governance

Globalisation Frances Ilmberger, Alan Robinson, 2002 The Elgar Companion to Migration and the Sustainable Development Goals Nicola Piper, Kavita Datta, 2024-04-12 This dynamic Companion explores the connections and disconnections between migration and sustainable development as articulated by the UN's Agenda 2030 and Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Providing a critical appraisal of Agenda 2030, it examines the extent to which the SDGs encompass migration and migrant-related experiences within the context of the pledge to leave no one behind. From Empire to the World Malini Guha, 2015-01-20 The study of globalization in cinema assumes many guises from the exploration of global cinematic cities to the burgeoning world cinema turn within film studies, which addresses the global nature of film production, exhibition, and distribution. In this ambitious new study, Malini Guha draws together these two distinctly different ways of thinking about the cinema, interrogating representations of global London and Paris as migrant cinematic cities, featuring the arrival, settlement, and departure of migrant figures from the decline of imperial rule to the global present. Drawing on a range of case studies from contemporary cinema, including the films of Michael Haneke, Claire Denis, and Stephen Frears, Guha also considers their world cinema status in light of their reconfiguration of established forms of filmmaking from modernism to social realism. An illuminating analysis of London and Paris in world cinema from the vantage point of migrant mobilities, From Empire to the World explores the ramifications of this historical shift towards the global one that pertains in equal measure to cityscapes, their representation as world cinema texts, and to the rise of world cinema discourse within film studies itself. Labelling migrants who sell sex J. Lima de Pérez, 2015-07-15 Migrants who sell sex is a vast category which includes a variety of ever-changing and fluid experiences. These experiences, however, are often a secondary consideration when it comes to categorizing said migrants. Adapted from the homonymous publication based on a doctoral thesis defended by the author at Ghent University on 30 June 2015, Labelling migrants who sell sex explores the construction, manipulation, and imposition of the labels of victim of trafficking and migrant sex worker and their consequences. Through a case study of Brazilian migrants in Spain and Portugal, this book delves into the motivations of both receiving developed and sending developing countries, which shape their construction of the labels of migrants working in the sex industry and their application. It considers issues such as the varying definitions of these labels in national legislation and policies, the effect of the manipulation of labels on trafficking statistics, the problems faced by migrants who sell sex outside of the trafficking context, and the treatment given to those labelled as potential victims of trafficking before and after reaching their country of destination. Irregular Afghan Migration to Europe Angeliki Dimitriadi, 2017-07-13 This book examines the issue of irregular transit migration to the EU by presenting the case of the Afghans. Focusing on the Afghans that arrive in and seek to move through Greece, it highlights the unique problems facing this distinctive migratory movement. Recognising that the migratory journey is a continuous interplay of policies and individuals, how each responds and adapts, the book itself moves between countries, policies, stories of migrants, and the author's own experiences in the field. Drawing on extensive empirical research conducted in both Greece and Turkey, it explores why such transits occur and the decision making process of the migrants in transit Through the example of Afghan migration this book contributes to broader debates concerning transit migration hospitality and asylum how it is perceived access to it This book presents a timely study of the rise of fortress Europe and the current discourse around refugees and migrants amidst the largest refugee flow since WWII in Europe This book s interdisciplinary approach will make it a valuable resource for policy makers as well as Sociology and Politics scholars

The Palgrave Handbook of Theatre and Migration Yana Meerzon,S.E Wilmer,2023-08-01 The Palgrave Handbook of Theatre and Migration provides a wide survey of theatre and performance practices related to the experience of global movements both in historical and contemporary contexts Given the largest number of people ever over one hundred million suffering from forced displacement today much of the book centres around the topic of refuge and exile and the role of theatre in addressing these issues The book is structured in six sections the first of which is dedicated to the major theoretical concepts related to the field of theatre and migration including exile refuge displacement asylum seeking colonialism human rights globalization and nomadism The subsequent sections are devoted to several dozen case studies across various geographies and time periods that highlight describe and analyse different theatre practices related to migration The volume serves as a prestigious reference work to help theatre practitioners students scholars and educators navigate the complex field of theatre and migration

Raffles Renounced: Towards a Merdeka History Alfian Sa'at,Faris Joraimi,Sai Siew Min,2022-08-19 Why did independent Singapore celebrate two hundred years of its founding as a British colony in 2019 What does Merdeka mean for Singaporeans And what are the possibilities of doing decolonial history in Singapore Raffles Renounced Towards a Merdeka History presents essays by historians literary scholars and artists which grapple with these questions The volume also reproduces some of the source material used in the play Merdeka Wild Rice 2019 Taken together the book shows how the contradictions of independent nationhood haunt Singaporeans collective and personal stories about Merdeka It points to the need for a Merdeka history an open and fearless culture of historical reckoning that not only untangles us from colonial narratives but proposes emancipatory possibilities
