S. Department of Health and Human Services, Health Resources and Services Administration, John G. Bartlett, 2012-09-10 People with HIV AIDS can live longer healthier lives because of advances in treatment of HIV infection However longer lives are associated with increased prevalence of 1 adverse effects of HIV infection 2 adverse effects of the drugs used to treat HIV and 3 concurrent medical conditions that would occur in the absence of HIV These long term complications have put HIV infection in the realm of chronic diseases rather than of infectious diseases which usually respond to short term clinical interventions Effective management of chronic diseases in the primary care setting requires the coordination of interventions that occur at the level of the clinical services the community supports for those clinical services and the individual patient While clinical services begin in the primary care clinic community supports are needed and the patient must be engaged to enhance self management The coordinated interventions together contribute to the desired clinical outcomes The Chronic Care Model which is used in the design and quality improvement activities of clinical services conceptualizes how these factors impact the clinical outcome of chronic disease management This book addresses several important aspects of HIV AIDS care and treatment in a concise accessible format it is not meant to be a comprehensive reference book Recommended references and citations are provided for the reader to be able to access in depth information on topics that are particularly important and or controversial Appropriate use of antiretroviral drugs treatment of opportunistic infections symptom management treatment of concurrent medical conditions and other specific interventions to treat HIV disease and its complications are addressed The format of this guide is designed to provide practical information for the common questions that arise in the care of patients with HIV infection Recognizing the broader array of best practices that contribute to effective clinical outcomes among patients with a complex array of service needs the authors also address patient evaluation adherence mental health substance abuse overall clinic management and other factors that lead to improved patient outcomes according to the Chronic Care Model Last because the authors recognize the challenges of maintaining clinical practices in the face of rapidly changing and ever more complex treatment interventions a chapter on sources for updated and in depth clinical information is provided Pediatric HIV AIDS treatment is not addressed in this book Primary HIV/AIDS Care Clive Evian, 2006 The book provides a guideline for primary care in treating and managing people with HIV infection It includes counselling care of people dying information on anti retroviral therapy ethical and moral consideration mother to child transmission TB and sexually transmitted infections The Person with HIV/AIDS Felissa R. Lashley, Jerry D. Durham, 2009-09-08 This is an excellent reference for those caring for clients with HIV AIDS I strongly recommend this book Doody s HIV AIDS is no longer a certain death sentence Patients fighting the chronic symptoms of HIV AIDS are now living longer fuller lives due to recent scientific and pharmaceutical breakthroughs As a result the new generation of caregivers must keep pace with cutting edge evidence based practices to better serve patients who may live with HIV AIDS for several decades This updated edition is a vital resource for nurses and other health care professionals providing care to HIV positive persons in the 21st century The contributors present essential information on the medical assessment and management of symptoms the prevention of infection ethical and legal dimensions of care and much more With a greater emphasis on the international dimensions of the HIV pandemic and the treatment of minority populations this book serves as an essential guide for nurses and health care practitioners serving patients with HIV AIDS Key topics include HIV screening testing and counseling HIV AIDS nursing case management within the global community HIV and gay lesbian bisexual and transgender persons Children and HIV prevention and management HIV in corrections facilities and the care of incarcerated patients Sex workers and the transmission of HIV
