A History of Modern Africa Richard J. Reid, 2020-01-09 The new fully updated edition of the acclaimed textbook covering 200 years of African history A History of Modern Africa explores two centuries of the continent's political economic and social history This thorough yet accessible text help readers to understand key concepts recognize significant themes and identify the processes that shaped the modern history of Africa Emphasis is placed on the consequences of colonial rule and the links between the precolonial and postcolonial eras Author Richard Reid a prominent scholar and historian on the subject argues that Africa's struggle for economic and political stability in the nineteenth century escalated and intensified through the twentieth century the effects of which are still felt in the present day The new third edition offers substantial updates and revisions that consider recent events and historiography Greater emphasis is placed on African agency particularly during the colonial period and the importance of the long term militarization of African political culture Discussions of the postcolonial period have been updated to reflect recent developments including those in North Africa Adopting a long term approach to current African issues this text Explores the legacies of the nineteenth century and the colonial period in the context of the contemporary era Highlights the role of nineteenth century and long term internal dynamics in Africa s modern challenges Combines recent scholarship with concise and effective narrative Features maps illustrations expanded references and comprehensive endnotes A History of Modern Africa 1800 to the Present 3rd Edition is an excellent introduction to the subject for undergraduate students in relevant courses and for general readers with interest in modern African history and current affairs

Reviving the Islamic Caliphate in Early Modern Morocco Stephen Cory, 2016-04-08 Historians have long grappled with the question of how Islamic civilization so clearly dominant during the medieval period could fall completely under Western hegemony in the modern age Many Western writers answer this question by referencing European ingenuity initiative and transformative energy in contrast with Islamic parochialism passivity and resistance to change This book challenges such assumptions by studying the career of an aggressive sultan in early modern Morocco Mulay Ahmad al Mansur r 1578 1603 who dared to take on the international super powers of his day and sought to redraw the map of Islamic Africa Al Mansur is best known for launching a bold invasion across the Sahara desert to conquer the West African Songhay Empire Most historians ascribe strictly economic motives for this assault stating that the sultan wished to capture the prosperous gold trade that had traveled for centuries from West Africa to the Mediterranean Dr Cory argues instead that Mulay Ahmad was pursuing more expansive goals than simply stuffing his coffers with West African gold as evidenced by audacious claims made on his behalf in numerous panegyric texts produced by the sultan s court Through a detailed analysis of official histories documents and correspondence writings by European observers and architectural evidence he contends that the sultan sought to establish a Western caliphate that would eclipse the Ottoman Empire Mulay Ahmad advanced this agenda through panegyric literature elaborate court ceremonies grand constructions stunning military conquests and astute diplomacy with European powers Ottoman officials and sub Saharan rulers Such assertions of universal caliphal authority had not been seriously promoted in Islam for over three hundred years before al Mansur s reign Thus al Mansur sought to move his country forward into the modern age by returning to an institution that had governed Muslim lands during the fabled golden age of the Abbasid and Andalusian Umayyad caliphates Through an investigation of the sultan s ambitions and achievements Dr Cory provides new insight into the history of relations between Muslim states and the West

Moroccan Modernism Holiday Powers, 2025-01-28 This groundbreaking study of Moroccan modernism in the visual arts contextualizes the work in terms of postcolonial struggles and a constellation of contemporary artistic movements In the years after independence new art forms and practices flourished at the Casablanca cole des beaux arts transforming the colonial relic into a wellspring of Moroccan modernism Casablanca School artists including Farid Belkahia Mohammed Chebaa and Mohammed Melehi defined the modernist movement in Morocco Their visual arts activism was displayed at their iconic outdoor exhibition in the Djemaa al

Fna plaza in Marrakech in their collaborations with the cultural and political journal Souffles through their radical anticolonial pedagogy and through their use of abstraction to expand the horizons of postcolonial national culture In Moroccan Modernism Holiday Powers argues that the pedagogy and transnational solidarities of this generation of artists were intrinsic to their broader artistic projects She advances a novel reading of Moroccan modernism that is rooted in its cosmopolitan national context and in Pan Africanism and Pan Arabism the transnational anticolonial intellectual movements that defined the era

Moroccan Other-Archives Brahim El Guabli, 2023-04-25 Winner 2024 L Carl Brown AIMS Book Prize in North African Studies Honorable Mention 2024 MELA Book Awards Finalist 2024 ASA Best Book Prize Moroccan Other Archives investigates how histories of exclusion and silencing are written and rewritten in a postcolonial context that lacks organized and accessible archives The book draws on cultural production concerning the years of lead a period of authoritarianism and political violence between Morocco's independence in 1956 and the death of King Hassan II in 1999 to examine the transformative roles memory and trauma play in reconstructing stories of three historically marginalized groups in Moroccan history Berbers Imazighen Jews and political prisoners The book shows how Moroccan cultural production has become an other archive a set of textual sonic embodied and visual sites that recover real or reimagined voices of these formerly suppressed and silenced constituencies of Moroccan society Combining theoretical discussions with close reading of literary works the book reenvision both archives and the nation in postcolonial Morocco By producing other archives Moroccan cultural creators transform the losses state violence inflicted on society during the years of lead into a source of civic engagement and historiographical agency enabling the writing of histories about those Moroccans who have been excluded from official documentation and state sanctioned histories The book is multilingual and interdisciplinary examining primary sources in Amazigh Berber Arabic Darija and French and drawing on memory studies literary theory archival studies anthropology and historiography In addition to showing how other archives are created and operate El Guabli elaborates how language gender class race and geographical distribution are co constitutive of a historical and archival unsilencing that is foundational to citizenship in Morocco today

Colonialism and the Jews Ethan B. Katz, Lisa Moses Leff, Maud S. Mandel, 2017-01-30 The lively essays collected here explore colonial history culture and thought as it intersects with Jewish studies Connecting the Jewish experience with colonialism to mobility and exchange diaspora internationalism racial discrimination and Zionism the volume presents the work of Jewish historians who recognize the challenge that colonialism brings to their work and sheds light on the diverse topics that reflect the myriad ways that Jews engaged with empire in modern times Taken together these essays reveal the interpretive power of the Imperial Turn and present a rethinking of the history of Jews in colonial societies in light of postcolonial critiques and destabilized categories of analysis A provocative discussion forum about Zionism as colonialism is also included

Thami al-Glaoui Orit Ouaknine-Yekutieli, 2024-04-30 Orit Ouaknine Yekutieli examines the life and deeds of Thami al Glaoui 1879 1956 and the multiple ways in which his story has been told She investigates his biography as a creation continuing beyond the demise of its protagonist asserting a conflation of history story and storytelling The book also reconfigures the story of major events and processes in modern Moroccan history and historiography Thami al Glaoui leader of the Amazigh Glaoua tribe and Pasha of Marrakesh throughout Morocco's colonial era 1912-56 was the third most powerful person in Morocco after the Sultan and the French Resident General by the 1930s In 1953 he was a key supporter of the deportation of Sultan Mohamed V by the French After recanting three years later he was pardoned by the returning Sultan but died shortly afterwards In the four decades that followed al Glaoui became a synonym in Morocco for betrayal and corruption In the 21st century however the ways in which he is told became more complex and his reputation has been somewhat revised

The Sultan's Communists Alma Rachel Heckman, 2020-11-24 The Sultan's Communists uncovers the history of Jewish radical involvement in Morocco's national liberation project and examines how Moroccan Jews envisioned themselves participating as citizens in a newly independent Morocco Closely following the lives of five prominent Moroccan Jewish Communists Leon Ren Sultan Edmond Amran El Maleh Abraham Serfaty Simon Levy and Sion Assidon Alma Rachel Heckman describes how Moroccan Communist Jews fit within the story of mass Jewish exodus from Morocco in the 1950s and 60s and how they survived oppressive post independence authoritarian rule under the Moroccan monarchy to ultimately become heroic emblems of state sponsored Muslim Jewish tolerance The figures at the center of Heckman's narrative stood at the intersection of colonialism Arab nationalism and Zionism Their stories unfolded in a country that upon independence from France and Spain in 1956 allied itself with the United States and more quietly Israel during the Cold War while attempting to claim a place for itself within the fraught politics of the post independence Arab world The Sultan's Communists contributes to the growing literature on Jews in the modern Middle East and provides a new history of twentieth century Jewish Morocco

Sufism in Morocco's Religious Politics John C. Thibodeau, 2023-07-25 This book outlines the role of Sufism in Moroccan politics in the twenty first century through a comparative study of contemporary Sufi organizations The author begins his analysis by highlighting the strategies employed by the Moroccan state over the past twenty years aimed at regulating and producing an authorized Moroccan Islam in the kingdom Despite these policies of spiritual security and spiritual diplomacy including the state sponsorship of Sufi organizations the author argues that this has not decreased diversity nor produced a banal interpretation of Islam but rather given rise to diverse articulations and performances of this religiosity Through a comparative analysis of three Sufi organizations based on eighteen months of fieldwork two of which have never before been studied the author brings into relief the spaces of creative enactment of Sufism as an ethical tradition Ultimately it is argued that each Sufi organization reflects a different refraction of i s n a concept emphasising the cultivation of public piety which underpins the Moroccan state s formulation of Islam Focused on both theoretical contributions to Islamic studies and topical treatments of geopolitical issues like spiritual diplomacy the Western Sahara and Morocco Algeria the book spans multiple disciplines including anthropology religious studies sociology and political science Moroccan Female Religious Agents Aziza Ouguir,2020-05-18 In Moroccan Female Religious Agents Old Practices and New Perspectives Ouguir studies Moroccan female religious agents in particular historical women saints and Sufis the way they constructed powerful saintly personalities that challenged the dominant conventional norms and the way they are received by venerators and feminist Islamist activists of modern Morocco Through hagiographic and oral narratives Ouguir examines the techniques religious women followed to achieve ethical self formation and strong religious personalities that promoted them to leadership She also examined the venerators murshid t and Islamist feminists reception of women saints in their discourses Ouguir states convincingly that Moroccan religious women agents in both Morocco s past and present are to be highlighted for broader discourses on Muslim women and feminism The Rough Guide to Morocco Mark Ellingham,2001 Practical tips on everything from the best value hotels and restaurants to transport and roads Lively accounts of the monuments and sites with informed treatment of Moroccan culture past and present Evocative descriptions of the routes and landscapes from mountain pistes to age old caravan trails across the desert Comprehensive coverage of trekking in the high Atlas windsurfing on the Atlantic coast and bird watching in the lakes and estuaries Full colour photos and more than 70 maps Shouting in a Cage Sofia Fenner,2023-07-11 Durable authoritarian rule often rests on the co optation of challengers The conventional story is straightforward rulers entice opposition groups to sell out offering them benefits if they set aside their antiauthoritarian aspirations and become part of the system However co optation does not always neutralize former adversaries and even seemingly domesticated opponents can turn on their rulers Co optation does weaken opposition but it is not as simple reliable or transactional as existing theories claim Shouting in a Cage offers new ways to understand co optation s power and its limits by examining two co opted parties the Wafd Party in Egypt and the Istiqlal Party in Morocco Sofia Fenner argues that co optation is less a corrupt bargain than a discursive contest a clash of competing interpretations

Co-opted parties conjure up imagined futures in which their short-term choices will lead to the realization of their long-term democratic goals. Meanwhile, other actors point to the disconnect between these parties' anti-authoritarian aspirations and their participation in authoritarian systems. Fenner demonstrates that co-opted parties come to look hypocritical precisely because they refuse to give up their oppositional commitments. Their credibility sapped, they become unappealing allies and eventually political afterthoughts. However, such parties retain a surprising capacity for opposition rooted in the literal and metaphorical idea of party as family. Based on extensive archival research and ethnographic fieldwork in North Africa, Shouting in a Cage broadens our understanding of political behavior under authoritarianism. Fertility, Family, and Social Welfare between France and Empire Margaret Cook Andersen, Melissa K. Byrnes, 2023-11-28 This edited volume focuses on social welfare and medicine within the French Empire and brings together important currents in both imperial history and the history of medicine. The book covers a broad period from the first colonial empires that existed prior to 1830, the new imperialism of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, the process of decolonisation in the mid-twentieth century, and the afterlives of colonial regimes in France and newly independent states. Building on recent scholarship, this volume examines the extension of imperialism into the post-colonial period. The chapters examine a range of topics developing our understanding of the reasons why colonial states saw the family as a site for biopolitical intervention. The authors argue that experts built a racialised body of knowledge about colonial populations through census data and medical understandings of problems such as child mortality and infertility. They show that by analysing and compiling data on fertility, population growth or decline, and health, this fuelled interventions designed to ensure a stable workforce and that protecting children and mothers, vaccinating vulnerable populations, and creating modern sanitary housing were all initiatives also aimed at serving larger goals of preserving colonial rule. Finally, the book shows that social welfare projects during the French Empire reflected concerns about race, differential fertility, and migration that continued well after decolonisation.

Contemporary Moroccan Thought, 2024-11-04 Contemporary Moroccan Thought offers a new and broad coverage of the intellectual dynamics and scholarly output of what is presented here as the Rabat School since the 1950s. Geographically situated at the western edge of the classical Arab-Islamic world, Moroccan scholarship has made a belated yet vigorous comeback on the modern Arab intellectual scene, attracting wider reception beyond the Arabic-speaking world through influential contributions in philosophical, theological, social, and cultural studies. This volume sets a new standard in the study of Moroccan, North African, and Middle Eastern societies and will undoubtedly remain an important scholarly reference for generations to come.
